SPAIN.

Attempt by the Carlists to Create a Revolution—Contradictory Reports From Different Quarters.

MADRID, April 24.—A royal proclamation has been issued declaring the Provinces of Navarre, Serida and Biscay in a state of siege.

It is stated that the Carlist bands in those provinces decline to risk engagements with the Government force in the open field, but harass the troops sent against them by marches, counter-marches, and ambuscades. On the contrary, accounts received by the Minister of War declare that some of the bands have been dispersed, and that the others are rapidly retreating before the Government troops, who are in close pursuit of them.

PARIS, April 24.—Advices have been received in this city from the Spanish frontier that the Carlists were victorious, and captured forty carbineers in two engagements which they recently had with the Spanish troops near Bilboa, Department of Biscay.

The Patrie says Gen. CATHELINEAU is not with Don CARLOS, as has been stated; that he is still in Paris, and will not join in the present movement in Spain.

It is believed in this city that the struggle about to take place in Spain between the Government and the Carlists will be a severe one. The number of the insurgents now in the field is estimated at 10,000. The wife of Don CARLOS accompanies her husband in his campaign, and has resolved to share whatever dangers he may meet in his movements.

The arrest of Don ALPHONSO at Marseilles, a few days since, was the result of a prearranged plan of the Carlists to divert attention from their leaders.

Many of the adherents of Don CARLOS have been interned in Angouleme.

The French Government have adopted measures for the prompt arrest and severe treatment of Spanish insurgents found on French soil. A cordon of troops has been placed along the frontier, and all refugees who are taken will be immediately sent beyond the Loire.

GENEVA, April 24.—Don ALPHONSO, the brother of Don CARLOS, who was notified by the authorities of Marseilles to leave that city, has reached here. Don CARLOS has disappeared from Geneva, and his present whereabouts are unknown.

MADRID, April 24—Evening.—The Iberia, (newspaper,) of this evening, announces that the "Monteagudo" band of insurgents has been defeated by the Government forces, and thirty of them made prisoners.

MADRID, April 24.—King AMADEUS delivered his speech in person at the opening of the Cortes. His Majesty first alluded to the relations of Spain with other Powers, and stated they were of a cordial nature. Venezuela, he said, had made a most satisfactory explanation of her conduct toward the Spanish Consul at Caracas. The policy adopted toward the South American Republicans is peaceful, and the relations between them and Spaniards mutually respectful. The King anticipates that he will soon be able to announce an agreement between the Pope and the Italian Government. He says he intends to give his utmost efforts to the protection and development of the sacred and constitutional rights. Reform in the army is announced, and the fulfillment of the promises of reform in the colonies is promised. In so doing he will endeavor to avoid everything tending to impair the integrity of Spanish territory, or which would put arms into the hands of the enemies of the Spanish name and race.

In relation to the movements of the Carlists, the King says a party denying the legitimacy of modern right, and a stubborn enemy to the national institutions, after its defeat at the elections, rises in arms in some of the provinces. The Government has taken effective measures to promptly crush the insurrection. Taught by experience, of the futility of a policy of clemency, it will be inexorable in its punishment of the enemies of liberty and disturbers of the peace. If ordinary measures prove insufficient, the Government will ask the sanction of the Cortes for others which may be necessary to restore the reign of law. The King expresses hopes of the prompt termination of the insurrection, praises the army and civic guard for their courage and loyalty, and says, he asks in the Cortes a guide and means of identifying himself with the nation. The speech concludes as follows: "While I will never impose myself upon the Spaniards against their will, I will never desert the post to which they have called me, the constitutional duties of which I will fulfill with the loyalty and constancy due to the honor of my name."

FRANCE.

Trial and Sentence of Communists—Reports of Trouble Between Germany and France Groundless.

PARIS, April 24.—The trials of the persons who were charged with murdering the hostages in the prison of La Roquette during the reign of the Commune have terminated, and their sentences have been promulgated. The woman GAYART, who was the principal actor in this tragedy, has been sentenced to death, and thirty other persons who were connected with the crime have been sentenced to imprisonment for various terms.

Count VON ARNIM, the German Ambassador to France, has arrived in this city. It is reported that the Count is instructed by his Government to assure President THIERS that the recent alarming reports relative to the relations of France and Germany are groundless.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Position of the Government on the Dublin University Bill.

LONDON, April 24.—At the session of the House of Commons today, Mr. FAWCETT asked Mr. GLADSTONE whether the Government would regard an affirmative vote on the amendment offered by the Marquis of HARTINGTON to the Dublin University bill as one of confidence in the Government. Mr. FAWCETT also asked whether the Government would fix a specific time for the consideration of the Dublin University bill. To both of these inquiries Mr. GLADSTONE replied "no," and further stated that it was the intention of the Government to have public business transacted by the House before it proceeded to the consideration of Mr. FAWCETT's bill.

BRITISH WAR CLAIMS.

Proceedings Before the Mixed Commission Yesterday—Adjournment to Newport, R. I., in September.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—The British and American Mixed Commission was in session three hours yesterday. Beside the admission of one new British claim and the extension of time in one or two cases, several parties being allowed to extend their memorials, two awards were made, namely: ELENEAOR W. TURNER vs. the United States, No. 34, for $5,700 in gold, and PETER JOHNSON vs. the United States, for $8,060 in gold.

In the case of the executors of R. S. C. ALEXANDER against the United States, No. 45, on demurrer, the following decision was rendered:

"We are of opinion that the Commission has no jurisdiction on this claim, and, therefore, the demurrer is allowed."

The Commission then adjourned, to meet at Newport, R. I., on the 11th of September next.

THOMAS C. COX, Secretary to the Commission, has been appointed a notary public by Gov. COOK.

Mr. RUSSELL GURNEY, of the Commission, left Washington today, and will sail from New-York on Saturday for Europe. He dined with Secretary FISH last night. During the recess of the Commission, the Secretary will be engaged in arranging cases for the Fall session.

MOB LAW.

Murder of a Judge and Two Other Men in Missouri.

HOLDEN, Mo., April 24.—A mob stopped an Eastern-bound train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, at Gunn City, in Cass County, Mo., this afternoon, and murdered J. R. CLINE, J. C. STEVENSON and S. E. DUTROU. STEVENSON was a member of the County Court and presiding Judge when the recent bond excitement was raised, while CLINE was the attorney who was implicated. DUTROU was killed simply because he was in company of the others. The mob threatened to kill any one who hereafter identified any of them in Court or elsewhere, and said they had just commenced their work of murder. Some of the mob were masked; all had revolvers or shot-guns. They numbered about seventy-five or 100.

CANADA.

Canal and Railroad Projects—Reciprocity With the United States.

OTTAWA, Canada, April 24.—Hon. Mr. LANGEVIN, Minister of Public Works, has given notice that on Friday next he will move the following resolutions:

First—That in the resolutions adopted by the Eighth Provincial Parliament of Canada, on which was founded the address to Her Majesty, praying for a union of the British North American Provinces, it was affirmed that the improvements required for the development of the trade of the great West with the seaboard were of the greatest importance, and it was declared that they should be prosecuted at the earliest possible period the state of the finances would permit.

Second—That the time has now arrived when the financial and material condition of the Dominion require and warrant a thorough and comprehensive improvement of the canal system of Canada sufficient to accommodate the growing trade and commerce of the country, and to give greater facilities for the through traffic and carrying trade of the Dominion.

Third—That this House is of opinion that the Government of Canada should at once proceed with the improvement and enlargement of the Dominion canals to the dimensions and capacity recommended in the report of the Canal Commissioners, laid before the House during the last session.

Fourth—That, taking into consideration the value and volume of trade between the inland and maritime provinces of the Dominion, this House is further of opinion that the construction of a canal by which seagoing vessels may pass from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Bay of Fundy without breaking bulk or making a long and often dangerous voyage around the coast of Nova Scotia, is of national importance, and should be proceeded with without delay.

Sir GEORGE E. CARTIER moved that on Friday next the House resolve itself into Committee of the Whole to consider certain resolutions respecting the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. BOWERASSA said he should move on Thursday next an address for copies of all correspondence since the 1st of July, 1869, between the Imperial Government, the Cabinet of Washington and the Government of Canada in reference to a new treaty or renewal of the reciprocity treaty with the United States, and of all negotiations arising in consequence of the abrogation of this treaty, together with copies of all correspondence on the subject between the Canadian Government and the Boards of Trade of the United States and those of the Dominion.

Immigration of Canadians to the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The total number of passengers arriving in the Customs District of Champlain, New-York, from foreign countries during the quarter ended March 31, 1872, as appears by the returns made to the Bureau of Statistics, was 408, of whom 57 were immigrants intending to reside in the United States. Of the latter 48 were from the Dominion of Canada, 1 from Germany and 2 from Scotland. Their occupations were: Carpenters and servants, 2 each; farmers and tanners, 1 each; laborers, 13; not specified, mainly women and children, 32.

UTAH.

The Mormon Prisoners—A Jail Delivery Apprehended.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 24.—Deputy United States Marshal HIGH has addressed an important letter to the Territorial Attorney-General in regard to the discharge of the prisoners under the decision of the Supreme Court. He says that many of these prisoners are charged with the gravest crimes, and the abundant evidence in his possession points strongly to their guilt, and that every consideration of justice and humanity requires that the evil consequences of such an unprecedented jail delivery should be avoided if possible. He suggests that steps be taken for their re-arrest and trial, and offers his co-operation. The Attorney-General replies that he will take such steps in the matter as are authorized by law, and will thankfully receive assistance from Mr. HIGH. An official copy of the Supreme Court decision is expected to-morrow, when Mr. HEMPSTEAD, acting on behalf of the release of the prisoners, will proceed before Judge HAWLEY on habeas corpus.

CUBA.

Attempt of the Insurrectionists to Elect a New President.

MANZANILLO, April 18.—The insurgents had a meeting last week at Lagunestrada for the purpose of electing a new President. JOSE ESTRADA is the probable candidate. The Spanish troops got wind of the meeting, and attacked the insurgents while they were assembled, killing a number. Nine of the Spaniards were killed.

THE INDIANS.

Complaints from the Cut-off Bands—They Desire to be Treated Like Other Tribes.

A report to the War Department from Col. J. J. REYNOLDS, commanding the Third Cavalry, dated Fort McPherson, Nebraska, 9th inst., announces a visit to the post by the Indian chief WHISTLER, who desired to have it stated for the information of the President that the "cut-off" bands of Indians had not received that consideration at the hands of the Great Father that had been accorded to the other tribes of Sioux and to the Spotted Tail bands. The cut-off bands of Ogallalla Sioux Indians, according to Col. REYNOLDS' information, consist of three bands, headed respectively by BLACK BEAR, PAWNEE KILLER and WHISTLER. The two former bands have gone to the reservation at White Clay, but WHISTLER declares contrary to their wishes, and that they will not remain there contentedly under present arrangements. WHISTLER is now south of the Platte, about 100 miles west of Fort McPherson, and has asked for permission to hunt in that neighborhood until an answer can be received in regard to this communication. His band has been where they now are for nearly two years, and have committed no depredations. They prefer to remain south of the Platte. Col. REYNOLDS assured him there was not the least probability that this request would be granted. WHISTLER declares his willingness to conform to any decision, but strongly insists that the Cut-offs shall be put together and have an agent. This last request, he desired to have said, was the most important of all to the Cut-off bands, and he hoped the request would receive due consideration, and that an answer might be promptly sent to him. WHISTLER further states that ever since the council at Fort Laramie in 1868 the Cut-off bands have been dissatisfied, and have not well understood their status. This state of affairs, according to him can be remedied only by granting the above request. Lieut.-Gen. SHERIDAN says in forwarding this communication: "WHISTLER is a very good Indian, but PAWNEE KILLER is not and never has been. I think it would be unwise to let these bands remain south of the Platte. The Republican Valley is now settling up so rapidly, that I fear a collision may take place if these Indians are allowed to remain there." Col. REYNOLDS further states that on 30th March, SPOTTED TAIL and his band were en route for Big Springs, from whence, after receiving ponies and rations, the band left on 4th instant for White Clay reservation.

ALBANY AFFAIRS.

Gov. Hoffman Still Silent on the New-York Charter—The Twenty-Third-Street Railroad Franchise—New-Haven Railroad Fares—True Admirers of Greeley.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Wednesday, April 24, 1872.

The Governor has finished the perusal of the engrossed copy of the New-York Charter, and is now awaiting the arguments of the friends and opponents of the measure. He will devote to-morrow, between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock, to the hearing, when any and all persons interested in the charter will have an opportunity to present their views. It is said that Prof. DWIGHT, of New-York, will represent the Committee of Seventy in support of the constitutionality of the charter. The name of the chief spokesman on the other side has not yet transpired. The Governor remains entirely non-committal with regard to his intentions, though he does not conceal the fact from any one that he has a very poor opinion of the practical wisdom displayed in the Seventy's Charter. The opinion very generally prevails among the Democratic members of the Legislature that he will veto it, but no one appears to be able to give a definite reason for his faith. Mr. JOHN WHEELER visited the Governor again today, but could get no intimation of the probable fate of the charter, and is confident that no one but the Governor himself knows, or has any right to pretend to know what he will do with it.

The proceedings of the two Houses today were not of a very important or exciting character. Most of the time was spent in the third reading of bills.

MORE WORK FOR THE BOARD OF AUDIT.

In the Senate, a bill was introduced by Mr. BAKER directing the Board of Audit and Apportionment to audit all claims against the City of New-York which were made the subject of actions, tried and determined prior to the passage of the Two per Cent. Tax Levy of 1871, and in which the entering up of judgment has been prevented by the passage of that act. In case the Board of Audit and Apportionment should become functus officii before acting on such claims, JAMES EMOTT, JOSIAH SUTHERLAND and HOOPER C. VAN VORST are to be a special Board of Audit to act in the premises. The Controller is directed to raise money in the usual way to pay the claims referred to. The amount of the claims to be acted upon is not in any way limited by the bill.

THE TWENTY-THIRD-STREET RAILROAD.

The bill to require the Controller of New-York to perfect the sale of the Twenty-third-street Railroad franchise, which passed the Legislature last week, was called back by resolution for the purpose of making a correction in the title, which the Governor deemed needful on technical grounds. A determined effort was made by Senator TIEMANN to take advantage of the opportunity offered to defeat the bill, but the Senate promptly voted down every motion to that effect, made the necessary correction in the title, and passed the bill as amended over again by a large majority. The Assembly concurred in the Senate's action. JACOB SHARPE and his friends, who have lobbied the bill through the Legislature, are to have a hearing before the Governor on Friday, in reply to the property-owners on Twenty-third-street, who are urging the Governor to veto it.

THE GILBERT ELEVATED QUICK TRANSIT.

The Gilbert elevated plan of quick transit in New-York, which passed the Assembly yesterday, was introduced, among other Assembly bills, in the Senate today, and in the course of an hour or so was favorably reported from the Senate Railroad Committee and put upon general orders.

DRY-DOCK RAILROAD.

The bill to authorize the extension of tracks of the Dry-dock and Tenth-street Railroad, was less fortunate. It was put on its final passage, and received but nine affirmative votes.

THE NEW-YORK POLICE COURTS.

Mr. PALMER's bill relative to Police Courts and Justices in the City of New-York has been reported today, materially amended. It now provides for the election of nine Police Justices at the special charter election, to be held in May next, and every eighth year thereafter. They are to be elected on the cumulative plan. The nine elected Justices are to meet and assign one of their number to each Police district for a term not exceeding three months, and Justices to hold the Special Sessions are to be designated in the same manner and for the same term.

NEW-HAVEN RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

A communication was received from Gov. HOFFMAN inclosing one from Gov. JEWELL, of Connecticut, on the subject of the proposed reduction in fares on the New-York and New-Haven Railroad to all points within this State, provided for in the bill which has passed the Assembly and is now before the Senate. Gov. JEWELL remonstrates strongly against the bill. He says the New-York and New-Haven Road is about to make a general reduction of fares on its whole line, and that it will be prevented from carrying out its benevolent intentions should the bill now before the Legislature become a law, the terms on which the New-Haven Road uses the Harlem track being such that it could not comply with the requirements or the proposed law without loss. The communication was referred to the Railroad Committee, which has the bill in charge.

MILLER'S CASE.

The resolution for the removal of MILLER, Superintendent of Insurance, which was made the special order for this morning, could not be reached owing to the large number of bills ready for a third reading. The joint rule requires that third readings shall be the first thing in order whenever ten bills are ready for a third reading, and it requires a two-thirds vote to dispense with that order of business. It being doubtful whether a two-third vote could be obtained, the Miller case was allowed to go over. Meantime MILLER is actively at work with his lobbyists, among whom OLCOTT, the cadet broker, is conspicuous.

ELECTION OF A REGENT.

The ceremony of electing a Regent of the University to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. ERASTUS CORNING took place at 12 M., and resulted in the choice of HENRY R. PIERSON, the nominee of the Republican caucus held last evening. The vote in the Senate was 22 for Pierson and 5 for Wm. C. Doane. In the Assembly Pierson received 96 votes, Horace Greeley, 9; Wm. C. Doane, 3; Wm. H. Bogert, 1; Jas. W. Gerard, 1; Samuel J. Tilden, 1; Erastus Brooks, 3; and Rush C. Hawkins, 1. Mr. Greeley's supporters were Moseley, Jacobs, Blair, Dunphy, A. Hill, G. D. Lord, Couchman, Chambers and Buckley—all Tammany Democrats. Wiley, Democrat, voted for Hawkins, and Osgood, Reform Democrat, for Tilden.

ADVERTISING CLAIMS.

The bill authorizing the Controller to audit and pay all claims against the City of New-York for advertising, which he may find to be honestly due, came up on its third reading and passed unanimously. It has already passed the Senate. The bill, as originally introduced, confined the audit and payment to the claims of the "nine daily and nine weekly" papers designated by the old Tammany Ring, but it was soon ascertained that such an invidious measure could not pass, and it was then amended so as to include all honest claims. Mr. SYKES, of Pomeroy's Democrat, was largely instrumental in defeating the exclusive programme of the Ring journals.

Redistricting of the State for Congress—New-York Markets—The Ex-Ring and the Court of Appeals—The Corrupt Judges—Col. Hawkins.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

ALBANY, April 24.—In the Assembly, this evening, Mr. HUSTED presented report of Special Committee appointed to redistrict the State for Congressmen under the new Congressional apportionment. The only changes made by the Committee are the addition of one Congressional District for the City of Brooklyn, the revision of the Sixth District on Manhattan Island to conform to the movement of population up town, and the transfer of Schoharie County from the Albany District to the Thirteenth District, which will hereafter comprise the Counties of Schoharie, Ulster and Greene. The report of the Committee is in the form of a bill, which was ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee of the Whole. The bill is entitled An Act dividing the State into Congressional Districts, which provides for dividing the State into thirty-two districts, as follows:

First District—Suffolk, Queens and Richmond Counties.

Second District—The First, Second, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth and Twenty-second Wards of Brooklyn.

Third District—Third, Fourth, Seventh, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth Wards of Brooklyn, and the Twenty-first Ward of said city as bounded by section 2, chapter 814 of the laws of 1868.

Fourth District—Ninth Ward of Brooklyn, as bounded by section 1, chapter 814 of the laws of 1868, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Eighteenth Wards of said city, and the towns of Flatbush, Flatlands, Gravesend, New-Lots and New-Utrecht, Kings County.

Fifth District—First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Fourteenth Wards of New-York and Governor's Island.

Sixth District—Eleventh and Thirteenth Wards of the City of New-York and that portion of the Eighteenth and Twenty-first Wards of said City lying east of Third-avenue.

Seventh District—Tenth and Seventeenth Wards of New-York, and that portion of the Fifteenth Ward of said City lying east of Third-avenue.

Eighth District—The Ninth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Wards of the City of New-York, and that portion of the Twenty-first Ward of said City lying west of Third-avenue.

Ninth District—The Twentieth and Twenty-second Wards of the City of New-York.

Tenth District—The Twelfth and Nineteenth Wards of the City of New-York, and Blackwell's, Wards and Randall's Islands.

Eleventh District—The Counties of Westchester, Rockland and Putnam.

Twelfth District—Orange and Sullivan.

Thirteenth District—Dutchess and Columbia.

Fourteenth District—Ulster, Greene and Schoharie.

Fifteenth District—Albany.

Sixteenth District—Rensselaer and Washington.

Seventeenth District—Warren, Essex and Clinton.

Eighteenth District—St. Lawrence and Franklin.

Nineteenth District—Fulton, Hamilton, Saratoga and Schenectady.

Twentieth District—Delaware, Otsego and Chenango.

Twenty-first District—Jefferson, Lewis and Herkimer.

Twenty-second District—Oneida.

Twenty-third District—Madison and Oswego.

Twenty-fourth District—Onondaga and Cortland.

Twenty-fifth District—Cayuga, Wayne and Seneca.

Twenty-sixth District—Ontario, Livingston and Yates.

Twenty-seventh District—Tioga, Tompkins, Broome, and Schuyler.

Twenty-eighth District—Chemung, Steuben, and Alleghany.

Twenty-ninth District—Monroe and Orleans.

Thirtieth District—Genesee, Niagara and Wyoming.

Thirty-first District—Erie.

Thirty-second District—Chautauqua and Cattaraugus.

Messrs. HUSTED, WILEY and FOLEY dissented from the report of the Committee, which consists of seventeen members.

The bill to authorize the sale of the New-York markets came up for a third reading, when Mr. MOULTON moved to recommit for an amendment providing that the sale shall be by public auction to the highest bidder, instead of the markets being sold by appraisement, with preference given to marketmen as purchasers. After a long discussion, the motion to recommit was carried.

An attempt was made in the Assembly, this evening, to reconsider the vote by which the bill was passed, the other day, authorizing the Court of Appeals to assign Judges outside of New-York to hold the Court of Oyer and Terminer in that City. The attempt is supposed to have been in the interest of the Ring thieves, but it failed, only twenty votes being in favor of reconsideration.

The Judiciary Committee are ready to report on the investigation of the New-York Judges, and will do so as soon as the Miller case is disposed of. A majority of the Committee will recommend impeachment. It has been a question whether any steps can be taken toward impeachment before the Legislature has finished its regular business; but Mr. TILDEN, who has investigated the law, thinks that proceedings can be begun at any time.

Col. HAWKINS' resignation has not yet been sent to the Secretary of State, and a paper is circulated, headed by Mr. ALVORD, asking him to recall it.

The Senate spent over an hour of the evening session in discussing the vexed question of statues to be sent to Washington. There seems to be an irreconcilable difference of opinion as to the subjects for the statuary. A compromise was finally effected, and the bill ordered to a third reading, providing for one statue only,—that of Gov. CLINTON,—leaving the other to be decided upon by the next Legislature.

The Congressional Apportionment bill was reported in the Senate.

Some time was spent in Committee of the Whole in discussing various local and Canal bills.

Mr. CAMPBELL introduced a bill in the House to-night authorizing and requiring the Controller to pay for sprinkling lanes, roads and avenues in the City of New-York according to the provisions of the contracts for such work made in 1871, and also the salaries of employes of the Department of Buildings, from the 1st of January to the 30th of April, 1872, inclusive, and the Controller is authorized to issue bonds to raise money for the purpose.

Mr. HUSTED and Mr. JACOBS, of the Assembly, this afternoon entertained representatives of the Press to the Legislature at a dinner at Congress Hall. Some twenty-five or thirty seats were occupied, and the affair was one of the happiest of the kind ever enjoyed in this city; and, coming so appropriately at the close of the session, it is looked upon as an event of more than ordinary importance. PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

Meeting of the Commissioners—Important Resolutions.

The Commissioners of Public Instruction met yesterday afternoon, President SMYTHE in the chair, all the Commissioners except Messrs. VAN VORST and INGERSOLL being present.

A communication from Mr. WILLIAMS, of the Children's Aid Association, was presented, in which he asked for a speedy payment of the sum allowed to his Society. The subject was referred.

The Committee on Normal College asked for the appropriation of $80,587 for the erection of the Model Primary School attached to the Normal College, for which they had made the following contracts: Mason work to MURARS & ARMSTRONG, $39,397; carpenter work to W. J. O'COVNER, for $24,775; painting to C. B. CORNELL, for $1,835; cut stone to NOLAN & MCGRATH, for $14,850.

On motion of the Committee on Colored Schools it was resolved to close on and after the 1st of May, the average attendance at such school having dwindled down to but sixteen scholars.

On motion of M. WARD, the following preamble and resolution was adopted:

Whereas, It appears to the Board that it is no less consistent with the claims of justice than with those of humanity that a proper provision should be made for our worthy and aged teachers when they are unfitted for further efficient work by reason of advancing years; therefore,

Resolved, That the President, Clerk and Counsel to the Board be appointed a committee to procure, if possible, at Albany, the necessary legislation to enable the Board to bestow upon any teacher who has served satisfactorily for twenty years a pension equal in amount to one-half of the salary any such teacher may be entitled to at any period of his or her retiral.

On recommendation of the Committee on Supplies and Committee on Finance the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board authorize the Committee on Supplies to expend $35,500 beyond the $54,700 appropriated for books, maps, slates, &c., for the schools under date of 7th of February last, which excess in the appropriation will be liquidated out of the one-third of the sum allotted for the supplies for the year accruing in May, June, July and August.

A resolution by the Finance Committee for submission to the Board of Apportionment was adopted:

Resolved, That the estimate of the sum necessary for the support of the schools under the jurisdiction of this Board from May 1 to Dec. 31, 1872, amounting to $2,148,565, be duly authenticated and submitted to the Board of Apportionment and to the Department of Finance for approval.

The Committee on Finance submitted a report in favor of making the annual appropriations from the State school fund for the support of the schools as follows:

Ward schools	$871,314 96
Colored schools	7,797 68
Normal schools, white	16,245 07
Normal schools, colored	136 89
Corporate schools	85,877 69
Total	$981,372 29

Or about $11 40 per pupil, based upon the attendance on Oct. 1, 1871.

The Joint Committee on By-laws and Teachers reported for adoption the following resolutions:

Resolved, That hereafter the compensation of male principals be fixed at $3,000 per annum, of the male vice-principals at $2,500, of male assistants at an advance of eighteen per cent. above the present standard, to take effect on and after the 1st of May.

Resolved, That the Chairmen of the following Committees of this Board, viz.: Of the Committee on the Course of Studies, of the Normal College Committee, of the Committee on Teachers, and of the Auditing Committee, with the President of the College of the City of New-York, the President of the Normal College, and the Professors of the Methods of Teaching of the College of the City of New-York, be, and they are constituted, a Board of Examiners, to examine into the efficiency, standing and qualifications of all the principals, vice-principals and assistant teachers employed in our schools, and report thereon.

A lengthy debate ensued on the adoption of the resolutions, which were finally adopted by a vote of 7 yeas to 2 nays, Mr. SMYTHE and Mr. WOOD voting in the negative, Mr. FEUNHER being excused from voting. A motion by Mr. ENGLAND to reconsider the vote was negatived by the Board.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Goat Island Bill—Dr. Houard's Case Before the House—The Yellowstone Report—Senatorial Caucus—General Congressional Business.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Goat Island bill occupied the attention of the House for two hours today, and was finally passed. The filibustering was kept up for some time, in spite of the fact that every reasonable proposition of the minority was accepted by Mr. WHEELER. Finally, an arrangement was made by which the minority agreed to stop filibustering if two amendments prepared by Mr. HOLMAN could be voted upon. Both of these were voted down by about twenty majority. The second providing that before taking possession of the island the Company shall pay into the Treasury the money which the United States Government has paid as interest upon the bonds, was intended to kill the bill. The final vote was 105 to 86.

DR. HOUARD'S CASE.

The case of Dr. HOUARD was brought before the House today by Gen. BANKS in a resolution from the Committee on Foreign Affairs declaring that HOUARD is an American citizen, and that therefore the Administration be instructed to demand of Spain his unconditional surrender and the restoration of his confiscated property. Gen. BANKS argued ingeniously that because there was no proof that HOUARD had declared an intention of giving up his citizenship, he must still be held a citizen of the United States. If this be admitted, Gen. BANKS has no trouble in showing that, under the Treaty of 1795, HOUARD had the right of trial by authority of the law, which had never been accorded him. Mr. AMBLER, in behalf of the minority of the Committee, made a singularly clear, concise argument against any interference on the part of our Government. He argued that citizenship implies duties as well as rights; and that, as HOUARD had given no sign of an intent to perform the former or demand the latter since 1843, when he was last in this country, Mr. AMBLER held that the surrender of citizenship was implied, if not expressed. The international authorities were largely quoted by Mr. AMBLER, and seem to be unanimously of his view. The debate will continue two hours to-morrow. Mr. WILLARD, from the Committee, will sustain Mr. AMBLER's view, and Messrs. RANDALL, W. R. ROBERTS and others will speak for the resolution.

THE TARIFF BILL.

If the Houard resolution is disposed of in time to-morrow, Mr. DAWES will move to go into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill. Very few sustained him in a similar motion today, and there is a special order on the Homestead bill which may take precedence. It is understood that Mr. BURCHARD will make the opening speech in behalf of the bill.

THE DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATIONS.

The Morrill amendment to the Deficiency Appropriation was discussed again today till the adjournment without result, and it may be debated for a whole week. Mr. BAYARD made a motion yesterday to lay that amendment on the table, and when the vote was taken today it was a tie, and was decided by the casting vote of the Vice-President in the negative, the vote stood 25 to 25. The sides being so nearly balanced, neither will be willing to give up, and it is one of those questions in which very many Senators will desire to take part, and it will moreover come up again when the action of the Committee of the Whole is reviewed by the Senate. Attempts will be made to reach some satisfactory determination speedily, but the prospect is not encouraging.

THE YELLOWSTONE EXPLORATIONS.

Prof. F. A. GAYDEN's report of his explorations last Summer in Montana, including the Yellowstone Cañon and Geyser Basin, is nearly in type at the Government Printing-office, and will be ready for limited distribution in about two weeks. The report, with the scientific essays attached, summing up the results of the discoveries in paleontology, zoölogy and botany, makes a volume of about 600 pages, and it is illustrated by a large number of maps, charts and engravings.

CAUCUS IN THE SENATE.

A caucus of the Senate was called this morning, and there was a meeting this evening at which a committee was appointed to consider and report upon some plan to secure the more rapid transaction of business. Half of the time of the Senate is taken up with discussions upon what bill shall be taken up and like trivial debates. It is in view of this that the caucus was called.

THE JUDICIAL BILL.

The report of the Conference Committee on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the Executive, Legislative and Judicial bill was roughly handled in the Senate today, and it having been pretty clearly shown that the Conference Committee had transcended its powers, putting entirely new legislation in the bill, and as the House had not acted on the report, the Committee were directed to again take charge of the subject and present a new report.

BILLS APPROVED.

The President has approved the following bills: Authorizing the Secretary of War to deliver condemned cannon to certain soldiers' monumental associations; granting condemned cannon for the erection of a soldiers' monument at Mound City, Ill.; to extend the time for filing claims for additional bounty under the act of July 28, 1869. To create the Linkton land district in Oregon. To extend the time for the completion of the military road from Fort Wilkins at Copper Harbor, Mich., to Fort Howard at Green Bay, Mich. To remove the charge of desertion against a certain private soldier. To authorize the Secretary of the Interior to make certain negotiations with the Ute Indians in Colorado.

THE BOUNTY BILL SIGNED.

The President has signed the bill in relation to bounties. It provides that every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer who enlisted into the military service of the United States prior to July 22, 1861, under the proclamation of the President of the United States of May 3, 1861, and orders of the War Department issued in pursuance thereof, and was actually mustered before Aug. 6, 1861, into any regiment, company or battery, which was accepted by the War Department under such proclamation and orders, shall be paid the full bounty of $100, under and by virtue of said proclamation and orders of the War Department in force at the time of such enlistment, and prior to July 22, 1861, provided that the same has not already been paid.

FLORIDA.

A Quorum of the Senate—No Decision in the Reed-Day Case by the Supreme Court.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 24.—In the Senate today thirteen members, an exact quorum, were present. They notified the Assembly and Acting Gov. DAY that they were ready for business, and adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M., Thursday. In the Assembly twenty-one members, no quorum, were present. Adjourned till Thursday, 10 A. M.

In the Supreme Court the argument in the case of REED and DAY closed. No opinion was rendered, when the Court adjourned.

"COACH" ARRESTED.

The Last of the Tammany Ruffians Apprehended While Endeavoring to Leave the City Last Night.

The search of Capt. CAMERON's officers for JOHN O'CONNELL, alias "Coach," who, with the ex-pugilist and political bruiser, OWNEY GEOGHEGAN, and the no less criminally prominent "Clipper" HENNESSY, on Tuesday evening shot and brutally beat MICHAEL MCNALLY, a Democratic inspector of election, in front of Tammany Hall, proved successful yesterday evening. Owing to the recognized desperate character of the man, and his previous experience in criminal matters, it was justly judged by the Police officials that O'CONNELL would at once endeavor to evade justice by leaving the City and remaining in concealment in some quiet country town until the storm was blown over, and the affair became forgotten. On this account Capt. CAMERON issued special orders to his officers to have a sharp lookout at the various up-town ferries and railway depots for the fugitive. Officer MULKEY, detailed at the ferry foot of East Twenty-third-street, at 5½ o'clock yesterday evening saw a man whom he thought to be O'CONNELL enter the ferry-house. The officer entered and on seeing the man more closely, at once recognized him as "Coach." He arrested him and brought him to the station-house in East Twenty-second-street, where Capt. CAMERON ordered him to be locked up for the night, preparatory to being arraigned at Essex Market Police Court this morning. O'CONNELL did not seem to be much impressed with his situation, and acted with the utmost nonchalance, not to say downright bravado.

THE NORTH POLE.

The Latest Intelligence From Capt. Hall's Expedition.

The Polaris Compelled to Return to Greenland.

She Strikes an Ice Snag and Springs a Leak.

All the Officers and Scientific Party at the Pumps.

Fresh Discoveries Reported and All Hands Well.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ST. PIERRE, Newfoundland, Monday, April 15, 1872.

The Danish brig Meerbek, which arrived here yesterday, brings intelligence from the United States Arctic expedition under Capt. HALL. When the Meerbek left Disco, Greenland, on Friday, March 1, the Polaris had been two days at Disco, undergoing repairs, and procuring a fresh supply of provisions. On the afternoon of Feb. 8, the Polaris encountered extremely heavy weather, and while lying to, ran among what Capt. HALL termed "icy snags," which could only be accounted for by the extreme shallowness of the water, or high icebergs imbedded in sand or mud. By repeated collisions with these breakers of ice, the Polaris sprung aleak, and on the morning succeeding the gale, Capt. HALL gave orders to bear up for Disco, where he always had intended to make his place of shelter, in case of any accidents that would leave him time to reach it. During the return to Disco, the men, and even the officers and professional attachés of the expedition, sustained an unremitting working of the pumps until the harbor was reached, and then the hold was so water-logged and the men so exhausted that Capt. HALL announced that another day at sea would have seen them abandon the Polaris. It was necessary to throw overboard a large quantity of provisions, and an equally great amount was so damaged by bilge-water as to be unfit for use, except in a time of extreme emergency.

The log of the Polaris contained many strange discoveries, which led to the conviction that in the extreme and undiscovered North there is at times a genial atmosphere and open seas. Plants were detected in the ice which are indigenous to southern climates, and the examination of a floating stick of wood, found on Saturday, Jan. 13, proved it to be a limb of some huge birch. On the night of Sunday, Feb. 14, Capt. HALL sat on deck all night, reading, writing and making lunar and astral observations. Throughout the whole month of January, very little ice was seen, and each night the sky on all sides glittered with meteors of the most gorgeous description, which flashed so brightly and wildly across the firmament as to bedizzen the strongest eyesight. On the 1st of February the Polaris encountered a field of ice which obstructed her headway for several hours, and Capt. HALL proposed to run back into clear water until the middle of February, when he expected a breaking up and drifting of the fields of ice and icebergs which infested the quarter he had abandoned. To this determination Capt. HALL now owes the safety of his ship's company, for, had he not put back over 1,000 miles, the Polaris would have been too far from Greenland to reach it before the water had gained too rapid headway through the leak made by the ice.

Christmas Day was a gala day on board the Polaris. The good ship was hemmed in by heavy field ice, but the weather was as pleasant as an Italian Spring day. The Esquimaux and the dogs which Capt. HALL procured at St. John's were brought into requisition, and a seal-hunt was proposed as the object of the day. The dogs were lowered to the ice in a boat from the davits, and were tackled to low sledges by the Esquimaux. Capt. HALL says that the sagacity and tractableness of these animals was remarkable. After half an hour's stretch gallop over the heavy ice, the panting dogs suddenly drew up and yelled and pawed the surface. One of the Esquimaux—the oldest of the lot—at once interpreted the warning of the dogs, and quick as lightning he bounded from his seat and turned the dogs' heads toward the ship. In half the time it took to reach the distance they had traveled from the Polaris, the eager dogs pulled up beside the hull. Around the horizon then there were murky clouds assembling, and the atmosphere felt misty and bleak. Within an hour after the warning of the sagacious animals, the ice had been broken up and the Polaris was separated from it by a stormy channel nearly half a mile in width. Had the seal-hunting party fulfilled their intention of urging on the dogs and keeping up the sport until moonlight, few of them would have survived the excursion. Upon another occasion these valuable dogs acted as setters in scenting out a large number of seals which would have probably passed the notice of Indians themselves. On that day, they shot over forty seals and brought back to the ship the "flippers" or paws of several old harps, which were given to the cook's charge, and proved to be a rare and palatable relish.

The most important clue to the existence of a Polar passage is the fact of the crew of the Polaris having seen, followed and killed a whale having in one of its fins a harpoon similar to those used in the South Pacific; and this happened in a region where, as Capt. HALL says, "the sail of an American or European vessel had never been given to the wind before." In May Capt. HALL hopes to make a clear passage to the undiscovered pole, and learn all necessary information concerning that region, about which so much has been conjectured, and for which so many noble lives have been sacrificed. He also assured the Captain of the Meerbek that if the future rôle of the expedition, then conceived by him and strongly believed to be easily practicable, would not be interrupted by unforeseen accidents, the Polaris would be at home in next September, after having achieved the renowned object of her adventurous voyage. Apart from the leak occasioned by a sharp berg of ice beneath the surface of the water, the Polaris looked trim and sound. Since her departure from New-York she has not lost a rope, a spar nor an inch of canvas. The health of all on board has been considerably improved by the trip, and those who were of meagre build have grown as shapely as they desire. Capt. HALL asserts that if there be any habitable land in the vicinity of the North Pole it will be the ne plus ultra of salubrious climates, and his only fear is that he and his men may have to encounter before landing a new and formidable race of human beings.

Capt. HALL and party were hospitably entertained by J. W. SMITH, who is the representative in Greenland of the Danish Government. The Captain did not evince any desire that the authorities of the United States or any others outside of Greenland should learn of his return to that country and the accidents that befel the Polaris, for when Mr. VAN ANDERSON, Captain of the Meerbek, offered to take a copy of the notes of the expedition, letters from himself, or a statement concerning his voyage generally, and the cause of his delay at Disco, Capt. HALL promptly declined, upon grounds which he did not feel disposed to explain. It is Capt. VAN ANDERSON's opinion that a publication of the log of the Polaris up to that date would stimulate international competition which might make piecemeal of the merited laurels of America in this cause. After the Polaris had been thoroughly caulked and prepared for sea, (which Capt. HALL thought would be about Wednesday, the 6th of March last,) she was to start upon the original course, and the Captain proposed to carry an abundance of coal, so that he may make all possible headway during this available season.

When the Polaris arrived at Disco she was run into the sand at Busken Beach, as she was so heavily water-logged that the captain feared that she might go down at any moment, whereupon the present expedition would be abandoned, as there are no means in Greenland of raising a sunken ship of the dimensions of the Polaris. On the following day the Polaris was freely pumped and temporarily caulked, so that she might be removed with hawsers and run into a floating cradle, the only structure in Disco wherein to repair disabled vessels of large tonnage.

CHISHOLM.

THE WORKING MEN.

Address by the Industrial Protective Grant Association.

To the Working Men of America:

The time is now at hand when every one of you who is a citizen of the United States will be called on to pronounce his verdict for or against our National Government as administered by President GRANT and the men selected by him to aid in the management of its home and foreign interests. One of the most vital questions, involving the prosperity and progress of the country, is about to be decided in the coming contest—protection to American manufactures and American labor. To the independent men of the country, therefore, those who have the courage to do what conscience pronounces right—independent of all past party ties and connections—we now address ourselves, as it is our supreme anxiety to see them acting as men who are true to themselves, to the unity and freedom of their great country, and to the equal rights of all men before the law. The growth of American manufactures during the past ten years, under the protective system, ought to be an irresistible proof of the duty which the working men of America owe to that party under whose guidance the prosperity and wealth of the country have been increased to so great an extent. The issue to be decided is not a mere question of party politics. It is a question of Free Trade or protection to our national industry. It is a question of whether our domestic markets shall be glutted by the products of foreign labor, which must inevitably result either in closing up our factories and workshops, or reducing the present standard of wages to a level with that of the pauper labor of Europe. Gen. GRANT is the pronounced friend and supporter of protection to home industry. His opponents, on the other hand, are the avowed champions and friends of foreign Free Trade. Does it then require a very profound mind to determine upon which side the interest of the working men of America lies? Nothing earthly is absolutely perfect. There are flaws in the finest diamonds, and spots even on the sun. Up to a late period, the crime and curse of human slavery was a black spot on the bright escutcheon of America. That sacred regard for constitutional right, which is so deeply seated in the convictions of a great and law-abiding people, hesitated to interfere with this great evil so long as it was content to confine itself within the legal limits of its unfortunate existence. But, when seized with the infamous ambition to make the entire Union its mart and hunting-ground, there was nothing for it but for the nation to rise, as it did, in its might, and crush this "sum of all human villainies" forever. The man who led the armies of the Union to the achievement of this grand result, was ULYSSES S. GRANT. Under his auspices the most terrible and stupendous war of modern times was brought to a glorious conclusion. For almost the first time in the world's history, the sword of the conqueror was not employed to enslave or degrade, but to strike the whip and the chain out of the hands of the enslavers, and to sever the shackels which bound millions of human limbs. This is the man who is now before us and who claims our support, not as a designing, selfish politician seeking honor and power, but one whose noble character and bright record confer safety and honor on the nation and people of whom he is the leader. And side by side with him stand the men who, through years of danger and suffering in the battle-field and in the prison-pens of the South, have ever been true to the Union, and the great and glorious principle of universal liberty, of American liberty, and American interests. These are men whom the country and the oppressed of the world delight to honor as the true champions of human freedom, and of the rights which God has given to all men. At their back are the brave and loyal people who contributed freely their blood and their treasure to preserve the life of the nation, and who feel today that they have reason to be proud of their work, that they have reason to rejoice over the fall of that barbarous and man-degrading institution—human slavery.

Opposed to these men and to the great principle advocated by them are the men who spent some of the best years of their lives plotting the destruction of this Union, and who today stand before the country as the avowed enemies of the American Government. Not a few of them are looking forward with longing and yearning hopes for the day that may again revive that "lost cause," which was a sin against man and against God, and which is "lost," hopelessly and irrevocably lost.

To our Irish-American fellow-citizens we have a word to offer on this important subject. Few, if any, in this magnificent country have more at stake than they have in the impending contest, or should feel a deeper interest in contributing to the prosperity and progress, the power and glory of the American Republic. Forced from home and country by one of the worst of the cruel and merciless kingly tyrannies of Europe, they found a refuge on the shores of this hospitable land, and a welcome to all the rights and privileges of its people. On them, therefore, rests the high responsibility to protect and preserve, and perfect—for their own sakes, and for that of all the oppressed, and for the sake of the great American community, with whom they are identified—that liberty which has proved itself a boon of such inestimable value, and which they might search the wide earth, and elsewhere fail to find. To them, therefore, we especially address ourselves, with the earnest hope that we may, in some degree, be the means of checking the evil influences attempted to be exercised over them by men who have always stood between them and their own best interests, as well as those of their adopted country. These so-called leaders have always appeared to the Irish citizens of America, through their well-known prejudices, creating between them and the American people an antagonism which keeps them constantly before the public in the light of enemies to the great principles of universal liberty. The Irish people of America are constantly held up as the greatest living example of national inconsistency. They advocate freedom in Ireland. They support the party of slavery in America. They deny to others the privileges they would themselves enjoy. Their well-known hostility to English oppression is made another avenue through which to reach their sympathies by these selfish, unprincipled knaves, who profess to be friends of Ireland, but who are really the allies of that infamous and atrocious Power. Look at the AUGUST BELMONT, of the Democratic Party, the agent of one of the greatest financial interests in England, yet the head and front of the "Irishman's party" in America. And as a still stronger evidence, look at the principal Democratic journals of the country, all of which are in open hostility to the United States Government on the Alabama question, and loyal advocates of English interests. Look at the leaders of English free-trade; the vast majority of whom are Democrats, and who are forever clamoring loudly for the free admission of English goods to our markets, at the expense of the destruction of American wages and American industry.

The teachings of O'CONNELL, one of the greatest Irishmen that ever existed, were decidedly opposed to human slavery; and we believe today—if freed from the curse of selfish, unprincipled leaders, that the vast majority of the Irish people would be found true to his glorious teachings.

We now come to the practical portion of our task, to define a system of action to guide us during the coming campaign. We propose to establish throughout the country, in every Congressional and Assembly district, an association of citizens—no matter to what political party they may have adhered in the past—who desire to cast their votes in favor of protection to American industry and the rights of American labor, and who are in favor of the renomination and election of Gen. GRANT to the Presidency. We know there are many who perhaps could not be induced to enroll their names in a regular Republican organization, but who are, nevertheless, anxious to stand loyally by the friends of law and order and to save the country from the hands of those who sought its destruction in time not long past.

In order that this result may be attained at as early a day as possible, we call upon all who desire to co-operate with us to set about forming clubs at once, and forward a numerical report of members, with names of officers, to Col. M. KERWIN, Post-office Box No. 4,759.

Art Notes.

The pictures contributed by the French and Dusseldorf artists for the benefit of the sufferers by the Chicago fire, have arrived, and will be exhibited at the Leavitt Art Rooms about the 1st of next month. Among them is a large composition by HORACE VERNET, a gift from the firm of GOUPIL & Co. While on exhibition in Paris, this picture was seen by the Duc D'AUMALE, who at once claimed it as his property, stating that it had been stolen from one of the royal chateaus during the Revolution which drove his father from the throne. M. GOUPIL informed the Prince that the picture had been purchased by his firm at public auction, but that he would at once surrender it. The Prince, however, on hearing that the picture had been given to the Chicago fund, withdrew all claim to it. It is said to be a magnificent specimen of VERNET'S best style. The other pictures in the collection, particularly those of the French school, are believed to be of considerable value.

The Committee of Management of the National Academy of Design, after long deliberation, resolved to open the galleries on Sundays, between the hours of noon and 6 P. M. Over 300 visitors were present each Sunday. A strong opposition has been manifested in some quarters to the action of the managers, but it would certainly seem that the public are with them.

WM. H. BEARD'S AND LOUIS LANG'S PAINTINGS.

There are now on exhibition at No. 22 Broad-street twenty-two paintings by this well-known artist and humorist, WILLIAM H. BEARD. The collection comprises several of his latest and most important works, among which are "Dickens and His Characters," "Darwin's Theories Expounded," "Fox-hunter's Dream," "Gulliver's Foot," "The Traveled Fox," "Rain of Cats and Dogs," &c. They will be sold at auction on Thursday, the 25th inst.

Mr. LOUIS LANG, who is about to visit Europe, will offer his entire collection of pictures, sketches and studio furniture at auction, on the 25th inst., at the Leavitt Art Rooms, where they are now on exhibition.

THE WASHINGTON TREATY.

Sir Edward Thornton's Speech at the Eighty-Sixth Anniversary of the St. George's Society.

At the celebration of the eighty-sixth anniversary of the St. George's Society, the banquet-room was bountifully and profusely decorated with flags and flowers, and at the head of the table was a life-like portrait of Queen VICTORIA. Among the guests were Sir Edward Thornton, K. C. B.; Consul-General Archibald, C. B.; Vice-Consul Pierrepont Edwards, John Dunscomb, Esq., of Quebec; John G. Dale, President of the Society; Isaac H. Bailey, of the New-England Society; Robert Gordon, St. Andrews; Mr. McMahon, St. Patrick's, and Mr. Mount, St. Nicholas; Cyrus W. Field, Wm. Stuart, Judge Wm. M. Morris, Col. Meeks, United States Army; Mr. Richard Godwin, Thos. W. Braine, Percy Wilson, F. W. J. Hurst, Rev. Frederick Sill, Rev. Franklin Babbitt, E. S. Jaffray and others. Altogether about 200 sat down to dinner. The toasts were drunk in loyal spirit, and included "The Queen," "The President of the United States," "The City of New-York," "The Army and Navy of Both Countries," "Shakespeare" and "The Ladies."

In reply to the toast of "Her Majesty's Minister and Representatives in the United States," Sir EDWARD THORNTON said:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN: It affords me the liveliest satisfaction to be able for the first time to be present here in the midst of so many of my countrymen, and to thank you, as I do most sincerely and warmly, for the hearty manner in which the proposal to drink to the health of our good Queen was responded to by all of you, and for the kind mention which you have now made of Her Majesty's Representatives in this country. Surely, there is no society which can have a greater sympathy for Her Majesty, and none, the objects of which can be regarded by her with a more kindly feeling than this one. It has been established for the benefit of our countrymen and women in this land who may unhappily be in distress; and it has done its work well and bravely, though in silence. Such qualities cannot fail to be highly appreciated by our noble Queen, whose generosity and benevolence, unostentatious though they be, and unknown in all their extent, are felt and cordially acknowledged by numbers who enjoy them and by many more who, without ocular testimony, are conscious that Her Majesty preaches only by practising. It is pleasant to see that British subjects who have migrated to the United States have not spilt by the way the milk of human kindness nor even watered it. True it is that in this grandly prosperous country the need is not so great, and still more true that those of the same race who have made the United States what they are, show us the most glorious example of ready and open-handed charity, without limit and without restraint. Afflicting as was the recent sad disaster in one of the most flourishing cities of the Union, it was almost compensated by the sudden and universal outburst of good feelings and generous help which, in the twinkling of an eye, by the power of steam and by the electric spark, were conveyed to and received by the unfortunate sufferers from their fellow-citizens in all parts of the country, almost before the survivors felt sure that even their lives were safe from the fury of the flames. Such traits of character cannot fail to be a bond of union between the two English-speaking nations, and I trust that while they encourage us to a generous rivalry, they may warm that earnest friendship which should ever exist between us, and which I sincerely hope may never be interrupted. I would ask your permission, Mr. President, to allude to a personal matter, and to express how much gratified I am at finding myself among the members of a society to which, about eighty years ago, my father, of the same name and of the same service, also belonged, as he did likewise to the St. George's Society of Philadelphia, which is at this moment celebrating its hundredth anniversary; it is a record which gives me no small pleasure. At the same time, it has been a source of regret to me that I have not had the satisfaction of meeting you sooner and often. In all the foreign countries in which I have resided, it has been my happiness to be on the most intimate terms of friendship with my fellow-countrymen, and I have been greatly assisted in my official duties by their co-operation and support; indeed, they have given me many proofs of their kindness and esteem, both publicly and privately. If I have not seen so much of my countrymen here as I could wish, it has certainly been from no want of good-will on my part, but rather from the force of circumstances and from conscientious devotion to my duty, by the strict performance of which I have felt that I was endeavoring to benefit them as belonging to the country which I have the honor to represent, and to cement the bonds of that friendship which it is my ardent ambition should be firmly established between the two nations whose flags I see all around me harmoniously intermingled. It has been in laboring to insure this friendship—with what success I hope is not doubtful—that I have been obliged to remain in Washington more constantly than would have been the case if I had been guided solely by my own inclinations. At the time of the conclusion of the Treaty of Washington, I was gratified at having had the honor of being one of its signers. I had the firmest faith in the principle of arbitration; I have it still. No one supposes that the British Commissioners ever had an idea that claims for indirect damages were included in the treaty. A subsequent thorough examination of its wording has not persuaded them to the contrary, but has confirmed their original and publicly-proclaimed belief. The Government of the United States declare that they think otherwise, and they undoubtedly have a right to form their own opinion. I cannot but hope, however, that the present attempt to apply the great principle of arbitration will not fail on account of such a misunderstanding, and the solution seems palpable; for, while it is easy, dignified, generous and magnanimous between two nations of about equal power for one of them to waive a claim for a payment to which she considers herself entitled, it would be impossible for the other to be bound by a decision that renders her a debtor on account of a claim which she does not even admit that she has ever agreed to submit to arbitration. I am convinced that such a solution of the question would be applauded by every nation in the world, and would do honor to the great Republic of the United States.

The Gould-Gordon Controversy.

In the cross suits now pending between JAY GOULD and GORDON GORDON, the affidavits in which appeared at length in yesterday's TIMES, three motions were noticed to be heard before Judge BRADY, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday. One motion was in the first suit brought by GOULD, to vacate the order of arrest granted against defendant therein; the second motion was to vacate an order for the examination of Mr. GORDON in another suit brought against him by GOULD, and the third for an injunction to restrain GOULD from disposing of certain bonds, securities, and moneys, alleged by GORDON to have been obtained from him by GOULD by intimidation and threats of arrest. Judge BRADY said other motions before him, and the necessity of his examining the questions raised in the case of the Special Sessions convicts, would preclude the possibility of hearing argument in the Gordon suit, and it would therefore have to stand over. Counsel suggested that the argument came up on a notice to show cause, returnable yesterday at 12 o'clock noon, to which the Judge made reply that he knew of no reason why the Gould-Gordon suit should be entitled to more consideration than any other, and it would therefore have to stand over and await a hearing in its order. It was directed, therefore, to stand over until 12 o'clock today. The publication of the affidavits in the TIMES of yesterday had evidently attracted an unusual crowd of eager spectators who, were anxious to hear what further developments might transpire as to the secret workings of the Erie Ring. Mr. GORDON, one of the litigants, was present in Court in company with his counsel, Ex-Judge PORTER and Mr. JOHN H. STRAHAN. JAY GOULD did not make his appearance, but was represented by Mr. KNOX, of FULLERTON & KNOX, and DAVID DUDLEY FIELD.

Rights of Passengers—Decision in Massachusetts.

From the Boston Advertiser, April 23.

A somewhat novel case was decided in the Superior Court yesterday, involving the right of a steam-boat company to detain a passenger for the non-payment of fare. It seems that a person took the boat at Fall River for New-York, and that while on the passage he either lost his ticket or gave it to the wrong officer of the Company. When the boat reached New-York, the officers of the Company demanded the ticket, and upon his refusal to deliver it or to pay the fare of $4, detained him, and threatened to carry him back to Fall River. The suit was for an assault, and for false imprisonment. The jury gave him a verdict of $50. As a matter of law, the Judge instructed the jury that the officers of the Company had no right to detain him merely for the purpose of compelling him to pay the fare. In this particular, the case resembles one which was tried two or three years since, where a keeper of a restaurant undertook to detain a person because he refused to pay for his dinner, when the Judge made a similar ruling.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

No. 150.—Phenix Fire Insurance Company of Brooklyn vs. Hamilton and Cook.—Error to the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Ohio.—Defendants in error were partners as grain commission merchants, and dissolved partnership under an agreement that the dissolution should not be published, and that Cook should continue the business in the name of the firm for his own benefit. The business was continued by Cook without any change in the method of conducting it, and without notice of any termination of the partnership. Grain was consigned to the firm by former correspondents, with instructions to insure. Insurance was effected with the plaintiff in error, in the usual way, the agent of the Company making no inquiries relative to the constitution of the firm. The building in which the grain was stored was burned during the life of the policy, and the Company refused to pay on the ground that there was no partnership. The suit resulted in favor of the firm as bailees of the owners, and it is here contended that as Cook alone held the grain on commission at the date of the fire, he alone was the bailee, and alone had an insurable interest; and that no action can be maintained on the policy not a joint action, because the interest was sole, nor a sole action, because the policy was joint. The defendants in error insist that the partnership is what is known in law as a nominal partnership, and the loan of Hamilton's credit to Cook gave the former a legitimate interest in the business.

A. C. Bradley for plaintiffs; P. Phillips for defendants.

No. 204.—United States vs. Mullen: and nine other cases.—Appeals from the Court of Claims.—The petitioners, appellees here, brought action as Capitol police. watchmen, carpenters, &c., employed under the Commissioners of Public Buildings, to recover twenty-five per cent. upon their salaries, under a joint resolution approved February, 1867, authorizing such an allowance to be made upon the salaries of certain persons in the civil service, including those in the office of the Commissioner of Public Buildings. The Government insisted that these persons were not employed in the office of the Commissioner of Public Buildings, and are not included in the joint resolution; but the Court rendered judgment for the petitioners. It is here urged that, by a proper construction of the statutes in relation to such employes of the Government, they are not (and have not been) recognized as officers in any of the Executive Departments, and cannot, therefore, be held to be benefited by the resolutions intended only to increase the salaries of persons in those Departments. The appellees urge that the term office refers to functions to be performed, and not to any particular place where they are to be performed, and that, therefore, they must be regarded as being entitled to the allowance as persons in the civil service.

Solicitor-General Bristow for the Government; Chipman, Hosmer, Roland and Daniels for claimants.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—IN ADMIRALTY.

Before Judge Blatchford.

Dwight Waugh et al. vs. The Steam-boat Elm City, her Engine, &c.—Judge BLATCHFORD rendered a decision yesterday in this case. The libel was filed by the owners of the schooner Oscar C. Acken, and the owners of the cargo laden on board of her, to recover the damages caused by a collision which took place about midnight on the 18th of July, 1871, between the schooner and the steam-boat Elm City off Negro Point Bluff, in Hell Gate, where the schooner was sunk. Judge BLATCHFORD, after an elaborate review of the circumstances attending the collision, concluded that it arose through a mistaken idea of the distance between the vessels on the part of the pilot of the steam-boat, and gave a decree in favor of the libelants, with costs, with a reference to a commissioner to ascertain the amount of damage.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Before Chief Judge Church and a Full Bench

PLEADING IN REPLEVIN SUITS.

Schofield vs. Whitelegge.—The complaint alleged that "the defendant became possessed of and wrongfully detained from the plaintiff" a certain piano. On the trial before Judge Freedman the complaint was dismissed because it did not allege ownership or demand before suit. On appeal the judgment was affirmed at General Term. The plaintiff then appealed to this Court, and it was argued last week and decision rendered yesterday affirming the judgment of the Superior Court.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—APRIL 24.

Before Judge Brady.

THE FIRE-ALARM CLAIM—A REFERENCE ORDERED.

Charles T. Chester vs. Andrew H. Green, Controller, &c.—This case came up for argument on a motion for a mandamus, to compel the defendant to pay $190,000, being the alleged balance due from the City to plaintiff under his contract to erect the fire-alarm telegraph in this City. The objection raised on the part of the City is that the original contract was for 480 stations, which were subsequently increased to 613; that there was no evidence that the Board of Fire Commissioners had, acting as a Board, authorized the increased number; and even if such increase had been lawfully authorized, an investigation would be proper to ascertain whether the extra charge was a just one, the poles and general wires being already in existence, while increased number of boxes were charged at the same rate as the originals. It was claimed on the part of plaintiff that the original 480 stations were named in the estimate merely as the approximate number necessary, and not with the intention to make it the limit; that the increased number became necessary to the efficiency of the system, and were properly charged at the rate of the contract. It was finally arranged that the matter be submitted to a reference to compute the claim and report on the correctness of the amount charged, both counsel assenting that Ex-Judge Sutherland be named as referee. The motion for a mandamus was thereupon formally withdrawn for the present to be renewed, if necessary, after the report of the referee is submitted.

Waldo Hutchins, for plaintiff; John H. Strahan for defendant.

THE BROADWAY WIDENING.

A motion in the matter of the Broadway widening was to have been heard today to confirm the report of the Commissioners, but was adjourned over to the 2d of May next.

COMMON PLEAS—CHAMBERS—APRIL 24.

Before Judge Loew.

SEIZURE OF PROPERTY FOR MILITARY FINES—IMPORTANT TO NATIONAL GUARDSMEN.

Michael J. Kuhn vs. Louis Leubuscher.—This was a motion for an injunction, made on the part of the defendant to restrain the Sheriff from taking possession of a wagon owned by plaintiff and seized by defendant as a constable. It appeared that plaintiff, a member of the National Guard, was adjudged a delinquent and fined $32. The defendant, a city marshal or constable, under authority signed by one Huger, a Major and President of the Court-martial, levied on a wagon belonging to plaintiff to satisfy the fine. Plaintiff thereupon commenced this action of replevin, and giving the Sheriff the customary bond, ordered him to take possession of the wagon, and to restrain the latter from taking possession of the wagon is the object of the present motion. The Court denied the motion for an order restraining the Sheriff, and held that the orders of the plaintiff's commanding officer to the marshal to seize the property constituted no authority for the latter to do so.

THE HEALTH OF THE CITY.

The Board of Police to Enforce Sanitary Ordinances—Reports and Mortality Record.

The regular weekly meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon, President BOSWORTH in the chair.

The Committee on Laws and Ordinances presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Police be and they are hereby requested to enforce Ordinance No. 95 of the Sanitary Code, by causing the arrest and punishment of all persons who, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M. shall remove manure from stables within 300 feet of any dwelling-house, or allow the manure and refuse from the stable to remain on any street or place near such stable during said hours.

Resolved, That the Board of Police be and they are hereby requested to enforce chapter 377 of the laws of 1866, which declares it to be a misdemeanor for any person willfully to "throw, cast or lay any ashes, offal, vegetables, garbage, drop cinders, shells, straw, shavings, dirt, filth or rubbish of any kind whatever in any gutter, street, lane, alley, or in any public place in the City of New-York, by causing the arrest and punishment of every person guilty of a willful violation of any of the provisions of the said act."

The Board ordered the following tenement-houses to be vacated by noon on the 1st prox., their filthy and dilapidated condition being dangerous to life and detrimental to health:

A four-story brick building in the rear of Nos. 33 and 35 Baxter-street, occupied by eight families.

A wooden building, Nos. 37 and 39 Baxter-street, occupied by six families.

A two and a half story frame building, No. 87 Baxter-street, occupied by six families.

The front and rear buildings, No. 52 Mulberry-street, occupied by fifteen families.

In obedience to a resolution of the Board, Dr. MOREAU MORRIS made an elaborate report on the operations of the vaccinating corps for the quarter extending from Jan. 1 to April 1, 1872, from which it appears that during that period 153,943 families were visited, and 112,181 persons vaccinated. The vaccinating corps visited 444 factories and work-shops, 23 public schools, 24 parochial schools, 7 hotels and eighty stores, public institutions and asylums, and vaccinated all the inmates.

Dr. MORRIS, City Sanitary Inspector, presented a comparative statement of contagious diseases for the two weeks ending April 20, 1872;

Week ending April 13—Typhus fever, 5; typhoid fever, 7; scarlet fever, 99; measles, 50; diphtheria, 14; small-pox, 82.

Week ending April 20—Typhus fever, 5; typhoid fever, 11; scarlet fever, 121; measles, 33; diphtheria, 12; small-pox, 68.

The City Sanitary Inspector reports that during the week thirty-nine cases of small-pox were removed to the hospital, and the vaccinating corps performed 6,153 vaccinations. The slaughter-houses of the City are also said to be in a good condition:

Of the 68 cases of small-pox reported during the past week, 42 were found to have been vaccinated during infancy only, their ages ranging from eight months to forty years; 14 were found to have been revaccinated from ten days to twelve years since, but unsuccessfully, their ages ranging from two years to forty-four years. One fifteen years of age was said to have had small-pox when an infant nine months old; 12 were found who had never been vaccinated, owing to the incredulity or neglect of their parents, their ages being between three months and thirty-five years. No case of small-pox or varioloid was found among the whole number who had been successfully revaccinated since childhood. None of the revaccinated persons who were attacked by small-pox were vaccinated by any of the vaccinating corp of the Health Department.

The Register of Records reports as follows: During the past week there were registered 677 deaths, being 14 less than for the previous week, and 139 more than for the corresponding period of 1871. Zymotic diseases occasioned 216 deaths; constitutional, 142; local, 248; developmental, 52, and violent causes, 19. The fatal cases of small-pox rose from 35 to 40, the largest weekly number yet attained during the present epidemic. The deaths by measles increased from 10 to 14; those by scarlatina, from 27 to 31; those by remittent fever, from 1 to 4; and those by diarrheal affections, from 28 to 37. The mortality from dipthheria and croup together declined from 14 to 11; that of whooping-cough from 29 to 14; that of typhoid fever from 4 to 3; that of intermittent fever from 3 to 1; and that of cerebo spinal meningitis from 52 to 27. Typhus fever caused 2 deaths, the same number as in the previous week. There were 4 deaths by puerperal fever, and 7 by erysipelas. The following were the principal meteorological features of the week, as recorded for this Department at the Cooper Union: Maximum temperature, 70°; minimum temperature, 31°; mean temperature, 47.16°, being 5.57° less than for the corresponding period during the past ten years; mean standing of barometer, 29.955 inches; mean degree of humidity, 48.26. The Captain of the Sanitary Company of Police reports the following as the amount of meat, fish, &c., seized and confiscated as unfit for human food: Sheep, 6; hogs, 5; veal, ("carcass,") 12; veal, ("bob,") 22; veal, ("cut,") 50 pounds; beef, 550 pounds; meat, 25 pounds; buffalo, 1,870 pounds, and fish 12,600 pounds.

The Board then adjourned.

EDWARD S. STOKES.

Postponement of His Appeal—Alleged Anxiety of the Prisoner for a Trial.

The appeal in the case of EDWARD S. STOKES was to have come up before Judge CARDOZO yesterday, on a motion to settle the bill of exceptions on behalf of the prisoner, but owing to the illness of the Judge a postponement was had until Friday next Of course there will be no steps taken for an immediate trial of the accused, though it is understood that he is desirous for a speedy arraignment. STOKES' health is sensibly affected by his imprisonment, and, as all liberty of the corridor has been denied him by order of the Commissioners, the confinement naturally weighs upon his spirits. If STOKES is, indeed, anxious for trial before the Court of Oyer and Terminer next month, the District-Attorney should see that his wish is complied with.

Lecture on Carl Schurz's Republicanism.

Mr. WILLIAM V. WEBER, a German Republican of this City, delivered a lecture on SCHURZ and his enmity to the Republican Party at the Union Assembly Rooms, in Elizabeth-street, Tuesday night.

His political activity is watched with particular interest by his German fellow-countrymen. But are they united in their opinions about his public conduct and political movements? By no means. His opposition to the present Republican Administration and to the Republican Party is received with delight and approval by the German Democrats, while all intelligent German Republicans quite as strongly and emphatically disapprove and condemn it. The latter state that SCHURZ is in his present political movements completely on the wrong track, and that his skillful speeches and smart phrases are dictated not by sound principles aiming at the promotion of the public weal, but by sheer personal motives. No true German Republican considers SCHURZ a great, independent legislator or, in other words, a real statesman, but only a selfish politician, with an exceedingly dexterous, versatile and active tongue.

WEDNESDAY, April 24—P. M.

There was a further advance in Exchange on London, today, after the closing of the steamer mail, to 109¾ ₩ cent. 60 days, and 110¼ ₩ cent. for Sight Bills. There was not much business done at the advance, but Banking drawers were generally firm, looking to the full Gold shipping points to cover their Bills to profit. It is probable that some Gold Coin will be shipped by the steamers of Saturday. The sales of Gold today were advanced to 111⅞@112 ₩ cent., and the prices for the Public Funds followed in the same direction, and most of them scarce at the rise. The offerings to the Sinking Fund of all kinds of 5-20s amounted to only $592,100, of which $263,800 were accepted as being at or under the price of Gold at the moment. It is difficult to know what the Treasury will do with its surplus Gold under this condition of the market for 5-20s, unless immediate resort be had to a call, on 90 days notice, to redeem the remaining outstanding registered stock of 1862, (nearly all held in this country,) in Gold at par, with the offer to prepay the Stock on presentation, with interest to the date of such presentation. This might induce the early surrender of the Stock for the purpose of taking advantage of the higher premium on Gold incident to its export demand. The amount of such Stock at present outstanding is $34,055,700.

The Money market worked smoother than usual among the Brokers today, and most of the business was done at simple 7 ₩ cent. interest.

There was some hesitation in the Stock Exchange speculation early in the day, but no decided pressure to sell the Railroads or Pacific Mail and Telegraph for a decline. Soon after the First Board opened there was a sudden upward turn in Erie Stock on the London advices, which carried up the sales to 64½@64¾@65, and ultimately to 66⅞ ₩ cent. There was also an upward turn in Pacific Mail to 70@70¾ ₩ cent., and these two movements together, with the ease in Money, imparted strength to the general market. The suspense in regard to the Washington Treaty we have reason to hope will be relieved in the course of a very short time by mutual concessions in regard not alone on the American claim to contingent damages, in the present instance, but on the principle involved as affecting future international obligations in such cases as the escape of the Alabama. The steadiness of the British and American Funds in London would seem to favor the expectation that some way out of the diplomatic trouble is soon to be availed of.

At the close of the day Gold and Exchange and the Public Funds were firm, and the Railroad speculation rather strong than otherwise on most of the New-York and Western Roads. Pacific Mail continued in demand and firm.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

The St. Joseph and Denver
City Railroad Company's
1st MORTGAGE BONDS

are being absorbed by an increasing demand for them.

Secured as they are by a first mortgage on the road, land grant, franchise, and equipments, combined in one mortgage, they command at once a ready market.

A liberal sinking fund provided in the mortgage deed must advance the price upon the closing of the loan. Principal and interest payable in GOLD. Interest at eight (8) per cent. per annum. Payable semi-annually, free of tax. Principal in thirty years. Denominations, $1,000, $500 and $100. Coupons or Registered.

Price 97½ and accrued interest, in currency, from Feb. 15, 1872.

Maps, circulars, documents, and information furnished.

Trustees, Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New-York.

Can now be had through the principal banks and bankers throughout the country, and from the undersigned, who unhesitatingly recommend them. TANNER & CO., Bankers,
No. 11 Wall-st., New-York

☞ Messrs. JAY COOKE & CO., NO. 20 WALL ST., offer at par and interest in currency the 7.30 bonds of the NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD, principal and interest payable in gold, and holders exempt from United States tax.

They are issued in the following denominations: Coupons of $100, $500, and $1,000; registered, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000.

The redemption of 5-20s by the Treasury indicates low rates of interest to the public creditors hereafter, and large amounts of these bonds are being exchanged for Northern Pacifics.

ATLANTIC AND GREAT WESTERN.

Its Condition—Interesting Facts and Figures—Report to the Stock Exchange.

Application was recently made to the Stock Exchange to have the securities of the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad Company placed upon the regular list of stocks called at the Stock Board. The application of the American agents was referred to the Committee on Securities, and the report of this Committee has just been prepared, and was to have been made to the Exchange yesterday, but was postponed because of the illness of the Chairman. It will not be made officialy until next Wednesday. A thorough investigation has been made by the gentlemen composing it, they assert, and they unite in the recommendation not to place the Atlantic and Great Western stocks on the call.

The report contains some facts regarding the road which are of especial interest just now, when there is a probability of a fusion of the road with Erie, the English capitalists, who own the greater part of its stock, having a good chance of obtaining control of Erie, in which case, as has been publicly announced by their representatives, they will effect a junction with Erie, believing an incorporation of the two roads would be to the interests of both. It is thought that when the Bischoffsheim party obtain control of Erie, the Atlantic and Great Western Road will be leased to the Erie people, who have invested too much money in the former stock not to be willing to make every effort to increase its value and make it marketable.

The following interesting figures are found in the Stock Exchange Committee's report:

	Miles.
Length of main line, from Salamanca, N. Y., to Dayton, Ohio........	388
Franklin branch........	32
Hubbard branch........	14
Silver Creek branch........	6
Lease of Cleveland and Mahoning........	67
Total........	507

The Company has also an interest in the lease of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Road, the length of which is 67 miles.

The financial condition of the road is as follows:

First mortgage seven per cent. bonds, dated Dec. 16, 1871. Mature Jan. 1, 1902. Principal and interest payable gold in London. Interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1, in London........	$18,000,000
Second mortgage seven per cent. bonds, dated Dec. 16, 1871. Mature March 1, 1902. Principal and interest payable in gold in London. Interest payable March 1 and September, in London........	12,000,000
Third mortgage seven per cent. bonds, dated Dec. 16, 1871. Mature May 1, 1902. Principal and interest payable in gold in London. Interest payable (when earned) May 1 and Nov. 1, in London, but no interest to be paid unless earned above all expenses and additions to road........	29,000,000
Total issue of bonds........	$59,000,000
Capital stock, common and preferred, to be issued to creditors of the old Company....	50,000,000
Total capital........	$109,000,000
Receipts for October, 1871........	$397,934 74
Receipts for November, 1871........	391,376 28
Receipts for December, 1871........	357,102 67

Out of the first mortgage bonds $9,500,000 worth are held by the Company to redeem outstanding bonds on the Ohio Division of the road and the outstanding stock of the reorganization trustees. The sum of $1,500,000 in these bonds still are in the treasury, leaving $7,000,000 to the creditors of the old Company. Of the second mortgage bonds $8,000,000 are issued to the creditors of the old Company, and the remainder the Company still holds in treasury.

THE BROOKLYN FIFTY.

Reply of the Subcommittee to Mr. Kingsley's Communication—The East River Bridge.

The Subcommittee of the Brooklyn Committee of Fifty have made a reply to the communication of Mr. KINGSLEY, Superintendent of the East River Bridge, from which we extract the following:

In a practical point of view the communication referred to in no wise controverts any position assumed in our report; and there are in it but four points of public interest, or in which veracity or accuracy of charge are involved. These points we will now take up, seriatim:

1. THE REPRESENTATION OF THE CITY OF BROOKLYN IN THE BOARD OF DIRECTION OF THE COMPANY.

The report of your Subcommittee set forth: "That Brooklyn has no controlling voice in the management of the Company, though owning six-tenths of the stock, while private parties, owning one-tenth of the stock, send fifteen members to the Board." Of the truth of this, admission is made in the aforementioned communication by the acknowledgment that the stock subscribed by this city is only represented in the Board by the Mayor, Controller, and City Treasurer. At the same time a denial is made by the assertion that the people of Brooklyn are also represented in the Board by eleven private stockholders. This is not satisfactory to the community at large. The people of Brooklyn, through their corporation, subscribed for six-tenths of the first $5,000,000 cost on the bridge, and they have the right to, and demand a corporate official representation in the same proportion.

2. THE LUMBER AND TIMBER PURCHASED OF PARTIES WITH WHOM WILLIAM C. KINGSLEY WAS IN INTEREST.

Your Subcommittee set forth in their report: "That the Brooklyn Saw-mill and Lumber Company, or AMMERMAN & CO., (in which Mr. KINGSLEY is largely interested,) had furnished much of the lumber and timber of the caissons." It is asserted in the communication referred to "that the whole amount paid by the Bridge Company to or received by the Saw-mill Company is $24.110 37." But it also appears that the further sum of $84,122 53 was paid to A. AMMERMAN, who is the superintendent of the Saw-mill Company.

3. MR. KINGSLEY'S COMPENSATION.

In the aforesaid communication the return of $50,000 is admitted; but as to the compensation of $125,000 paid to Mr. KINGSLEY, it is claimed in justification that he had expended of his own money $250,000, and that the amount of compensation to be allowed him was at various times discussed in the Executive Committee. In this connection it might be pertinent to ask—as the $125,000 contract will expire when the foundation of the caisson tower on the New-York side shall have reached high-water level—what is to be Mr. KINGSLEY'S subsequent salary as General Superintendent? And also whether it is not even now understood or agreed on that for present services he is to receive additional compensation?

4. MR. KINGSLEY'S EXPENDITURE OF $250,000.

It is easy to assert this outlay, and, if correct, it has been reimbursed from money paid on the city's subscription to the stock. It has been, however, stated from the Bridge Company's office that the allowance of $125,000 to Mr. KINGSLEY was but a fair compensation for services rendered and expenditures made by him. The inference necessarily is that this sum covered services and his entire disbursements.

Monthly Scranton Coal Sale—Decline in Prices.

At the 101st monthly auction sale of coal, yesterday, by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, 130,000 tons of Scranton coal were disposed of. The terms were as usual, and the prices, with one exception, lower, compared with those of the last sale. The decline was marked in all except lump, of which there was only a small quantity. The attendance was good and the sales rapid. The following shows the prices yesterday, and the rates at the last month's sale:

Wall-Street Yesterday—The Rise in Gold and Foreign Exchange.

The most noticeable news in and about Wall-street yesterday was the continued rise in price of gold and foreign exchange, which, although by slight advances, was steady and sure. Coin will have to be shipped abroad very soon, and as the supply of gold and silver in bars is very small, actual coin will have to go, and it seems to be anticipated that the banks will be crippled, the usual inflow of currency from the country being light. Naturally the rise in gold and exchange was generally discussed, as being of more general interest than the fluctuations of the stock market. Stocks were dull during the morning, but later in the day prices advanced. Pacific Mail, Erie and Harlem being the most prominent. Pacific Mail rose from 69⅜ to 70⅞, and certain sanguine bulls were heard to predict that it would yet touch 80. Harlem reached 128⅜, and Erie went from 64 to 64¾. Business in stocks was dull generally, however, brokers complaining of a lack of commissions.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The offerings of State and Western Flour have been in a restricted scale, and holders of desirable extras, both Spring and Winter, have been firmer, in their views, claiming a further advance of 10c.@15c. ₱ bbl., thus checking business, though the inquiry has been fair, mostly for home trade purposes. Sales have been made since our last of 8,700 bbls., all told, including inferior to very choice Superfine State and Western at $6 40@$6 85; inferior to very good Extra State at $7@$7 40; very good to fancy at $7 40@$7 85; poor to very good shipping Extra Western at $6 90@$7 25; poor to good shipping brands round-hoop Extra Ohio at $7 35@$7 85. We quote:

No. 2 Flour, ₱ bbl.	$4 50@$6 25
Sour Flour	4 90@ 6 75
Superfine State and Western	6 40@ 6 85
Extra State	7 00@ 7 35
Extra City, shipping brands	7 00@ 7 85
Extra Genesee	7 90@10 25
Extra Ohio, round-hoop shipping brands	7 35@ 7 85
Extra Western, shipping brands	6 90@ 7 25
Extra Ohio, trade and family brands	7 90@10 25
Extra Western, trade and family brands	7 25@10 25
Extra St. Louis, ordinary and fancy	8 40@12 25

Southern Flour has been in moderate request at very firm prices. Sales have been reported since our last of 900 bbls., at $7@$8 80 for ordinary to very good, and $8 80@$12 25 for very good to very choice Extra ₱ bbl. Canada Flour has been selling slowly, within the range of from $8 50@$9 50 for Extra. Rye Flour has been in fair demand at from $4 10@$5 10 ₱ bbl.; sales, 400 bbls. Corn-meal has been in demand and steady at from $3 50@$3 80 for White and Yellow Western, chiefly at $3 65@$3 70, delivered; $3 60@$3 75 for Jersey, and $3 80@$3 90 for Brandywine; sales, 450 bbls.

GRAIN—Wheat has been in fair demand for home use and shipment, with red and amber Winter quoted at the close 1c.@2c. a bushel higher, on light offerings, and Spring also rather steadier, with less urgency on the part of holders to realize. Sales have been reported since our last of 107,000 bushels at $1 65 for prime No. 1 Milwaukee in store; $1 64 for choice No. 2 do., called No. 1, afloat; $1 60 for fair No. 2 do., in store; $1 60½@$1 61 for prime to choice No. 2 Northwest Spring, afloat; $1 59½ for No. 2 Chicago Spring, afloat; $1 57@$1 57½ for do. do., in store; $1 90@$1 95 for white Western, in store; $1 86@$1 88 for amber Western, in store; $2 05 for very choice White Canada.... Corn has been offered sparingly, and has been quoted about a cent a bushel dearer, on a good demand for immediate delivery. Sales have been reported since our last of 121,000 bushels (part for forward delivery) at 74½c.@75½c. for New Mixed, delivered, chiefly at 75c.@75½c. for shipping lots; 75c. asked for prime Old do., in store; 75c.@76c., chiefly 76c., for White Western and Southern; 71c. for new Mixed Western, to arrive in May, and 75c.@76c. for Yellow Western and Southern....Rye has been quoted higher and in good request at the improvement; sales, 11,000 bushels Western, in store, at 91c....Barley has been quiet, but held with firmness; 1,600 bushels prime Canada West were sold at $1 12, in store, with $1 15 reported bid for Choice....Barley-malt has been inactive and nominal....Oats have been in active demand, partly on speculative account, at a further improvement in prices, closing buoyantly. Sales have been reported since our last of 96,500 bushels at 53c.@53½c. for good to prime Mixed Western, afloat; 52½c. for do., in store; 53½c. for Mixed State, afloat, and 54½c. 55c. for White Western, the latter for choice.

HEMP—Has been generally dull within our previous range. Sales, 400 bales Jute Butts at 3¼c., currency, ₱ lb. We quote: American at $140@$150 for Undressed, and $220@$260 for Dressed, ₱ ton; Russian, $225 gold, ₱ ton; Manila, 11¾c.@12¼c.; Sisal, 10c.@10½c., gold, Jute, 5½c.@7c.; Jute Butts, 3¼c., currency, ₱ lb.

HIDES—Trade has been slow since our last, yet prices have been quoted steady on less urgent offerings of desirable stock.

HOPS—Have been held with confidence, but have been without remarkable activity. Desirable lots have been offered very sparingly. We quote crop of 1871 at 25c.@75c., the latter for extra choice; crop of 1870 at 10c.@35c.; older growths at 8c.@20c.; foreign at 60c.@75c.

LEATHER—Has been quoted steady as to price, with a moderate movement reported.

MOLASSES—The dealings have been unimportant, and values quoted essentially as before.

NAVAL STORES—Resin has been in more active demand and quoted stronger at the close, on the basis of $3 75 for Strained, with sales reported of 2,950 bbls. at $3 55@$3 62½; 5,000 bbls. on private terms; and 75 bbls. Pale at $5 75 ₱ 280 lbs....Tar dull at old figures....Spirits Turpentine has been in rather more request, and quoted steadier, with merchantable quoted at 65c.@65½c.; sales, 75 bbls. from yard at the latter rates; 50 bbls. at 65c., and 50 bbls. to arrive, by the Benefactor, at 64c. ₱ gallon.

PETROLEUM—Refined has been quoted steady, and has been in fair demand, with sales reported here since our last of 6,000 bbls., for early delivery, at 22c.; and 1,000 bbls., June delivery, at 22¼c.; and at Philadelphia, 1,500 bbls., first half of June, at 21¼c. ₱ gallon. Crude dull but firm....Case-oil and Naptha as before.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been quoted stronger on a restricted offering and moderate inquiry for early delivery. Sales have been reported of 800 bbls. at $13 60@13 65 for new Western Mess; $13 for old Mess; $12 75 for Prime Mess and $11 12½ for Extra Prime, ₱ bbl. For forward delivery the demand has been moderate, at firmer rates; sales were reported of 1,500 bbls. new Western Mess, including 1,250 bbls., seller June, at $13 65@$13 75, and 250 bbls., seller July, at $13 95....City Dressed Hogs continue inactive at 5¾c.@6¼c. ₱ lb....Cut-meats continue in good request and quoted firm, at from 8½c.@10c. for Dry-salted and Sweet-pickled Hams, and 5c.@5¼c. for Shoulders, and 7¼c.@8c. for Bellies, ₱ lb. The reported sales since our last are equal to 450 pks., within the range. Also, 25,000 lbs. Bellies, in bulk, at 7½c. ₱ lb....Bacon has been in light supply for prompt delivery, and desirable cuts, wanted by shippers, have been quoted stronger in price, on a fair call, with sales reported of 2,150 boxes at 8c.@8⅛c., chiefly at 8c. for Short Clear, 7⅞c. for Long Clear, and 7⅞c.@7½c. for Short Rib....Lard has been in moderate request, and choice stock has been quoted firm in price. Sales have been reported of 650 tcs. and bbls. for early delivery, at 8¾c.@9 5-16c. for No. 1 to choice Steam and Kettle-rendered, closing at 9¼c.@9¾c. for prime to choice Western Steam; 9¼c.@9⅜c. for Kettle-rendered; 9c. for prime City Steam and Kettle; 8¾c. for No. 1, and 9¾c.@9⅞c. for refined. For forward delivery there has been a limited inquiry noted, with sales reported of 250 tcs. prime Western Steam, seller August, at 9⅝c. ₱ lb....Beef has been in rather more demand, at from $7 50@$10 for Mess, and $10@$12 50 for Extra Mess; sales, 240 bbls. Tierce Beef has been in request, at from $12@$18 for new Prime Mess, $15@$18 for India Mess, and $22@$24 for City Extra do., ₱ tierce; sales 125 tcs. Beef Hams have been inactive at $22@$27 as the extremes; sales 100 bbls....There has been a fair trade reported in desirable makes of Butter, both new and old, at, however, easier prices for most kinds of stock. The arrivals of new have been increasing, and all receipts of the finer qualities have been meeting with a pretty ready sale at the ruling figures. The better grades of old stock have been offered less freely, and have held their own very well as to price. We quote New Butter thus: State, Pails, 34c.@38c.; State, Welsh half tubs, 30c.@34c.; State, Welsh tubs, 27c.@33c.; Western firkins and tubs, 18c.@25c.; Canada, 20c.@26c. Old Butter—State firkins, prime to extra choice, 32c.@35c.; State firkins, ordinary to prime, 25c.@32c.; State half firkins, fair to good extra choice, 28c.@38c.; Western firkins and tubs, good to extra, 15c.@22c.; ordinary to good Western, 10c.@15c.; Western Rolls, 13c.@23c.; Grease Butter, original pks., 8c.@9½c. ₱ lb. ....The inquiry for Cheese from home buyers is fair for the better makes, with values quoted rather easier, holders readily meeting the requirements of their customers at the current prices. Shippers are not operating to any considerable extent at present, as they are unwilling to pay asking rates. We quote as follows:

State Factories, prime to choice	17¼@18½
State Factories, common to prime	15 @17½
State Farm Dairies, fair to extra	15½@18
State Farm Dairies, ordinary to good	14 @16½
Western, good to extra choice	15 @17½
Western, ordinary to good	11 @15
English Dairy	13 @18
New Cheese (nominally)	12 @17½

SALT—Has been in better supply and fair request at uniform quotations.

SKINS—Show less activity on the previous basis as to price. We quote: Deer—Honduras, 52½c.; Guatamala, 60c.; Chagres, 57½c.; Campeachy, 50c.; Sisal, 52½c.; San Juan, 52½c.; Vera Cruz, 51c.; Porto Cabello, 51c.; Angostura, 37½c.; Para, 52½c.; Southern and Texas, 35c.@50c., currency, ₱ lb. Goat—Tampico, 53c; Matamoras, 53c.; Vera Cruz, 50c.@52½c., gold; Buenos Ayres, 51c.; Payta, 50c.; Sisal, 52½c.; Curacoa, 54c.; Bogota, 45c.@47½c.; Cape, 35c.@38c.; Madras, each, 55c.; Patna, 47½c.; E. I. Tanned Goat, 95c.@$1; E. I. Tanned Sheep, 72½c., currency, ₱ lb.

SUGARS—A fair inquiry prevails for Raw at steady prices, as quoted in our last, with sales reported of 1,037 hhds., 1,206 boxes, and 10,300 bags, including 198 hhds. and 1,206 boxes Centrifugal at 9⅝c.@9¾c.; 700 hhds. good refining Cuba at 8⅝c.; 139 hhds. refining and grocery do. at 8 11-16c.@9¾c.; 7,000 bags China and 3,300 bags Pernambuco on private terms. Refined as before.

TALLOW—An active business has been reported in Tallow at full rates for prime. Sales have been reported of 312,000 lbs. Tallow at 8¾c.@9¼c. for ordinary to prime, chiefly at 9¼c. for prime, ₱ lb.

WOOL—The general market shows firmness as to values, in most instances, on a limited offering of desirable grades, but the current movements are on a limited scale, though domestic Fleece is in some request for manufacturing purposes. Domestic Pulled is rather more free of sale, but on a modified basis as to price. In foreign there is not much animation; though quotations remain about as before.

WHISKY—Has been in moderate demand, and quoted up to 90c. for full, and 91c. for small lots; sales 280 bbls.

FREIGHTS—There has been a moderate call for berth room, with rates quoted steady for Provisions and general cargo, the offerings of which were most liberal, and rather weaker for Grain, room for which was in comparatively limited request. In the way of charters, the movement reported since our last has shown less animation, particularly in the way of vessels for the Petroleum trade, though rates indicate no material changes. Vessels for the Tobacco and general cargo trades have been moderately sought after at about previous figures....For Liverpool, the reported engagements since our last have been, by sail, 100 tons Black Walnut, on private terms; and, by steam, 200 bales Cotton at ¼d. ₱ lb.; 15,500 bushels Grain, (relet room,) at 3¾d. ₱ bushel; 500 boxes Bacon and 350 tcs. Lard at 15s.; 400 boxes Starch and 30 tons Dye-wood, on private terms; also, a ship with a full cargo of Cotton, reported from New-Orleans at ⅜d. ₱ lb....For London, by sail, 50 bales Pig's Hair at 30s. ₱ ton; 100 bags do. at ½c. ₱ lb.; and by steam, 50 tcs. Lard at 25s., and 200 boxes Bacon at 40s....For Bristol, by sail, 200 tons Oil-cake, on private terms; also, a Russian bark, 545 tons, with general cargo, on private terms....For Glasgow or Leith, a British bark, 303 tons, with Oil-cake, on private terms....For Havre, a Norwegian bark, 471 tons, with about 3,200 bbls. Crude Petroleum, hence, on the basis of 4s. 7½d., short lay days. The American ship, reported yesterday with 5,500 bbls. Crude Petroleum, for the Continent, was for Havre, Dunkirk or Bordeaux, at 4s. ₱ bbl....For Antwerp, 300 tcs. Lard and 250 boxes Bacon at 25s.; 88 cases Tobacco at 22s. 6d....For Hamburg, a German ship, 1,046 tons, with equal to 6,500 bbls. Petroleum, at 3s. 4½d.; and a German bark, 427 tons, with about 3,000 bbls. do. at 3s. 7½d. ₱ bbl....For Rotterdam, 300 tcs. Lard at 25s. ₱ ton....For Cronstadt, a Russian bark, 900 tons, with about 4,800 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 4s. 1½d. ₱ bbl....For Danzig, a German bark, 517 tons, with about 3,500 bbls. PROPOSALS.

GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY OF CANADA.

PROPOSALS FOR LOCOMOTIVE ENGINES.

The Directors of this Company are prepared to receive tenders for the construction and delivery at Suspension Bridge of eighteen freight locomotives, to be made according to drawings and specifications, similar to and interchangeable in their parts with engines already in the service, built by the "Rhode Island Locomotive Works," Providence.

Also, for six four-wheeled tank switching engines, to be constructed similar to an engine in the service named "John Fildes," built by "Baldwin Locomotive Works," Philadelphia, to be delivered same as aforementioned engines.

Drawings and sample locomotives may be seen and other information obtained on application to the Company's Mechanical Superintendent, Mr. Robinson, at Hamilton, Ontario.

The switching engines are to be delivered by 31st August next, and the freight engines by 31st October next.

The Company wish each tender to specify the terms on which earlier delivery of freight engines will be insured by the builders—providing, if practicable, that four shall be delivered in July, four in August, five in September and five in October.

Sealed tenders marked "Tender for Locomotives," and stating times of delivery of locomotives, addressed to the undersigned, will be received not later than the 30th day of April instant.

The Directors do not bind themselves to accept the lowest or any tender.

Yours faithfully,
JOSEPH PRICE,
Treasurer, &c.

DAILY, WEEKLY AND SEMI-WEEKLY.

This journal is now thoroughly identified with the greatest political necessity of the hour—uncompromising warfare against all forms of corruption, whether in national or local government. For years past the TIMES has been exposing the demoralizing schemes of self-interested politicians, and its recent warfare upon the Tammany Democrats has been received with universal approval. It has adhered to the pledge given in its original prospectus, more than twenty years ago, that the public should be truly represented, and their interests faithfully guarded through its columns. Its record has been pure and honorable, and the highest aim of its proprietors is to render it more and more worthy of its past history, and of the confidence which the public repose in it. Two out of three of the original proprietors still direct its policy, and guide it on all public questions. They purpose that the TIMES shall continue to keep clear of all narrow and unworthy influences and cliques, and aim to represent the great body of the public, as distinguished from personal factions. It occupies a perfectly independent position, and is free to speak the truth on all subjects and about all men. Its greatly increased circulation throughout the country adds to its power and influence. It will continue to be a faithful exponent of Republican principles, recognizing the claims of American industry in adjusting the sources of revenue; and it will advocate with untiring energy every cause which tends to further the welfare of the people.

A very full summary of news, and many general articles of great interest, are published in the Semi-weekly editions; and in the Weekly edition there is an unabridged report of the proceedings at the Farmers' Club, an excellent summary of political information, and a great variety of matter suitable for family reading.

The NEW-YORK TIMES is pre-eminently a family paper, all objectionable advertisements being rigidly excluded; and it has a constantly increasing circulation among the most respectable classes of the community.

Notice.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

To Advertisers.

☞ For the accommodation of up-town residents, advertisements for insertion in the TIMES will be received at No. 54 West 32d-st., junction of Broadway and 6th-av.; No. 308 West 23d-st., opposite Grand Opera-house, and No. 1,241 Broadway, between 30th and 31st sts., at same rates as are charged at office of publication.

☞ The NEW-YORK TIMES has opened a branch office in Brooklyn at No. 44 Court-st opposite the City Hall, where advertisements will be received until 5 P. M.

☞ Throughout the Presidential canvass, we shall publish fuller reports of meetings and conventions in each State than any other New-York journal. The dispatches we are now receiving from Cincinatti and other points in the West afford examples of the thorough and impartial manner in which our correspondents will perform their work. Very full dispatches will be forwarded by telegraph, supplemented by careful letters. Our desire is to place before the public the latest and most trustworthy information, and we have made ample arrangements for that purpose.

There can be no doubt that the money is now flowing freely at Albany. It is a miserable arrangement by which the most important business of the session is crowded into that part of it which mechanics would call "over-time"—the over-time not being paid for by the State. Many of the members cannot afford to pay their own board bills, and if a great railroad company or gas monopoly steps in and offers to do it, where is the harm? "No one will be any the wiser," argues A. D. BARBER, and too many members find their scruples disappear before his "reasoning" powers. The $200,000 raised to keep in the corrupt Judges is to be distributed openly as bribes. We shall know who took it when we see the list of votes in favor of the Judges. Can it be supposed that the people will look on with unconcern at the new disgrace inflicted on their State? Is it to be always the rule that no important legislation can go on at Albany without the intervention of professional bribers and lobbyists?

When the Presidential campaign was opened, Gen. GRANT was accused of personal corruption, his Secretaries were denounced as thieves, Senator CONKLING was called dishonest, Senator MORTON was a "fool," Senator NYE was a "clown," and journalists who ventured to say a word for the Administration were described—and this by Senator SCHURZ himself—as "liars" and "hounds." In the same way, the warfare has been carried on down to the present time. Do we hear these "personalities" deprecated by the critics who were so lately defending Tammany, and denouncing us for attacking the Tammany chiefs by name? No—they see no impropriety in SCHURZ insinuating that the President is a rogue. They did not remonstrate when Senators TRUMBULL and FESSENDEN were denounced as "perjurers" and "traitors" by the Tribune, and when it said that these gentlemen had sold themselves for money. It is only just now, when official facts and figures are bringing the friends of these critics to grief, that they are seized with a desire to confine discussion to politics in the "abstract."

With regard to the attacks on TRUMBULL and FESSENDEN, the well-known writer of the Easy Chair in HARPER'S Magazine, has the following remarks:

> "During the impeachment trial a picture was daily sent to each great newspaper, but a picture colored by the hopes and feelings of the painter. So furious was the fray, so passionate the appeal to the prejudices of the public, that one of the most sternly incorruptible men who ever served his country was bitterly derided for professing to have a conscience; and another, who did his duty simply because he was too manly not to do it, and who knew that he did it at the cost of the sympathy of friends and the support of constituents, was savagely denounced as a Judas Iscariot taking his thirty pieces. As we write, the grave closes over him, and the whitest flowers will fitly bloom upon it. But how many, remembering that brand of Judas, and knowing nothing more of him, may still suppose that the vote which showed how true a man he was was somehow the proof of a want of manhood!"

Mr. GREELEY, who was the author of the charges in question, is now acting in alliance with one of the slandered Senators—as he is with Mr. (or Col.) GROSVENOR, whom he described as a spy, and of DAVID A. WELLS, whom he denounced as having been "bribed by the British," and of many others on whose heads he has in former days poured out all kinds of scandalous accusations.

FRANK BLAIR, we are told, is almost daily in active consultation with the Democrats in Congress relative to the Cincinnati Convention. This interesting clique arrive at the conclusion that the best thing to be done is for the Democrats to lie by while the Schurz party wins the battle for them. The effect of SCHURZ'S plans in Missouri was to put FRANK BLAIR in the Senate—the effect of SCHURZ'S victory now, if he gained one, would be to fill all the public offices with Frank Blairs. The Republican Party cannot be worsted by the Democrats in fair fight—but it may be treacherously stabbed by its own pretended friends. Are the people disposed to see this done, and then vote for candidates who are imposed upon them by the Democrats?

The Springfield Republican, in a fit of candor which does not often attack it, admits the fact that the "great body of the Republican Party" support Gen. GRANT—and this support it calls the "negative strength of GRANT." It takes the view so popular among wire-pullers and professional politicians, that the said wire-pullers are the prime-movers of this universe, and the bulk of the people mere useless excrescences. Fancy describing the support of the "great body" of the Republican Party as negative strength! It is this "negative" sort of strength which orders the affairs of the country, little as the intriguers for office believe it. The business and commercial men of the States will not be disposed to plunge everything into chaos, merely to bring about a "new deal" of offices, as to which they are utterly indifferent.

Mr. CHAS. FRANCIS ADAMS does not seem to have a very high opinion of the Cincinnati movement, so far, if we may judge from his letter to Mr. WELLES, published this morning. He evidently regards the professions of the Liberal Republicans of Missouri as something neither fish nor flesh, which might prove equally acceptable to Democrats and Republicans, and he states a view which every sensible man will share when he says: "The difficulty is not in the professions. It lies everywhere only in the manner in which they are carried into practice." Whether he would accept a nomination from Cincinnati, he leaves in doubt, but of the fact that he will not be a party to "truck and dicker"—to use his own expression with reference to the famous coalition in Massachusetts twenty years ago—in order to gain that empty honor, he leaves no doubt possible. On his own platform, that candidates and parties are to be judged by the security they give for carrying out their professions, we have no hesitation in entering the canvass with the candidate of the Republican Party, whoever he may be. We have no fear of the result, even if the Cincinnati men should succeed in screening their plans behind the name of Mr. ADAMS.

An evening paper circulated, yesterday, a sensational rumor to the effect that the funds subscribed for the use of the Committee of Seventy were being squandered upon favorites for law fees, and that large sums had been sent to Albany to influence legislation. It is scarcely necessary that the members of the Committee should deny the truth of the rumor, for nobody will believe that money intrusted to their care will be either squandered or misappropriated. Nevertheless, an official denial is made, and thus another silly story is exposed.

A Few Words to Honest Republicans.

There are, of course, in the present "bolting" movement from the Republican Party many sincere and honest men. The deputation, indeed, from this State is admitted by its own "organs" to be (mainly) of a singularly disreputable character. It seems to consist largely of broken-down political hacks, disappointed office-seekers, and men of no reputation, either socially or politically. But from other States we observe names of more respectability, and in the rank and file there are, no doubt, many patriotic citizens.

It is fitting that these men should ask themselves earnestly "What are we likely to gain by this effort to break up the Republican Party?" The time will come, no doubt, when this party, like all political parties, must dissolve into certain other elements. But is there anything to show that this time has come? What new principle have the Cincinnati leaders proclaimed, or are they likely to proclaim?

If we review in our minds the great questions which, for the next twenty-five years, are in all probability to divide this nation, where do we find the bolters? Take, for instance, "revenue reform" and "revenue tariff." The principles proclaimed in the recent meeting at the Cooper Hall, by Messrs. TRUMBULL and SCHURZ, are not nearly so strong for a reform of taxation, and relieving the industries of the country of the burdens placed on raw material, as the opinions uttered and reuttered in this journal during the past seven years. What new and advanced ground in political economy can a party take which has the Tribune and the Evening Post for guides? How can abstract free trade and ultra protection clasp hands in Cincinnati, and form a union which will endure a year? What will the editor of the Chicago Tribune and Mr. HORACE GREELEY do on the same Committee? What financial platform can be worth anything as principle, where the thoughts of Mr. DAVID A. WELLS are diluted by the profound speculations of that distinguished economist, Mr. HORACE GREELEY?

It is obvious that all that the faction can do in Cincinnati is to repeat their Cooper Institute "windbags"—to hide the real issues, to postpone the grand discussion of the future on the tariff, and utter some platitudes to which neither protectionist nor free-trader can object. Suppose we take the next great subject which is to agitate this nation: Civil service reform. What have the "Liberal" leaders done to show any more interest or enthusiasm for that reform than have Gen. GRANT and many Republican public men? We have no reason to suppose that Senator TRUMBULL is as much committed to it as Gen. GRANT. Our present President has the glory of inaugurating the reform, and is doing his best to carry it out sincerely. The Republican Press has supported it heartily; and if some Republican Congressmen are indifferent to it, the same can be said of the bolters. It is a reform which takes time to permeate the people; but there is nothing to show that the deserting wing are any more imbued with it than the main body. It is the same with the amnesty question. The President is for amnesty and restoration to all the rebels, except a few notorious leaders; and even them he would doubtless restore in a few years. On this subject Mr. TRUMBULL has always been less "liberal" than the President. He would not even vote for amnesty, on a recent occasion.

"Official corruption" is another party cry of the bolters. But the various investigations have not left "a shadow of a stain" on Gen. GRANT; and the corruptions unearthed have been such as have existed here from a time "whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." We rejoice at the investigations; we hope they will continue. The price of honesty is eternal vigilance. But we claim that they show nothing in favor of the new party, or against the old. Besides, a faction, headed in this City by Messrs. WALDO HUTCHINS and BENJAMIN MANIERRE, cannot expect their cries for official purity to be listened to seriously by citizens possessed of common sense. We hear, too, of "military domination," because the President sends his messages to the Senate by a military officer, his secretary! Must not the Cincinnati bolters be sorely distressed for points of attack, when they make so much of this purely imaginary and utterly ridiculous grievance? The country have known Gen. GRANT, and fully tested him. They can judge how rapacious his military ambition is, and how deep his plots to make himself a military chieftain on the ruins of the Republic!

We ask the honest men who anywhere support the new movement, what is there in this slender catalogue of political principles to justify the attempt to break up the Republican Party? Had they worked in our own ranks to bring about a new choice for President, their effort would have been perfectly legitimate. But to break ranks, to desert, to form new forces, and begin a campaign, where the only hope of success is alliance with the enemy—and where no principle is involved—is to incur a grave responsibility. Of course, every one understands that the only possible chance of victory for the Cincinnati movement is union with the Democrats. What will honest Republicans gain by that?

The Centennial.

Few anniversaries in modern times have been anticipated with as much interest as the Centennial in 1876. Although more than four years off, definite preparations for it have already been commenced. The place where it is to be held has been designated; and deliberations, not only as to the general arrangement, but many of the details, have for several months been actively going on.

Fairmount Park, in which this great festival is principally to be held, is a place singularly well adapted to such an occasion. It is certainly large enough, for it contains an area rather greater than is covered by all the part of Manhattan Island below Houston-street. But its size is not its only recommendation. It would be difficult to find another public inclosure of so much natural beauty near any large city in the world. We often see in individuals a disposition to be vain of things for which they are by no means remarkable, while they are exceedingly modest about those in which they really excel. What is true in this respect of individuals is equally so in regard to communities. A New-Yorker, for instance, will spend days in showing a stranger the "lions" of the City, and among them, perhaps, many things for which New-York is by no means particularly remarkable, but never think of taking him anywhere to get a good view of the harbor and shipping. What the harbor and shipping are to New-York, the exquisite beauty of the neighboring country is to Philadelphia; and of this, some of the finest portions are in Fairmount Park. Until within the last five or six years, the majority of Philadelphians were entirely unconscious that they had any country worth looking at around their city; but as they have bought the land of the Park, and are proceeding with commendable diligence to pay for it, the natural inquiry whether they have got their money's worth has elicited an answer which has awakened them to a sense of the value and beauty of their purchase.

We cannot say precisely what will be done at the Centennial, for the simple reason that we do not know. The Declaration of Independence will doubtless be read, and patriotic speeches—some of them good and some of them probably very poor—will be made. One of the principal features, and that which is likely to attract a larger number of persons than any other, will be a great industrial exhibition, designed to show the progress of society since 1776. It is proposed to erect fifty acres of temporary buildings in the Park, the greater part of which will undoubtedly be devoted to this exhibition. It is an interesting thought that a very large portion of what is thus exhibited will be things of which even the most intelligent and enterprising of our people, at the time of the Declaration of Independence, had not the faintest conception. We hope that those having charge of the exhibition will make it a point to have specimens of the machinery and other articles used by our forefathers placed in proximity to what is now employed. A few thousand, or even a few hundred, dollars spent in this way would add an exceedingly interesting feature to the celebration, and would afford a species of historical instruction of incalculable value, and one which, in some of its most important features, no books, however well written, could possibly impart.

The centennial will be, not only in its particular object but in its general idea, a peculiarly American festival. The great Powers of Europe have their anniversaries, but no one of them celebrates a particular day as the time when its national existence commenced. In no one could such a time be distinctly defined. In Russia, in France, in Austria and in Prussia, it would be scarcely possible to name the century—much less the year or the day—from which to date the origin of what constitutes their identity and separate existence. In Great Britain it would be equally difficult, for England was quite as truly England before as after the time of WILLIAM the Conqueror. But the single day on which the Declaration of Independence was signed, indicates to the American people with perfect distinctness, the point of time before which the United States were merely Colonies, and after which they were an independent nation.

We have suggested that measures should be taken at the Centennial to show in as striking a manner as possible the contrast between the state of the useful arts in the days of our forefathers and at the present day. Lest our vanity should be too greatly raised by this comparison, we would suggest another contrast, which we fear would be equally expressive, but far less gratifying. In some conspicuous place let there be portrayed by sign-painters of eminent skill, the names of the members of the Continental Congress in 1776, and close beside them the names of the Congressmen of 1876. We do not venture to predict what such a juxtaposition will show then, but—making all possible allowance for injustice to individuals occasioned by political prejudice, and giving full force and prominence to the integrity and high character of some of our national Senators and Representatives—the comparison, as things are now, would be far from a pleasant one. When the signers of the declaration of independence pledged their "sacred honor" to the cause, it was felt that these words had a most significant meaning. Without wishing to be sarcastic, we would inquire, as a simple, sober matter of fact, what would be the effect upon the public mind of a similar pledge, in regard to any object, by many of the members of our National Legislature at the present day? We ask the question. We do not wish to answer it. Unless we are greatly mistaken in our view of the subject, it is not an inquiry to which the reply is at all suggestive of pleasurable emotions to a citizen of the United States who loves to contemplate the improvement and progress of his country.

"Offices" and Principles.

Probably there is not among all the "sorehead" adherents of the Cincinnati movement a man who has done more to forfeit public respect than Senator REUBEN E. FENTON, and yet he has the boldness to claim that his conduct throughout has been marked by an entire absence of bitter feeling. In fact, he would have us believe that, from the day upon which he lost control of the Federal appointments in this State, down to the evening of the "great rally" at the Cooper Institute, he has devoted himself almost exclusively to the task of trying to heal the wounds of his disappointed followers, and to restore general harmony in the Republican ranks. He says it was for this laudable purpose that he allowed himself to be "accidentally" met in different parts of New-York State last year, to be serenaded by brass bands, and to be shaken by the hand, in that mute, sympathetic way which distinguishes political martyrs. One of the most sociable of the gatherings of this kind came off in July last at Niagara Falls. It was reported at the time, that the roar of the waters had soothed the excited feelings of the disappointed office-seekers so effectually, that they were enabled to listen to the counsel of their chief, without making any angry demonstrations.

"We must all," said Mr. FENTON to them, "feel the importance of a closer union, and a more determined effort, to the end that civil authority may be intrusted to those who will strive at all times to insure the full protection of the Constitution and the laws, and administer public affairs in the spirit and integrity of our free, popular Government. In preparation for duties so patriotic, it behooves Republicans everywhere, the highest official in the land, not less than the humblest member of the party, to act with magnanimity and generous regard for each other, and for all. We shall thus be prepared to subordinate all minor considerations, and present a united front in the contest before us." JOHN BUNYAN could not have given expression to a more delightful feeling of Christian charity. Then Mr. FENTON touched gently upon a few other points which were presumed to have an interest for his hearers, preparing their minds with as much care as a minister of the Gospel prepares a condemned murderer for "the last scene of all." Carrying out the idea that Government appointments were "minor considerations," the Senator went on to say: "It should be of little moment who occupy official positions, or enjoy the favor of Federal patronage, so that they are capable and honest men, who fairly and efficiently reflect the good faith and the sound principles of the party. It is to be hoped, however, that nothing growing out of this, or of other matters, will impair the zeal of any one for the success of Republican principles, and an earnest desire to co-operate with each other, and every member of the party, to attain it."

O'CONNELL, the great Irish political agitator, is said to have once incited a mob to nail the ears of an obnoxious opponent to a pump on the mere suggestion that they were not, under any circumstances, to be guilty of such a crime. Senator FENTON adopted a similar device when he counseled his lambs to be satisfied with the condition of things, and to work faithfully for the Republican Party. Then, again, he declared that he had no wish to give the nomination for President to "this or that particular control." "The suggestion," said he, "misconceives my feeling, however important my opinion and expression may be. I have no other wish than that the candidate should be the one who most fully embodies Republican principles, and is best capable of leading our forces to victory." Everybody knows that since the publication of the memorable speech from which we have made extracts, that Senator FENTON has done everything in his power to throw discredit upon the Administration of Gen. GRANT, and to show how thoroughly insincere he was when he claimed to be uninfluenced by the withdrawal from him of the Federal patronage. His advice to his followers to maintain a union of the party at all hazards, was a fit introduction to the letter which he sent to the motley faction which assembled at the Cooper Institute on the 12th inst. "I cannot be with you to-morrow night," said this sterling patriot, "but I deem it my duty to say that the movement for reform and purity of government in the State and nation, and also to secure at the head of affairs a Republican statesman, trained in Republican ideas, has my cordial sympathy. It is a necessity of the hour. I say this as a Republican, anxious for the success of honest government, and the revival of fraternal feeling throughout the country." Now, does any one suppose that Senator FENTON would have been so anxious for the revival of friendly feeling throughout the country if President GRANT had allowed him to feed his hungry followers at the expense of the nation, as he did at the expense of the State when he occupied the position of Governor? Is it not only too notorious, that the sole cause of discontent on the part of the Fenton-Greeley faction is, that they can get no more offices from the Administration?

The Dublin Difficulty.

In the heart of the City of Dublin, almost facing its old Parliament-house, stands a vast and stately pile inclosed within railings. Lounging about the entrance are some lazy-looking "loons" in black velvet hunting-caps. Enter, and you find a succession of spacious sombre courts. This is "Old Trinity," the single college forming Oxford and Cambridge's "silent sister," the University of Dublin. It was founded by Queen ELIZABETH. The famous CECIL, Lord BURGHLEY, being appointed first Chancellor, Her Majesty's Lord Deputy issued a "Queen's letter" begging her faithful subjects in Ireland to contribute to the best of their ability, and some moderate grants were made under her privy seal. JAMES I., who was pleased to regard himself as being more especially a patron of learning, bestowed further grants, payable out of forfeited estates, and a liberal pension, until, by various benefactions, and the increasing value of property, it has become one of the wealthiest educational societies in the world. The Provost, who has an entirely separate estate, which he manages himself, receives upward of fifteen thousand dollars—equivalent to forty-five thousand dollars in New-York—a year, besides being provided with a mansion more spacious than that of most noblemen. The Fellows receive incomes varying from fifteen hundred to eight thousand dollars a year, together with handsome, spacious suites of apartments. There is an immense professional staff, and everybody who is so fortunate as to be on the foundation is secure of being made financially comfortable. This institution was, no doubt, specially founded by a Protestant Queen as a Protestant bulwark, and through the various vicissitudes of three hundred years it has remained in this respect what its foundress contemplated. For a long time, only members of the Established Church were admitted, but at length the door was thrown open to other persuasions, and numbers of eminent Roman Catholics have there received their education. But, although admitted to degrees, they have never been permitted to taste the good things in the shape of Fellowships, Professorships, &c., nor to have any voice in the government of the College.

It is the object of Mr. FAWCETT'S bill to give them these advantages, and many might have supposed that such concessions, which have been cheerfully consented to by the present University authorities, would have been deemed satisfactory. But they are not. The Church of Rome is not, especially in Ireland, easily satisfied. It may be regarded as a gigantic hydra-headed Oliver Twist, ever clamoring for more, and unlike Mr. Bumbles' poor little victim, it generally gets it. Now it may appear strange that Mr. GLADSTONE should not agree with the liberal provisions of Mr. FAWCETT'S bill. In all likelihood he as a private individual does, but as a Minister it places him in a difficulty. The primary end and aim of Cardinal CULLEN is the separate system, and a Catholic university. Now Mr. FAWCETT'S bill cruelly robs the Cardinal's cry of its point. So long as Trinity denied its good things to Catholics, fair-minded people were compelled to admit there was some ground for the cry for a Catholic university; but under Mr. FAWCETT'S bill, what ground could there be, except the desire to foster that spirit of sectarianism and separation, in which Rome always takes delight? Mr. GLADSTONE may feel all this, but he also feels that the votes of Catholic members are as good as those of other men, and that his administration cannot at the present time well afford to run the risk of alienating them.

During his whole tenure of office, it has been a part of his policy to pay court to the Cardinal. When His Eminence has visited Lord SPENCER, it has been noticed that he has received extraordinary attentions. An aid-de-camp conducts him to his carriage, and he is treated with a degree of deference rarely paid by the Viceroy to a guest. As a return for the line taken by the Premier, the Cardinal has striven in many ways to support the Government; and it was no fault of his if the Kerry election went against it, and resulted in the return of a Home Rule candidate. The one "ticklish point" between the Cardinal and Downing-street has been separate education and a Catholic university. For months past the Roman Catholic Party have been vigorously agitating on this head, and now the tug of war appears to have come. Visions have been held out on the Tory side of a Catholic university being consented to if Trinity be let alone. Possibly, relying on such hopes, the Cardinal may determine to push matters to extremes. The position is critical.

A Want That Must be Met.

On the 1st of March Controller GREEN addressed a memorial to the Legislature setting forth the pressing financial necessities of the City. Its leading points were, briefly, as follows: For the expenditures of the current year, the various City Departments required the estimated sum of $14,648,004; the items of County expenditure amounted to $2,568,645, making a total of $17,216,649 necessary for the support of the City and County Government. The State tax for 1872, and the various debt charges which must be met, amount to $14,915,778; while the total of City and County revenues applicable to the payment of these expenses is estimated at two millions of dollars. The net amount to be raised by taxation in 1872 is thus $30,132,427. The actual requirements for current expenditures of 1871, exceeded this by seven and a half millions, or, including the revenue bonds matured on Jan. 15, 1872, but really chargeable to 1871, the payments on account of last year will exceed those required for this year, by nearly fourteen millions of dollars. It is quite probable, that under the operation of a Reform Charter, considerable reduction can be made on the estimated cost of running the Departments. As the saving can only be on the second half of the year, it can hardly form an element in the year's rate of taxation. Under the existing law that rate is two per cent., with an allowance for the progressive increase of the State tax. The gross yield of City taxes under the law would be $22,415,620, or $7,716,806 less than the sum actually required.

We may safely assume that the tax-payers are united in the opinion that, henceforth, the maxim in City business must be "pay as you go." Under the Two per Cent. Tax act this is, however, impossible, and its continued operation will only leave us at the end of 1872, some seven and three-quarter millions of dollars in arrears, just as it found us at the close of 1871, about twice that sum behind our obligations. The choice lies between two and three-quarters per cent. as the rate of taxation, or a continuance of the downward course toward municipal bankruptcy. Nobody wants to embrace the latter alternative, and there need, therefore, be no hesitation on the part of the Legislature in passing the bill now before it, prescribing the rate of local taxation required to meet our local expenditures. When it is remembered that the term of the present Board of Apportionment expires on Tuesday next, and that after that date, there will remain no constituted authority to supply funds for a single pay-roll, or to discharge a single claim against the City, not approved before that date, it becomes very obvious that the Legislature must act promptly, if it would save the affairs of New-York from coming to a dead lock. The new charter gives the Board of Aldermen the power of appropriating money for the various branches of local expenditures, and of levying the requisite assessments to meet them. But the new Board of Aldermen cannot, under the most favorable circumstances, be duly constituted till the third week in June. From two months of political chaos, the Legislature must do something to save the City, and that, too, in the course of the next two days.

MINOR TOPICS.

The telegrams about the Carlist rising in Spain possess an incoherency quite worthy of the current record of a first-class war. According to one account, the insurrectionary bands can be numbered by hundreds; according to another, they include at least ten thousand men. From one source there comes an account of a defeat, from another of a victory, and, by to-morrow, we shall probably hear that both are fictions. It only needs that the imaginative pen of "our own correspondent," writing thousands of miles from the scene of action, should be brought into play to give the Carlist rising a truly historical importance.

Le Messager Franco-Americain, one of the two French papers published in this City, seems to have a very clear comprehension of the nature of Mr. AUGUST BELMONT'S visit to Cincinnati, if we may judge from the following extract: "A dispatch from Cincinnati says that Mr. AUGUST BELMONT has arrived in that city. Now, we know that Mr. BELMONT is President of the Democratic National Committee. He went to the West under the pretext that he was going to shoot snipe on the borders of the Wabash, but in reality it was to manipulate the 'Liberal Republicans' of Indiana and Illinois, so that they might accept the Presidential candidate of his choice. Who is this candidate? It appears certain that it is Mr. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. We cannot doubt this fact, for the World is the principal organ of the party of which Mr. BELMONT is the chief, and the World declares that Mr. ADAMS' candidature would be acceptable to the whole Democratic Party. But Mr. ADAMS is absent, and Mr. TRUMBULL will have a chance to manœuvre for the gratification of his ambition. It is also probable that Mr. GREELEY and Mr. GRATZ BROWN will not remain disinterested spectators of the fight." How does this coincide with Mr. FENTON'S patriotism, his desire for the union of the Republican Party, and for the election to the office of Chief Magistrate of the nation "of a Republican statesman trained in Republican ideas?"

A Brooklyn Presbytery has adopted a memorial to be presented to the General Assembly, which asserts that the New Testament plainly forbids women to preach in churches. Perhaps it does, though the passages quoted in support of that view are held by many learned clergymen to be merely local and temporary in their application. The strict constructionists who signed the memorial, should, however, be consistent, and sign another memorial pointing out to the General Assembly the precepts of St. Paul which forbid women to wear gold ornaments, or to dress in whatever is the feminine substitute for purple and fine linen. These commands are at least as plain as those which forbid women to preach, and it is hardly fair to enforce one set of directions without enforcing the other.

No less than 891 people living at Tichborne, on a part of the Tichborne estates, have signed a petition asking that the Crown advance money to the claimant to assist him in his defense in his forthcoming trial. That nearly nine hundred of the Tichborne tenantry should thus openly side with the claimant, seems at first glance a proof that his pretensions are widely believed in. The fact, however, is susceptible of another and more probable explanation. The Tichborne tenants are probably discontented with their present landlord, and fancy that the fat, good-humored claimant will show them more favors than does the lawful owner. Their appeal in his behalf is thus nothing more than a "growl" at their landlord, instigated, perhaps, by the profuse promises of the claimant, to be fulfilled when he comes into possession of the estates.

A man named FRANKLIN, living in St. Louis, has sued for a divorce from his wife on account of her cruel conduct toward him. This amiable woman has stabbed her husband on four different occasions. She has repeatedly struck him with clubs, and has often seized him by the throat and beaten him with her fist. The reason of this peremptory course of treatment was not his drunkenness or unfaithfulness. On the contrary, the only charge that she makes against him is, that he would not vote as she wished him to. If this is the way in which strong-minded women attempt to influence their husbands' political views while they themselves are not yet in possession of the suffrage, what will they do when they are legal voters, and are entitled to hold office? If ever the women of St. Louis are permitted to vote, Mrs. FRANKLIN should be especially exempted. Imagination recoils from the idea of what that spirited woman would inflict upon her husband, if he refused to vote for her as Justice of the Peace.

The following, from the Chicago Post, is pointed enough to deserve reprinting:

> "Mr. GREELEY will be known to history as the great American co-operator. He co-operated with the South to dissolve the Union, with the rebels to win Bull Run, with LINCOLN to take Richmond, with CHASE to beat LINCOLN, with JEFF. DAVIS to escape punishment, with Tammany to save OAKEY HALL, with American manufacturers to secure protection, with the Free-traders to ruin American manufacturers, with the Republicans against TRUMBULL, with TRUMBULL against the Republicans. He is now co-operating with the Democrats to beat GRANT, and by July will probably be co-operating with GRANT to beat the Democrats."

And so is the following, from the Painted Post (N. Y.) Times:

> "A prominent farmer and politician from another town, last week called at the Post-office and wished the Postmaster to return his Weekly Tribune, and subscribed for the NEW-YORK TIMES. The Tribune list is one-half less this than last year at our office, and would be still less now, if the subscribers could make it so."

The Funeral of the Late William Wall.

The funeral of the late WILLIAM WALL took place at 12 o'clock, yesterday morning, from his residence, No. 292 Fifth-avenue. The services were opened by Rev. E. L. JAYNES with the reading of appropriate selections from the Scriptures. He then addressed the gathering on the career of the deceased gentleman, stating that Mr. WALL was characterized by rare business qualities, which insured his success in the mercantile world, and equally distinguished for his business integrity, in which the people showed their confidence by placing him in many positions of trust and responsibility. He recognized the claims of Christianity, and in early life built and sustained, for many years, Bushwick Episcopal Church. He also sustained the enterprise of the South Fifth-street Church, in Williamsburg. Only a few hours before his death he signed a check, and gave a donation to an old apprentice who came to see him. At the same time death was writing its signature on his brow. He (Mr. JAYNES) and the family knelt beside the bed to pray, and when they arose from their knees the spirit had passed away.

Rev. Dr. FOSS, of St. Paul's M. E. Church, made a brief address, in which he asked the earnest and sympathetic prayers of all present for the afflicted family.

The remains, enclosed in a casket, were then viewed for the last time by all present. The coffin plate bore the simple inscription: "WILLIAM WALL, born March 20, 1800, died April 20, 1872." The remains were then taken by the pall-bearers, Messrs. Richard S. Tucker, James Murphy, N. Briggs J. S. Burr, William K. Hinman, William Laytin, Richard Berry and Nicholas Wyckoff, to the hearse in waiting, and conveyed to Green-Wood Cemetry, where the burial service was read by Rev. Dr. PARTRIDGE, of Christ Church, Brooklyn, E. D.

Among the company present at the services were George Law, Rev. S. Malone, Thos. W. Truslow, Henry A. Lafetra, Wm. Duncan, Wm. Morgan, Daniel Maujer, S. M. Beard, Charles Egan, C. L. Fellows, Edmund Driggs, J. V. Meserole, Samuel Truslow, Watson Sanford, S. Austin, Frederick Hoeft, Charles Wilson, John Loughran, Wm. Morgan, and other well-known gentlemen.

Attempted Kidnaping in Brooklyn—A Father Endeavors to Gain Possession of his Child.

A few minutes before 7 o'clock last evening an exciting occurrence took place in Fulton-street, near Myrtle-avenue, arising from an effort of a man to gain possession of his little daughter. A man and woman named MCKENNA were passing on the sidewalk with a little girl about three years old, the child of their deceased daughter, the custody of which had been consigned to them by its mother before her death, when EDWARD KELLY, its father, suddenly seized the child, and with the aid of two companions endeavored to carry it away. One of KELLY'S party pretended to be a policeman in order to facilitate the attempted abduction. The old couple held fast to their charge and called loudly for assistance, and were almost immediately surrounded by a large crowd. All the parties in the dispute, including the frightened little one, were arrested, and upon their arrival at the Station-house Mr. MCKENNA preferred a complaint against KELLY and his two accomplices of an attempt to kidnap. They were locked up, and will be brought before a Magistrate this morning. KELLY'S friends gave their names as WM. A. TAYLOR, merchant, and TIMOTHY O'CONNOR, lawyer. KELLY has brought an action to recover the custody of his child, and pending the report of the referee, the Court ordered that it should remain with its grand parents.

MARYLAND.

Meeting of the Republican Convention—Delegates Elected to Philadelphia to Support Grant and Colfax.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BALTIMORE, April 24.—The Maryland Republican Convention, today, was fully representative of every county in the State, showing that the spirit of the party is alive and prepared to make a good fight next Fall. The Democratic legislation at the last session of the General Assembly was so infamous in many ways, men were bought and sold so like cattle, that thousands of Democrats are disgusted with their own party and its management, which has been growing worse since they recovered the control of the State, five years ago. Consequently, Republicans are hopeful of winning new converts, and this spirit was plainly shown in the Convention today. The proceedings were disorderly and confused, because of an effort made under the direction of the Postmaster and other office-holders to send a delegation to Philadelphia in favor of Senator WILSON for Vice-President. The majority of Maryland Republicans are strong for COLFAX, and they out-generaled the minority by successfully carrying out a movement to exclude office-holders from the Convention. A protest was presented against the admission of the Baltimore City delegation, charging that they were not regularly elected, which the Convention referred to the Committee on Credentials.

The Committee reported the delegation to be regularly elected, whereupon the factionists endeavored to incite a disturbance, which was quelled without any more serious result than a few bruised heads. The Convention elected delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, and adopted no platform, except instruction to them to vote for GRANT and COLFAX. If a Wilson delegation had been chosen, Postmaster-General CRESWELL would have received the complimentary first vote of the State for the Vice-Presidency.

The following delegates were appointed to the Philadelphia Convention:

At large—Hon. Jacob Tome, Hon. Thomas A. Spence, Hon. Daniel Weisel, C. C. Fulton. First District—Wm. H. Barton and Wm. Perkins. Second—John F. Ensor and Wm. L. W. Seabrook. Third—Robert Turner and Thomas Kelso. Fourth—Samuel M. Shoemaker and John M. McClintock. Fifth—James A. Gary and Alex. Randall. Sixth—John L. Linthicum and Hopewell Huff.

The following electors of President and Vice-President were appointed:

At large—Hon. Henry L. Stockbridge and James B. Bush.

First District—R. J. Jump; Second—S. P. Basley; Third—W. M. Marine; Fourth—Col. W. M. Saunders; Fifth—G. W. Sands; Sixth—C. Gilpin. F.

THE LIBERALS.

A Military Movement—Attempt to Drag Union Soldiers into the Liberal Party—How the Cincinnati Men are Working in the South.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The following interesting document was produced in this city a few days since. The attendant political god-fathers were Messrs. FENTON, TRUMBULL and SCHURZ:

THE ARLINGTON, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18, 1872.

DEAR SIR: The undersigned have conferred with many representative soldiers throughout the country, and find a general concurrence of opinion that the soldiers should raise their voice in protest against the further progress of the alarming disintegration of the Republican Party which has taken place under the Administration of Gen. GRANT. To effect this the names of representative soldiers in the several States who hold these views are desired for the purpose of being appended to a call for a soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention to be held in New-York City in May proximo, which Convention shall formally, by resolution or otherwise, call upon the Philadelphia Convention to nominate a candidate other than GRANT, and who will unite the party and lead it to victory. If you concur in this movement, please so inform us within a few days, and give us also the names of other representative veterans in your State which we may be at liberty to use likewise. Very respectfully, (signed,) H. A. BARNUM, New-York; JUDSON KILPATRICK, New-Jersey; W. F. BARTLETT, Massachusetts. Please address Gen. H. A. BARNUM, Hoffman House, New-York City.

Were it not known here that this bantling is fathered by the leaders of the Cincinnati movement, plenty of room would be given for its apparently legitimate party purpose. Gen. BARTLETT, who signs the above, as is well known, has already publicly pronounced for the Cincinnati Convention. Gen. BARNUM was here at the date of the letter, and after a conference with the Cincinnati leaders, announced his purpose to his friends of joining the movement, remarking, however, that he should not engage in it until after the Philadelphia Convention. He is commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the State of New-York, and has many friends in and out of its ranks who deeply regret his proposed affiliations, and who have always hoped that his magnanimity and bravery as a soldier would prove superior to his feelings of resentment. He now seems disposed to place himself in a position where his best friends cannot help him if they would. Gen. KILPATRICK wrote here several weeks ago, declaring his intentions to oppose GRANT.

Considerable light is thrown upon the manipulation of the Liberal movement in the South by the following letter from a prominent German resident of Alabama, received here today. It is a fair sample of the so-called distinctively Republican auspices under which the Cincinnati leaders are operating:

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 18, 1872.

Today I was waited upon and urged to take part in the Cincinnati Convention by a committee of gentlemen, one of whom, I regret to state, was a warm personal friend of long years' standing. On my declining most positively and emphatically to do so, they requested me to consider the interview as strictly confidential, which I promised so far as their names were involved, reserving the right to make such use as I chose of the information imparted concerning the plan proposed to be carried out in Alabama by the men who have been designated to work up the Cincinnati movement in this State. The son of the late Confederate General, STERLING PRICE, a right-hand man of Gov. GRATZ BROWN, of Missouri, is traveling all over our State, nominally as an unassuming commission merchant from St. Louis, on business. His real business is to present letters from leading Democrats at the North to prominent Democrats here, assuring them that the northern Democracy will certainly support the Cincinnati nominee, and imploring the Southern Democracy to unite with them in the common purpose to defeat the nominee of the Philadelphia Convention. He has also credentials from the leading Liberal Reform Republicans to influence all Liberals here to join in the movement and go to Cincinnati. The wish is that prominent and obnoxious Democrats shall keep in the back-ground for the present, and that only such as have heretofore acted with the Republican Party shall come to the front until after the election, while the Democrats are assured that no disintegration of their party is intended, but that it shall remain intact, and control the administration to be created. For the purpose of calming the apprehensions of timid Republicans, PRICE assures all that CHARLES SUMNER will have appointments all over the South to address the colored men in favor of the Cincinnati nominee. Since PRICE's visit to Alabama, some of our Republicans in Mobile who were on the fence have gone over and joined the Liberal Reformers, and will represent the State at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI.

Indifference of the People to the Convention—Various Head-Quarters.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CINCINNATI, April 24.—There does not seem any chance whatever for the fusion of the discordant elements about to assemble. So far as the soreheads or Liberal Republicans are concerned, they may succeed in effecting an apparent pacification among themselves, by nominating candidates without any platform, but this course will not satisfy the Democrats, or such Republicans as have cast their lot with the Reunion and Reform Association. The programme for the latter is to meet in a mass convention at Mozart Hall on Wednesday, at the same time the Liberals meet at Exposition Hall, and await the action of the latter as to the candidates. The Union and Reform Party will take these candidates and place them on their platform, the leading feature of which is that the only legitimate purpose of a tariff is to provide necessary revenue. If the Liberal candidates consent to stand squarely on this doctrine, they will be supported by its advocates; but if they decline or equivocate, they will not be upheld. Prominent members of this Reunion and Reform Association declare that they are not engaged in work of any kind to beat GRANT, but are engaged in battling for principles, and have no sympathy with those soreheads who seem to be coming here to devise some way to get into office. They believe that in ADAMS, GROESBECK and Free Trade they can be successful and have a solid foundation for their administration when elected; but to put up men who cannot secure Democratic support, or to place them before the people without a declaration against protection, they believe to be the silliest farce sensible men ever engaged in. As the day for the Convention draws nearer, the discordant character of the materials of which it is to be composed becomes more apparent. The Volksfreund, speaking for the German Democrats, has these remarkable utterances concerning the material of which the Liberal Convention is to be composed:

"There are many used-up politicians, who, having made shipwreck in one or the other of the political parties, are anxious for new combinations and a new party organizations, in the hope of finding ways and means for satisfying their ambition or their greed. On the 1st of May Cincinnati will swarm with people who have proved a nuisance in the Democratic and Republican Parties. It will be full of people who hate GRANT simply because he refused them offices or would not give them an opportunity of stealing, or took office and opportunity from them. There are also plenty of Democrats whose stubborn Bourbonism has made them unpopular in their own party and unavailable as candidates. This is the class of politicians who, when they find themselves stranded, are prone to take big leaps."

Such talk as this, supplemented with strenuous declarations of many of the sorehead Republicans that they will have no Democracy about the thing, and that of the Democrats that they cannot be expected to surrender their party to a handful of malcontents, shows how incongruous a multitude is swarming here on half fare. Preparations for quartering these crowds are progressing to some extent, but as citizens have thus far subscribed only $2,500, not much has been done. It is evident that every effort has been put forth to cram this city with strangers next week, and the leaders not being particular who comes, provided they have somebody, thousands will indulge in the frolic at reduced rates who will have no sympathy whatever with the movements. As yet none of the leaders have appeared, but many are expected before the end of the week. GRATZ BROWN comes to-morrow, and by Friday the Missouri Liberal Republican Committee, with GROSVENOR and PULITZER, will be in constant session. They are unanimously for BROWN, for whom several hundred Missouri Democrats transformed into Republicans, for this occasion only, will yell vociferously about the streets. SCHURZ comes on Saturday. The only original soreheads hope to reap this political harvest by right of priority. Delegations from other States are not expected in force until Monday night or Tuesday morning. The head-quarters have already been selected in many cases, several being in Mozart Hall building, where New-York has room No. 15, Ohio No. 18, Kentucky No. 3; Missouri at St. James; Illinois, Greenwood Hall; Indiana, Mechanics' Institute; Iowa, Day's Hall; Kansas, Galt House; Minnesota, Walnut-street House, and Pennsylvania at Gibson House. People calling themselves delegates from these and all other States must sleep and eat as best they can, and most dilapidated crowds will depart by Saturday of next week, which they are sure to do, as nearly all half-fare tickets are worthless after that day. Most of the leading soreheads from all the States have engaged quarters at the Burnet House, which has steadily refused delegations en masse, and engaged its parlors and bedrooms as they were written or telegraphed for. The Missouri Committee, now known as the "Bill and Joe," meet here, where the New-York Tribune has also engaged parlors.

The general head-quarters for the arrangements of the Convention will be at room No. 9 Mozart building, where a Committee of Reception and Arrangements is now in session daily. Exposition Hall has been prepared to seat about 7,000 persons, and badges will be furnished for admission during the session. The hall is on Elm and Fourteenth streets, several blocks from all hotels, and, not being accessible by street-cars, the hackmen are delighted with the prospects of a rich harvest, but they have promised the Committee to carry all passengers at twenty-five cents each. So far there is no threat of swindling except by managing soreheads, who, it is rumored, are to get things cut out to their satisfaction in secret conclaves on Monday and Tuesday, and leave the mass they have invited here to nominate a President, the form of ratifying their arrangements on Wednesday in open Convention. The prospect is that the body will be in session not more than two days at most, unless the mass rebels and upsets the plans of the self-constituted leaders, as may very likely prove the case, the whole thing being nothing but a scramble for spoils. Each faction of Liberals will be apt to want everything and give nothing. Even sorehead leaders, with their marvelous capacity for making white seem black, will find it difficult to fuse these factions to their liking. E. C.

Letter from Hon. Charles Francis Adams—Conditions Under Which He Will Accept the Nomination.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 24.—The Republican of to-morrow morning will contain the following: "CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS in relation to the Cincinnati Convention."

BOSTON, April 18, 1872.

MY DEAR MR. WELLES: I have received your letter and will answer it frankly. I do not want the nomination, and could only be induced to consider it by the circumstances under which it might possibly be made. If the call upon me were an unequivocal one, based upon confidence in my character earned in public life, and a belief that I would carry out in practice the principles which I professed, then, indeed, would come a test of my courage in an emergency; but if I am to be negotiated for, and have assurances given that I am honest, you will be so kind as to draw me out of that crowd. With regard to what I understand to be the declaration of principles which has been made, it would be ridiculous in me to stand haggling over them. With a single exception of ambiguity, I see nothing which any honest Republican or Democrat would not accept. Indeed, I should wonder at any one who denied them. The difficulty is not in the professions. It lies everywhere only in the manner in which they are carried into practice. If I have succeeded in making myself understood, you will perceive that I can give no authority to any one to act or to speak for me in the premises. I never had a moment's belief that when it came to the point, any one so entirely isolated as I am from all political associations of any kind, could be made acceptable as a candidate for public office; but I am so unlucky as to value that independence more highly than the elevation which is brought by a sacrifice of it. This is not inconsistent with the sense of grateful recognition of the very flattering estimates made of my services in many and high quarters, but I cannot consent to peddle with them for power. If the good people who meet at Cincinnati really believe that they need such an anomalous being as I am (which I do not,) they must express it in a manner to convince me of it, or all their labor will be thrown away.

I am, with great respect, yours, &c.,
CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

DAVID A. WELLES, Esq., Norwich, Conn.

Fernando Wood Makes a Statement for the Democratic Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Referring to the dispatch in the newspapers that AUGUST BELMONT was at Cincinnati urging the nomination of CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS as candidate for President before the Convention to assemble there next week, giving assurance that Mr. ADAMS would receive the Democratic support, Hon. FERNANDO WOOD, Chairman of the joint caucus of Democratic Senators and Representatives, is authority for saying that there are no Democrats in Congress in favor of Mr. ADAMS, and that, in his opinion, it is quite certain that the Democratic National Convention will nominate another ticket if Mr. ADAMS shall be chosen at Cincinnati.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The opposing candidates for Congress in Oregon are stumping the State together.

Dr. C. B. PURVIS, who has been claimed as intending to go up to Cincinnati, also indignantly denies the statement.

The Chicago Times thinks that CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS would not stand "the ghost of a chance to beat GRANT."

The Boston Journal calls for the repeal of the war taxes on incomes, gas, checks, deeds and leases, and of the war duties on imports.

Gen. ALLAN RUTHERFORD, Third Auditor of the Treasury, is prominent as a candidate for Congress in the Third District of North Carolina.

They have discovered one Cincinnati man down in Maine. He was an Internal Revenue Collector until removed by GRANT. Hence his tears.

The Republicans of the Fifth District of Maine will hold a convention in Bangor, on Monday, May 15, to elect two delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.

The Harrisburg Journal says that never before have the Republicans of Pennsylvania more spiritedly begun organizing for a great election contest.

Gov. JEWELL, of Connecticut, has invited all the other Governors of New-England to be present at the inauguration ceremonies in New-Haven next Wednesday.

JOHN G. THOMPSON, the Ohio member of the Democratic National Committee, insists upon a straight-out party ticket, no matter what the Cincinnati Convention may do.

Only two of the thirty-three signers of the Liberal Republican call in Indiana have much influence, and one of these was ANDREW JOHNSON's Minister to Venezuela.

Ex-Congressman GEORGE W. JULIAN, of Indiana, who was not permitted to continue the distribution of patronage in his district, has jumped into the Cincinnati boat.

The Baltimore American has yet to hear the first person named in connection with the Liberal movement in Maryland who has voted with the party for three years, and who has not an "ex" to his name.

The Chicago Tribune's efforts in behalf of Cincinnati are at last supplemented by one other Republican paper in Illinois—the Watseka Times. Perhaps somebody may have heard of that paper before.

Republican conventions to nominate Congressmen are to be held in North Carolina as follows: First District, in Plymouth, May 23; Third District, in Canton, June 19; Fourth District, in Franklinton, May 15.

Papers and politicians who are very much opposed to any mention of Gen. GRANT's military achievements, are very fond of harping upon the anti-slavery work of some of the "Liberal Republicans" who are "going to Cincinnati."

Miss ELLEN F. STARBUCK, of Massachusetts, who has been confidential clerk to Govs. ANDREW, BULLOCK and CLAFLIN, and for a year chief clerk of the Executive Department of that State, has resigned on account of ill-health.

Congressman H. BOARDMAN SMITH, of the Elmira District, says he intended that his name should be added to the telegram to the Cooper Institute meeting, and he adds: "My position is not equivocal. I am for GRANT, and none other."

The New-Haven Journal does not think the parade of names of those favorable to Cincinnati very formidable, and says that, aside from Gov. FOSTER, the whole batch who lead off for Connecticut would not seriously disturb the serenity of a village caucus.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS believes that the great mistakes which the Democracy have heretofore made, have been in following the counsels of timid or unsafe leaders in their "departure" from the ever-living principles of their creed, as announced by JEFFERSON.

The four surviving Republican Senators who voted against the deposition of ANDREW JOHNSON when impeached, are supporters of the Cincinnati movement, and therefore are now lauded as patriots, &c., &c., by the Tribune. It was not always thus.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that two weeks ago, when Gov. PALMER was a candidate for re-election, he stated that GRANT would carry Illinois by 30,000 majority against DAVIS, who is considered the strongest man that could be pitted against him in Illinois. Ten days ago he proposed to stump the State for GRANT.

The Missouri Woman Suffrage Association, at its late meeting, declared, by resolution, that the course of a portion of the public Press, in seeking to identify the woman suffrage movement with certain persons holding obnoxious social views, is a violation of the plainest principles of truth and fair dealing.

The Postmaster of St. Anthony, Minn., has lost his office through a forged resignation received at the Department in Washington. His successor was appointed before it was learned that the resignation was bogus. A Territorial Governor lost his office not long since in the same way.

Speaking of Superintendent MILLER, the Troy Times says: "Perhaps the Legislature will maintain that the charges and the proofs are insufficient to warrant the removal of the depredating official. But the people who are not in the Legislature are of another mind in regard to the case."

ELIHU BURRITT has written to Congressman PETERS, approving of his resolutions respecting the consequential claims, and expressing the opinion that it is not going too far to say that the whole thinking mind of this country regard them as fictitious, groundless and hopeless.

The Columbia Union says that not a solitary member of the South Carolina delegation to Philadelphia could have secured a half-dozen votes in the State Convention had he manifested the slightest opposition to the nomination of President GRANT. It adds that the Republican Party of the State is today a unit in his favor.

Persons not Principles.

From Harper's Weekly.

The Presidential campaign has opened before the nominations have been made. The two great meetings in New-York show how fully the public mind is aroused, and there is no doubt that the canvass will be loud and exciting. If it is also peculiarly personal in its character, they must bear the responsibility who have chosen to make it so. They must be held to account who, while declaring that the supremacy of Republican principles is of paramount importance, have undertaken to destroy the party upon grounds of personal preference. "Why does not Gen. GRANT withdraw, and give peace to the party?" ask those who are opposed to him. Because he is the choice of the overwhelming majority of the party; and those who prefer some other candidate have no more right to ask or expect his withdrawal than they would have had to ask or expect that of Mr. LINCOLN, to whose renomination many of these gentlemen were hostile. Indeed, there is a letter signed by several of the Cincinnati gentlemen, which was addressed to Mr. LINCOLN in 1864, after his renomination, suggesting that he should withdraw. They were certainly poor counselors then, and they are no wiser or more reasonable now.

They have chosen, we say, to make a campaign upon a personal issue. They do not complain of Republican principles; they concede the necessity of maintaining Republican ascendency, but they do not like Gen. GRANT. The debt is diminished—but they do not like Gen. GRANT! Taxes are reduced, and there is greater honesty and economy in their collection—but Gen. GRANT! The Indian policy is Christian and sagacious—but Gen. GRANT! Our foreign relations are honorably and peacefully directed—but Gen. GRANT! Industry revives, confidence is restored, there is a deep and general feeling of stability—but Gen. GRANT! The country acquiesces in the settlements of the war; the Democratic Party is in despair, and sees no hope either in the active or passive mood; it is dissolving if Cincinnati does not try to save it—but Gen. GRANT! Gen. GRANT! We all remember the war, and the wit of the good LINCOLN. Victory after victory lighted upon the banner of Gen. GRANT. "But he's an awful whiskey-drinker," said somebody to Mr. LINCOLN. "I wish you'd tell me the brand, and I'll send a demijohn to every General in the army," replied the President, with twinkling eyes. And as the country sees the unquestionably good results of Gen. GRANT's Administration, yet hears that he is corrupt, ignorant and weak, it replies with a smile that it is astonishing how well corruption, ignorance and weakness administer the Government! LINCOLN did not believe the whisky story, and the country does not believe the corruption story.

The position of the Republican opponents of Gen. GRANT would be more reasonable if they would say frankly that they think his renomination would justify the formation of a new party, and that a new party, mainly composed of Democrats, would offer a fairer chance of pure and honest administration. This would not only be more candid, but it would be more conclusive, because it would show to the country unmistakably the necessary tendency of the Cincinnati movement. Even the Tribune says: "If the Democratic Party, untaught by disaster, should insist on fighting over again the struggles of 1860, 1864, 1868, of course the Republicans must stand to their arms and fall into line. But of this there is no more prospect than of refighting the battle of Bunker Hill." But if within less than ten years after the battle of Bunker Hill the Sons of Liberty had been invited to desert their own friends and organization in order to unite with the Tories and red-coats in obtaining possession of the new Government, on condition that the Tories and red-coats could make up their minds to acknowledge American independence, the Sons of Liberty would have laughed their exhorters to scorn. And when a tribune of the people today tells Republicans that, to secure the ascendency of Republican principles, he is willing to break up his party and unite with Democrats, provided they will agree to hold their tongues about repudiation, State sovereignty and equal rights, he will find himself, as he should, a tribune without people.

If the Cincinnati assembly proposes to form a new party, the New-York meeting, as we show elsewhere, was not an act of adhesion, for it declared itself Republican. If it does not mean to form a new party, upon what ground does it expect support from the Democrats? What difference can it possibly make to the Democratic Party, as such, who is the head of a Republican Administration? But if Cincinnati does not expect the support of Democrats, its action can only divide the Republicans and tend to Democratic success. Thus the movement offers no positive probability except the defeat of the Republican Party. But is that in itself so desirable a result? If there have been mistakes of administration, is that the way to correct them? On the other hand, if the party deserves defeat, why insist upon the paramount importance of Republican ascendency?

A personal campaign is repulsive to those who prefer in political discussions to subordinate persons to principles. But those who say that if Gen. GRANT would withdraw he would give peace to the party confess that their dissatisfaction is wholly personal, and invite a campaign the character of which will show that there is no real reason for a change.

Italian Opera.

"WILLIAM TELL" AT THE ACADEMY.

A respectable, we wish we could conscientiously say, a great performance, of "William Tell" was heard last night at the Academy. Yet a respectable performance of ROSSINI's masterpiece is in one sense great, and we certainly have never heard such an one here before. When the opera was sung last season in the same walls, the singular effect produced by LEFRANC in Arnoldo gave interest to a recital otherwise offensively ragged and paltry. The great trio in the second act was respectably sung, and the tenor named carried his great songs of love and war with much power and feeling. Most of the rest of the work was, however, beneath criticism, and the spectacular parts were even worse than the choruses. It should be said at once that the anxious effort that has characterized the whole of Mr. ROSA's management was not wanting in the preparation of "William Tell." With a really first-rate baritone, tenor and soprano, inferior basses may perhaps be forgiven, and there were last night some features of peculiar and even unexpected excellence. Those, for example, who have been accustomed to hear the pretty part of the Fisherman butchered were agreeably surprised to find so good a tenor as Mr. TOM KARL singing the part. Mr. KARL seemed a trifle hoarse, but sang the charming aria at the beginning firmly and sweetly. The following quartet, sung by Tell, (Mr. SANTLEY,) Arnoldo, (Mr. WACHTEL,) Jemmy, (Miss DORIA,) and Hedwig, (Mrs. SCHOFIELD,) was evenly rendered, and the subsequent sextet was better. Mr. WACHTEL went through the two arias which typify the characteristic struggle of Arnoldo's mind with his usual force, style and precision. He did not, however, succeed in warming up his public. The "Ah Mathilde," was less passionate than that of LEFRANC, but the succeeding air was more vigorous and martial. To our surprise, the splendid duet between Tell and Arnoldo, that comes after evoked no enthusiasm, although powerfully rendered, and the concluding chorus of the first act fell rather flatly. Mme. PAREPA-ROSA came to the rescue in her customary finished style, and sang the beautiful air opening act second so admirably as to win the first encore of the evening. The tenor and soprano duet succeeding was attacked by the lady and Mr. WACHTEL with fire and delicacy, and was warmly applauded. Mr. WACHTEL, Mr. COOK and Mr. SANTLEY then essayed the terrific trio, so often omitted, but made a feature of on previous representations. We cannot assert that the basso was altogether equal to the occasion, but the baritone, on whom so much depends, was so much finer than has been listened to here in the number before that the effect was capital. Here again, however, the recollection of LEFRANC worked slightly to Mr. WACHTEL's disadvantage. There is not the least question about the latter's superiority, taken as a whole, in Arnoldo; but the French singer was the better in certain isolated passages. Great pains were taken to do justice to the critical "Mustering of the Cantons," and the result was passably smooth. The intention of the composer is notwithstanding so grand, that defect of execution is always in this scene painfully conspicuous, and what was done last night was far from perfect. Still, we must go back to the old story, and consider the performance in its relative rather than in its positive aspects. It was far in advance of what New-York has been favored with before, and Mr. ROSA deserves full credit for doing his best with the available material.

The orchestra of the occasion, barring the lack of strings, was well up to its duty under the baton of Mr. NEUENDORFF, and the overture was given with tolerable smartness and precision. In the final acts the concerted music was treated with rather more fervor and rather less exactness than at first, and the principals sang with greater enthusiasm. At the close of act third the latter were summoned before the curtain—an event that had not occurred before—and the audience, which had before been coldly critical, thenceforward became more demonstrative. In DUPREZ's famous battle-horse in the fourth act, wherein "Suivez Moi" becomes "Ah, non mi abbandonar," Mr. WACHTEL created much more sensation than his predecessor, and altogether this act surpassed former local interpretations of it. The house, it is hardly necessary to say, was crowded to excess, and it is perhaps a pity that the termination of the season will render a repetition of "William Tell," with this company, impossible. With all due allowance for shortcomings, the performance of last night has certainly not been equaled here before.

Musical.

MR. BERGNER'S CONCERT.

Mr. F. BERGNER, the well-known violoncellist, will give his annual concert, at Steinway Hall, this evening. He will have the co-operation of Miss ANNA SIMON, of Messrs. S. B. MILLS, G. MATZKA and F. KAEMMERER, and of Dr. DAMROSCH.

CONCERT OF WELCOME.

FRANZ ABT, a composer of vocal music, whose works are known the world over, sailed for the United States from Bremen on the steamship Rhein, Saturday last. His arrival in this City may be expected to-morrow week, and on May 18 the Liederkranz Society will greet him, as an honorary member, with a concert to occur at Steinway Hall.

Dramatic.

FRENCH PLAYS.

On Saturday evening next an entertainment, to include a French play, and recitations and musical performances, will be given for the benefit of M. A. A. FAVARGER, at the Union League Theatre. A recital of "Le Cachemire Vert," by M. JUIGNET and Mlle. CAVE, the delivery of several poems by M. FAVARGER, singing by M. LEONI BERTHELOT and Miss NININGER, and instrumental music by Señores RAMIREZ and MARTIN, are among the announced attractions.

AFFAIRS AT NIBLO'S.

On Tuesday evening Mr. J. K. MORTIMER did not fill the part intrusted to him on the previous evening in "Black Friday," and Mr. C. R. THORNE, Jr., declined to assume the rôle of Rob King, sustained by him on Monday. Mr. THORNE, in a communication addressed to the management of Niblo's Theatre, and received at this office too late for publication in yesterday's issue, says: "I decline to play any part, the impersonation of which might imperil a fellow-creature's life."

Lecture at Cooper Institute for the Benefit of the Westfield Sufferers.

Mrs. ELEANOR FLETCHER-BISHOP last evening depicted the sufferings of the victims of the Westfield disaster. After stating that she was not influenced by either political fear or favor, but should unflinchingly tear away the 'vail from Bellevue, she gave a synopsis of its daily and weekly expenses, which was not at all commensurate with the amount of money supposed to have been used in that hospital. She severely censured the voters of the City for allowing such remiss officials to continue in power, and closed her discourse with a display of "curiosities" which she had secured from Bellevue, and remarked that the remainder of her life should be devoted to the service of the poor. An enthusiastic gentleman proposed a vote of thanks to the lecturer, which the audience good-naturedly responded to.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE....WASHINGTON, Wednesday, April 24.

Mr. MORTON, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, reported that the Committee had examined Mr. RANSOM's credentials as Senator from North Carolina, and had found them correct, and therefore recommended that he be admitted to his seat. No objection being made, Mr. RANSOM came forward and was sworn in.

Mr. A. G. THURMAN said that now, for the first time since 1861, every seat was filled and every State represented, a fact upon which the Senate and the country might well congratulate themselves.

Mr. MORTON also reported a resolution giving Mr. ABBOTT, contestant for the North Carolina Senatorship, the salary of that office from March 4, 1871, to April 23, 1872, and one mileage each way. Agreed to.

LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATIONS.

The Legislative Appropriation bill was reported by the Conference Committee and recommitted, new matter having been inserted in it.

PROTECTION OF SEAMEN.

Mr. BUCKINGHAM, from the Committee on Commerce, reported, with amendments, the House bill for the protection of seamen, by the appointment of Shipping Commissioners, &c. The amendments, among other things, provide that the twelfth and thirty-fifth sections, relating to the contracts with and the payment of seamen, shall not apply to masters and owners of any vessels where the seamen are entitled to share in the profits of the voyage, nor to coasting and lake vessels that touch at foreign ports.

THE SENATE TEA AND COFFEE BILL.

The report of the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee on the House resolution declaring that the substitution by the Senate of its bill to reduce the existing taxes for the House bill repealing the duties on tea and coffee was unconstitutional, and notifying the Senate that the same had been laid on the table, presents an extended argument on the clause of the Constitution which reads, "All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as in other bills."

After discussing the scope of the word "amendments," the Committee call attention to the fact that the language of the Constitution is not that all bills affecting revenue shall originate in the House, but that all bills for raising revenue shall so originate; and then proceed to discuss the question, "What is a bill for raising revenue?" taking the ground that a bill for raising revenue may be a bill to increase or diminish the existing rates. This view is sustained by reference to the constitutional provision that Congress shall have power "to raise and support armies," and the parliamentary expression that a committee was raised for a certain purpose, &c. In these instances it is evident that raising is not used in the sense of increasing. Under the constitutional provision empowering Congress to raise armies, it may diminish as well as increase an army. To raise an army is to establish or create an army; so a bill for raising revenue may be a bill to increase or diminish the existing rates. Suppose, says the report, that an existing law lays a duty of fifty per cent. upon iron, a bill repealing such law and providing that after a certain day the duty on iron shall be only forty per cent. is still a bill for raising revenue, because that is the end in contemplation. Less revenue will be raised than under the former law, still it is intended to raise revenue, and such bill could not constitutionally originate in the Senate, nor could such provisions be engrafted by way of amendment in the Senate upon any House bill which did not provide for raising, that is, collecting a revenue.

The report then shows that the House bill totally abolishing the duties on tea and coffee cannot be termed or considered a bill for raising revenue.

After further argument on the point that the Senate is not prohibited from originating bills that merely affect the revenue, but only bills that raise a revenue, the Committee on Privileges and Elections, reporting through Senator CARPENTER, come to the following conclusion:

Your Committee are therefore of the opinion that the House bill under consideration was not a bill for raising revenue within the meaning of the Constitution, and therefore, while the Senate might have amended it so as to abolish duties altogether upon other articles, the Senate had no right to engraft it, as it did, in substance with an amendment providing that revenue should be collected upon other articles, though at a less rate than previously fixed by law. That amendment would have become a provision in the act for raising a revenue, because a revenue at a certain rate would have been collected by the operation of the act. It is due, however, to the Senate to say that its departure from the true principle in this case was owing to a desire to conform to the views of the House of Representatives, as expressed by the House in relation to the Senate bill abolishing the tax upon incomes, and thus to preserve harmony between the two Houses; but since the House of Representatives, exalting its prerogative, asserts upon one occasion what it denies upon another, it has become necessary to review in the light of principle, and seek for a solution of the difficulty in conformity with the Constitution, to which, it is hoped, the House will assent, and to which it is the duty of the Senate to adhere, whether the House shall assent or dissent. Your Committee recommend that the Senate adopt the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be and he is hereby directed to deliver a copy of this report to the House of Representatives.

DEFICIENCIES.

The Deficiency bill was then taken up, the pending question being on Mr. BAYARD's motion to lay on the table the amendment of Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, restricting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims in suits for the value of captured and abandoned property to cases commenced within two years after the suppression of the rebellion, and in which the claimants prove that they never gave aid or comfort to the rebellion. The vote was—yeas 25, nays 25. The Vice-President voted in the negative, so the motion was lost.

The question then recurred on the amendment.

Mr. ALCORN moved the following amendment to the pending amendment:

Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not extend to claims for property seized or taken by the military forces of the United States, or any officer of the same, or seized, taken or impressed by any agent or agents of the United States Government at any time after the proclamation by the President declaring the war to have ceased; but claims for property so seized or taken may be prosecuted before the Court of Claims by any citizen of the United States at any time within twelve months from the approval of this act.

Mr. AMES, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill to repeal so much of section 6 of the Army Appropriation act of 1869 as prohibits promotions in the staff department of the army, with the proviso that nothing herein shall authorize new appointments to places made vacant by promotions under this act.

At 4½ P. M. the Senate went into Executive Session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

A report from the Committee on Printing recommending the publication of 10,500 copies of the American case presented to the Geneva Arbitration, produced a considerable stir in the House, Messrs. BROOKS and COX and others asking questions and making suggestions.

The substitute, to print 10,500 copies, was rejected, and the original Senate resolution to print 21,000 copies was agreed to.

Mr. BANKS gave notice that as soon as the counter-case was received from the printer, he would offer a resolution to print extra copies.

TARIFF.

Mr. DAWES gave notice that he would move, at the first opportunity, to take up the Tariff bill, and that he would object to everything else that was not in order.

YERBA BUENA.

The House then took up the Yerba Buena or Goat Island bill.

Mr. HOLMAN desired to offer an amendment to it fixing the minimum rate which the Government should receive, but Mr. WHEELER refused to admit it.

Mr. KILLINGER moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived—yeas 79, nays 96.

Mr. HOLMAN's first amendment requiring the minimum annual rental of $50,000 was rejected—yeas 86, nays 93.

Mr. HOLMAN's second amendment, requiring the Company to refund the interest paid on its bonds, was also rejected—yeas 79, nays 92.

EXPENSES OF A CONTEST.

A resolution to pay to Mr. GOODING, the unsuccessful contestant of the seat of Mr. WILSON, of Indiana, $3,080 for his expenses, was offered and agreed to.

DR. HOUARD.

Mr. BANKS called up the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the case of Dr. HOUARD, with resolutions thereon as follows:

Whereas, Dr. JOHN EMILIO HOUARD has, after one year's imprisonment and trial by a military Court-martial, been convicted of complicity in an insurrection against the Spanish Government in the Island of Cuba; and upon said conviction has been transported to a penal colony of Spain for the term of eight years; from which conviction, sentence and punishment he appeals for protection to the Government of the United States; and

Whereas, It appears, First, that the said Dr. HOUARD was a native-born citizen of the United States. Second, that he never renounced his allegiance as such citizen, but, on the contrary, has claimed to be, and has been enrolled by the officers of the Government of the United States as a citizen of the United States. Third, that it is not shown by any form of proof that he ever became, by any act, a subject or citizen of the Government of Spain; and

Whereas, It further appears that his trial, sentence and punishment have been in disregard and violation of his undoubted rights as a citizen of the United States under the Constitution and laws thereof, and the Treaty of Oct. 27, 1795, between the United States and Spain; therefore, be it,

Resolved, That, in the judgment of this House, the said JOHN EMILIO HOUARD was and is a citizen of the United States by birth and continued and uninterrupted choice, and as such is entitled to all and every protection from this Government, and in the opinion of this House, the President should promptly demand his unconditional release, and the restoration of his property, which has been confiscated to the use of the Spanish Government.

Mr. BANKS stated the facts, claiming that Dr. HOUARD was an American citizen, and that he should be tried before a Court of law on any charge preferred against him, and not by a military Court-martial.

Mr. JERRY, of Ohio, inquired whether it was not incumbent on those who claimed that HOUARD was not a Spanish subject, after residing in Cuba continuously for twenty-eight years, to show that fact.

Mr. BANKS replied that the Spanish Government was bound to show that the man was subject to its law. The Committee claimed that Dr. HOUARD, having been domiciled there, would be obliged to obey the laws of the Spanish Government in the Island of Cuba, and was liable to punishment if he did not; but he had a right to be tried by a judicial tribunal and not by a military Court, but he had been so tried in a time of profound peace, when there was no necessity for resorting to that tribunal.

A member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs argued against the resolution. The question was whether Dr. HOUARD at the time of his seizure by the Spanish Government, was a citizen of the United States. If he was, then he conceded that there had been a violation of his rights as a citizen in the matter of his trial, and that the Spanish Government was bound under the Treaty of 1795, to furnish the United States Government with a copy of the record of the proceedings, which it has not done. His own conviction was that citizenship had not only its rights but its duties, and he was not aware that during the late civil war in this country this man had assumed to have or to discharge any duty to the Government of the United States. His father, a Frenchman, had emigrated to this country in 1803, and was naturalized in Philadelphia, where Dr. HOUARD was born, but had subsequently settled in Cuba as a colonist, and had received lands from the Spanish Government as a colonist for himself and wife and each of his children. His father had thus lost his right as a naturalized citizen, and if so his minor children lost their rights at the same time. No lawyer would dispute that proposition. He argued that this Government held to the right of expatriation. The [illegible] was always to be inferred from a lengthened residence in another country.

Mr. W. R. ROBERTS asked Mr. AMBLER whether GEORGE PEABODY had ceased to be an American citizen on account of his long residence in England.

Mr. AMBLER declined to go into the case of GEORGE PEABODY, preferring to keep to that of Dr. HOUARD. There was not a pretense that after this man had graduated in this country and returned to Cuba, he had ever declared any intention of coming back to the United States, and even if he had, that would not have weighed anything against a permanent residence. In point of fact, this man had been in Cuba since 1822, fifty years, and had never during that time become an American citizen, and for twenty-eight years he had never set foot on American soil. He denied that any case could be found in any law-book to justify the claim that this man was an American citizen. The claim was an impossible one. The State Department has been inclined to stretch its authority and had been endeavoring to interpose its kind offices between Dr. HOUARD and the bloody tyrannical Government which was undoubtedly oppressing him. Before this Government interfered as a nation, it should be sure that it had a right to interfere. Before it commenced to succor its citizens, it should at least have a good healthy ground of suspicion that are citizens of the United States.

Mr. GARFIELD suggested that this Government was resisting claims made against it by British subjects domiciled in the South during the war, whom it had treated as American citizens.

Mr. BANKS denied that there was any analogy between the cases.

Without proceeding further in the debate, the House, at 4½, took a recess until 7½ o'clock, the evening session to be for action on the Pension bill.

TRIAL OF MRS. SHERMAN.

Sixth Day's Proceedings—Opening of the Defense—An Acquittal Anticipated.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW-HAVEN, Wednesday, April 24, 1872.

Mr. WATROUS, counsel for Mrs. SHERMAN, in his opening address to the jury, this morning, stated that he was prepared to prove that the death of Mr. SHERMAN was the result partly of his intemperate habits and partly of a fit of indigestion produced by eating cold lobster. If arsenic had been found in his body—a point not yet fully established—its presence there was not due to the accused, for she had made but a single purchase of the substance, and had employed that in killing the rats with which her house was infested.

The failure on the part of the State to show any motive sufficient to induce the perpetration of such a crime was also commented upon.

LEWIS E. HUBBARD, the first witness for the defense, corroborated the statement of counsel in regard to the rats. Had heard Mrs. SHERMAN speak of poisoning them, and had noticed dead rats about the premises; one of them got into the well, and all the water had to be pumped out on that account.

Mrs. HUBBARD, wife of the preceding, followed and testified to the regard Mrs. SHERMAN expressed for her husband. Witness had told her that she could easily obtain a divorce from SHERMAN, but she had refused to attempt it, because she cared too much for him.

GEORGE SHERMAN, a brother of the deceased, had spoken to witness in the highest terms of the conduct of his sister-in-law, calling her "a jewel of a woman."

The other testimony was unimportant.

The opinion is quite generally expressed here that Mrs. SHERMAN will be acquitted, not because she is innocent, but for the reason that the evidence against her is purely circumstantial, and therefore not of sufficient legal weight.

Astonishing!

Six Hundred and eighty-five thousand sewing-machines made by American companies in 1871! They were nearly all "lock-stitch" machines, and used in every branch of business requiring sewing. Less than five per cent. of them were single-thread "chain-stitch" machines, like the Willcox & Gibbs. A few of these only can be used for special purposes, and the rest are largely disposed of in exchange for old and second-hand "lock-stitch" machines of the better class, like the Wheeler & Wilson, the Singer and the Howe.—Mail.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

The attendance at the Exchange yesterday, Wednesday, April 24, was quite large, and nearly all the sales projected were consummated, but, with one or two exceptions, the prices realized for the property disposed of ruled low. The following is in brief a review of the business transacted:

M. A. J. LYNCH conducted the most important auction held, disposing of the valuable plot of ground, with the three-story brick buildings thereon, situated on the south-west corner of Fourteenth-street and Fourth-avenue. The plot is a large one, having a front on Fourteenth-street of 27.9 feet, on Fourth-avenue of 95.7 feet, while the southerly and westerly lines are respectively 47.1 feet and 92.5 feet. The buildings at present on the premises rent for $11,000 per year. The property was sold subject to a lease having seven years yet to run, at the rate of $8,500 per annum, and was purchased by FREDERICK F. THOMPSON for $141,000—considered a fair valuation. The sale was made by order of K. CORNWALLIS, Esq., attorney for the executrix of the estate of SAMUEL T. TISDALE, deceased. Mr. LYNCH also sold at public auction, an eighteen years' lease of the five-story brick building and lot, situated on the south-west corner of Broadway and Eighth-street. the first story of the building being divided into four stores, and the basement and upper stories being now used as a hotel. The lot is in size 30.10 by 104, and under the lease the building can be remodeled or reconstructed at will, no restrictions being contained therein. The rent is $12,500 per annum. The lease was purchased by JAMES L. BROWN for $19,000.

JOSEPH MCGUIRE, by order of the Supreme Court in foreclosure, under the direction of GRATZ NATHAN, Esq., referee, sold City real estate as follows: Four-story brick tenement-house and lot, on the south side of One Hundred and Ninth-street, between Second and Third avenues, 28 by 50 by 100.11, sold to JESSE A. MARSHALL, plaintiff in action, for $12,000. One lot north-east corner Seventh-avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-fifth-street, 24.11 by 75, sold to WM. H. RAYNOR, plaintiff in suit, for $6,025. One full lot on the north side of One Hundred and Thirty-fifth-street, in rear of above, sold to same party, for $3,300, and two full lots on the same side of One Hundred and Forty-third street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, sold to HENRY WALSH for $1,950 each.

V. K. STEVENSON & SON, at public auction, disposed of a plot of six lots, three each fronting on One Hundred and Sixth and One Hundred and Seventh streets, respectively (rears adjoining,) between Ninth and Tenth avenues, at prices ranging from $2,375 to $3,400 per lot, the purchasers being J. PANGBURN, GEO. H. PECK and F. KUNLER. Details will be found in the summary annexed. The property sold low.

WM. KENNELLY sold at public auction, a four-story and cellar brick house and lot, known as No. 1,003 Second-avenue, north-west corner of East Fifty-third-street, which was bought by W. H. GILDERSLEEVE for $24,200. The same auctioneer also offered at auction, a five-story brick tenement-house and lot, known as No. 447 West Sixteenth-street, north side, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, and a four-story English basement brown-stone house, known as No. 461 West Twenty-first-street, north side, between the same avenues. In neither instance was a sale effected however, although bids to the amount of $24,000 were received for the first-named property, and to the amount of $13,000 for the second.

The only other business transacted, except a stock sale conducted by MULLER, WILKINS & CO., noted below, was an auction in charge of JERE. JOHNSON, Jr., at which the four-story and attic brick store and lot known as No. 16 Cedar-street, between Pearl and William streets, was offered, but not sold, being withdrawn upon a bid of $16,950.

Today, at the Exchange, a number of auctions will be held, at which a large variety of real estate will be offered as follows by the auctioneers named: By MULLER, WILKINS & Co., lot and buildings No. 28 Oak-street, between James and Roosevelt streets; lot and buildings No. 102 Canal-street, between Eldridge and Forsyth streets; three-story brick building and lot on the east side of Third-avenue, between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth streets, known as Nos. 789 and 791; house and lot same side of Third-avenue, between Eighty-third and Eighty-fourth streets, known as No. 1,477; house and lot on west side of Third avenue, between Eighty-sixth and Eighty-seventh streets; four-story brick store and dwelling and lot on the north-east corner of First-avenue and One Hundred and Seventeenth-street, with brown-stone house on rear of lot; four four-story brick stores and dwellings and lots on the south-west corner of Second-avenue and One Hundred and Fourteenth-street; two four-story brick houses and lots on One Hundred and Seventeenth-street, between First and Second avenues; four lots on the south-west corner of First-avenue and Eighty-second-street, and a desirable residence, with three and a half acres of land, located at Yonkers, Westchester County. By JAMES M. MILLER, at legal sale, a plot of twenty-three lots, fronting on One Hundred and Twenty-eighth and One Hundred and Twenty-ninth streets, between Ninth and Tenth avenues: a house and lot on Hopper's-lane, near Eleventh avenue; houses and lots Nos. 348 and 350 Third-street; and houses and lots on Sixth-avenue and Macomb-street, Brooklyn. By A. J. BLEECKER, SON & Co., a very desirable tract of land containing eighty City lots, with residences, fronting on the Hudson River, between One Hundred and Thirty-fifth and One Hundred and Thirty-seventh streets. COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

BETZ BLOCK.

On the whole front on the east side of 9th-av., running from 44th to 45th-st., has been built a MAGNIFICENT STRUCTURE, four stories in height, exclusive of Mansard roof and towers.

The first story presents an unbroken line of plate-glass, 200 feet frontage, containing nine stores; the façade above is of handsomely wrought Dorchester stone, which presents as imposing an appearance as any block in the City; the upper part of this block will accommodate twenty-seven families, and each family will have all the accommodations that are afforded in a whole house—for a LOW RENT—such as range, hot and cold water, washtubs, bath and water-closets; all of first-class character.

The GAS-FIXTURES are a choice selection, as also the oil-cloth in halls and stair-rods; they are all furnished by the proprietor, which secures uniformity. The rents are from $40 to $70 per month, according to location of the flat. The access to these residences is by an elegantly-tiled and frescoed hall, from street to street, which is equal in appearance to any hotel-hall, furnished finely. The whole premises are under the immediate attendance of a gentlemanly janitor, who answers all calls at the vestibule entrances, directs visitors to the proper bells inside, and looks to care of matters generally. View them without permits, simply ring the gong at either entrance, and persons will be shown through. A. P. SMITH & BRO., Agents, No. 1,304 Broadway.

FOR SALE—AT A BARGAIN, LOCUST Grove, the elegant residence of the late Prof. S. F. B. Morse, situated on the banks of the Hudson, two miles of Poughkeepsie. The house is very commodious, is in excellent order throughout, and commands extensive views of the river and Highlands.

The grounds comprise seventy-six acres, and are beautifully laid out. There are hot and cold graperies, hot-house, fruit and shade trees in abundance; good stables and out-buildings, and all the appointments for a most desirable residence.

Only one-fourth the purchase-money will be required at time of sale; the balance on bond and mortgage to suit the purchaser.

For particulars apply to PIERCE & MONTGOMERY, No. 11 Pine-st.

THOMAS R. WALKER,
HENRY DAY,
ARTHUR B. PROAL, } Executors.

FOR SALE—THE HOMESTEAD OF THE late Louis Walsh, located at Mamaroneck, N. Y., on the Boston road, near the Sound; the place contains about forty-seven acres of fine, undulating land, and well adapted for cutting up into villa plots; a portion of this is located on very high ground, giving views from Throgg's Neck to Greenwich, Long Island, and the North River; has three road fronts, in all about 4,000 feet; fine mansion, sixteen rooms; gas and water; barn 30x60 feet; stable with ten stalls, carriage-house, farmer's cottage and all the necessary out-buildings. This is a very desirable property, and can be bought on satisfactory terms. Apply to HUGH N. CAMP, No. 106 Broadway.

FOR SALE—A FIRST-CLASS COUNTRY residence at Poughkeepsie, two miles south of the Court-house, fronting on Hudson River; brick house; twenty rooms: all modern improvements, gas, water, hot water, furnace, &c., all in perfect order; two cottages, stable, ice-house, barns, sheds, &c.; forty-three acres of good land handsomely laid out, with choice varieties of shade and ornamental trees, drives and walks; abundance of fruit—trees planted twenty years ago; view of Hudson River and surrounding country unsurpassed; immediate possession; terms to suit. Apply to TURNER BROTHERS, No. 14 Nassau-st.

FOR SALE—AT BEDFORD, WESTCHESTER County, N. Y., forty-two miles from the City, via New-York and Harlem Railroad, a very fine country residence and farm of about ninety acres fertile land; house contains fifteen rooms; large stables, carriage-house, and barns; the grounds are tastefully laid out, and well stocked with fruit and shade trees; perfectly healthy, and taxes light. Will be sold to close the estate of George W. Miller, deceased. Apply to
GEORGE MILLER, No. 82 Broad-st.,
WILLIAM H. AIKEN, No. 10 Water-st.,
PHILIP S. MILLER, 53 Exchange-place, } Executors.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—THE homestead of the late Jacob B. Herrick, situated on the Southern Boulevard, about ten minutes' drive from Harlem Bridge, within fifty minutes of Peekslip by steam-boat.

The homestead has twenty acres of land; house is very commodious; is in fine order; the out-buildings are large, and the place is very desirable for a gentleman's residence, both Summer and Winter; the Portchester Railroad Depot will be within five minutes' walk of house, adding largely to its prospective value. It will be sold low or exchanged for a house in the City. Apply to HUGH N. CAMP, No. 106 Broadway.

A MAGNIFICENT ITALIAN VILLA, 42x60, filled in with brick; contains fourteen rooms, all modern improvements, stable, carriage-house and six acres of land; house built in very best manner; everything complete; views unequaled; very near churches, schools, stores and depot; location unsurpassed and very healthy, situated on very high ground; one hour in New-Jersey; fare twelve cents by rail; the house is in splendid order and certainly is one of the greatest bargains ever offered; grounds are tastefully laid out, finely fruited, and will be sold either with or without the furniture very cheap. Apply to A. D. MELLICK & BRO., 6 Pine-st.

RIDGEFIELD, CONN.—FOR SALE OR TO RENT—A beautiful mansion, containing parlor, dining-room, library and nine sleeping rooms, with eleven feet piazza and fine grounds. This village is especially noted for the cure of miasmatic disorders, situated on a ridge at an elevation of nearly 900 feet, it offers equal advantages with the hills of New-Hampshire, while it is nearly contiguous to New-York of sixty miles; three trains a day connect with the express-trains of the New-Haven Railroad. Apply to E. H. LUDLOW, No. 3 Pine-st., New-York.

REAL ESTATE
In that beautiful and healthful city, viz.:

The handsome two-story house south-east corner of 7th-st. and Cherry-st., containing twelve rooms; lot 100 feet front on 7th-st. by 270 feet in depth; every description of choice fruit.

The lot immediately in the rear of the above-described property directly opposite Third-place, being 100 feet front on 8th-st. (Crescent-av.) by 270 feet in depth. These two properties are admitted to be the best locations on the finest streets in the city, on high ground, and only five minutes' walk from the depot.

The block of thirteen two-story houses on 3d-st., corner of Richmond-st., each containing six rooms and cellar, conveniently arranged for one or two families, and now renting for $15 per month.

The magnificent hill-side property of 108 acres, about ten minutes' drive from the depot, near the Park, on Cherry-st., with the houses, barns, and buildings thereon. Probably no property within the same distance from New-York offers equal inducements to the purchasers of real estate. Situated just beyond the city line, it will enjoy (without sharing in the expense) the advantages of all the improvements that must necessarily be made to that point.

IT WILL BE SOLD IN PLOTS SUITABLE FOR VILLA SITES, CONTAINING FROM THREE TO EIGHT ACRES EACH, having the most charming, varied, and extensive views that can be obtained in this vicinity, and will be sold upon such liberal terms as to enable purchasers, by a small expenditure of money, to secure a beautiful location for their homestead in what is evidently destined to be the most desirable portion of Plainfield. It is now proposed to macadamize Cherry-st. the entire length. The Legislature has granted a charter for a horse railroad between Plainfield and Metuchen, which will pass within a few hundred feet of the frontage. The city improvements are extending in this direction, and the property increasing in value with great rapidity.

The sale will commence at 1 P. M. precisely, on the corner of Richmond and Third sts., Plainfield, and will be contined at each parcel until all is disposed of. Carriages will be furnished to convey those desiring to attend.

Terms will be moderate, and announced at time of sale.

For further particulars apply to
WAKEMAN & LATTING,
No. 20 Nassau-st., New-York.

LEGAL NOTICES.

AT A SPECIAL TERM OF THE SUPREME Court, held in the Court-house, in the City of Brooklyn, on the 5th day of March, 1872.—Present, Hon. Jasper W. Gilbert, Justice.—WALTER S. GRIFFITH against THE ATLANTIC FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—On reading and filing the petition of John D. Cocks, receiver in the above-entitled action, and it appearing to this Court to be necessary and proper that the prayer thereof be granted, now on motion of Barney, Butler & Parsons, attorneys for said receiver, it is hereby ordered and decreed that the said receiver have leave and he is hereby authorized and directed to pay a dividend of twenty (20) cents on the dollar of the debts of the said Atlantic Fire Insurance Company, which have been ascertained and adjusted, to those persons who have exhibited their claims as creditors of said Company, as prescribed in and by section 79, article 3, chapter 8, title 4, part 3 of the Revised Statutes. It is further ordered and decreed that a notice be published, in the manner hereinafter directed, requiring all the creditors of the said Atlantic Fire Insurance Company to exhibit their claims, and become parties to the above-entitled suit, within six months from the first publication of this order; and, in default thereof, that they be precluded from all benefit of the judgment and decree which shall be made therein, and from any distribution which shall be made under said judgment or decree. And it is further ordered that said notice and a copy of this order be published once a week for six months in the New-York Daily Times, a newspaper published in the City of New-York, and the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, a newspaper published in the City of Brooklyn. And it is further ordered that Clarence L. Burnet, a counselor of this Court, be and he is hereby appointed referee for the purposes of this order. That such publication be made under his direction, and that all such claims be exhibited to the said referee. That said referee do hear and determine all such claims as may be contested, and that said referee may report to this Court, from time to time, upon all or any matters referred to him. And that said receiver be at liberty to apply to this Court for such further directions from time to time as may be proper.

NOTICE to the Creditors of the Atlantic Fire Insurance Company.

To all whom it may concern.—New-York Supreme Court, Kings County.—Walter S. Griffith against The Atlantic Fire Insurance Company.—Notice is hereby given that an order, of which the foregoing is a copy, has been duly made in the above-entitled action, and that all creditors of said Atlantic Fire Insurance Company are required to exhibit their claims to the undersigned, at his office, No. 213 Montague-street, in the City of Brooklyn, and to comply with the terms of said order on or before the 25th day of September, 1872.—Dated Brooklyn, March 5, 1872.

Second Mortgage Convertible 7 Per Cent. Currency Bonds.
INTEREST WARRANTS PAYABLE OCTOBER AND APRIL.
PRINCIPAL 1886.

We offer for sale $100,000 of the above bonds in block. By act of reorganization of the Company, these bonds are convertible into the First Preferred Shares of the Company, which amount to only 17,000 shares, and into the Consolidated Bonds (recently negotiated at Amsterdam) of six millions of dollars, which cover the entire line of 230 miles of completed road, together with all the rolling stock and real property, to the value of more than ten millions of dollars. The road crosses the entire State of Illinois, and connects with the mammoth iron bridges spanning the Mississippi at Keokuk and Burlington. The income of the road for the year will net sufficient to pay interest on all the bonded indebtedness and dividend on the preferred shares.

CAYUGA LAKE RAILROAD,

State of New-York,
7 PER CENT.
FIRST MORTGAGE
GOLD BONDS.

At 90 and accrued interest in currency.
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN, AND ISSUED FOR $20,000 PER MILE.

This road forms the shortest and most direct route from the great anthracite and semi-bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania into the central part of this State, and will run in connection with the New-York Central Road, which it crosses at Cayuga Bridge. Traversing, as it does, the finest and most populous agricultural district, generally known as the "GARDEN OF THE STATE," its local traffic will be large, but its greatest source of revenue will be from its coal business. The road is being rapidly built, and will be in active operation during this year. From our knowledge of this enterprise, and after the most thorough investigation, we most confidently recommend the Bonds as a safe investment. We offer, for the present, the Bonds at 90 and accrued interest in currency.

The Road runs from Buffalo to the Detroit River, and is the Eastern link in the new AIR LINE FROM BUFFALO TO CHICAGO, and has been under construction for about two years past by railroad men who have seen the necessity for a STEEL RAIL, LOW GRADE SHORT ROUTE between the great railroad systems which diverge from Chicago, Toledo and Buffalo.

Among the builders of the road, by whose cash subscriptions 220 miles (out of 290) have already been graded, bridged and made ready for the superstructure, a large part of the steel rails bought, all of the materials for the stations, and a part of the equipment purchased, are:
MILTON COURTRIGHT, JOHN F. TRACY DAVID DOWS, WM. L. SCOTT, HENRY FARNHAM, R. A. FORSYTH, HENRY H. PORTER, JOHN M. BURKE, M. L. SYKES, JR., B. F. ALLEN, all directors, either in the Chicago and North-west, or the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; GEO. OPDYKE, of the Midland Road; JOHN B. ALLEN, SIDNEY DILLON, DANIEL DREW, J. S. CASEMENT, J. & J. CASEY, O. S. CHAPMAN, JOHN ROSS, DAVID STEWART, and F. H. WINSTON.
THE ROAD will be

33 MILES SHORTER THAN ANY OTHER ROAD,

either BUILT or in contemplation between Buffalo and Chicago, and will also shorten the distance between Toledo and Buffalo twenty-three miles.

THE MAXIMUM GRADE on the entire line does not exceed FIFTEEN FEET to the mile—and Ninety-six per cent. of the road IS STRAIGHT.

THE ROAD WILL BE COMPLETED and in running order on or before Dec. 31 of this year.

The principal and interest of the bonds are payable either in New-York, London or Frankfort.
We confidently recommend the bonds to all classes of investors.

NEW-YORK CITY NEWS.

OUR SHIP-YARDS.

Decadence of Ship-Building—Our Present Position—No Prospect of a Revival of the Trade.

Only a few years ago ship-building was a live business here, and the ship-yards which were situated principally along and on both sides of East River, presented an animated scene. The ship-joiner's eight-hour strike in 1866 sounded the knell of this branch of mechanics, and now the yards are, for the most part, silent and deserted. Where the leviathan was wont to leap joyfully from the ways into its new element, now floats listlessly a few old hulks under repair—or more probably there is nothing at all to show that ships were ever built there. Ten years ago there were nearly a dozen yards in active operation in this City and on the Brooklyn side of East River. The principal of these were as follows: In New-York: Mr. Webb's yard foot of Sixth-street, East River; Jeremiah Simonson, foot of Twelfth-street, East River; Messrs. Joyce & Waterbury, foot of Stanton-street, East River; Jacob A. Westervelt, foot of Third-street, East River, and Thomas Collyer, also on the east side. At Greenpoint, Long Island, John Englis & Son, Henry Steers, Lawrence & Foulk and R. C. Pollion, Brooklyn. Of all this list there are none now in operation, except those on the other side of East River. The yards in New-York are, without exception, doing nothing. Mr. Webb launched from his yard the grand Sound steamers Bristol and Providence, during the strike, and subsequently two noble steam-ships for the Pacific Mail Steam-ship Company, to run between San Francisco and China. These were the last of Mr. Webb's creation. All the other yards on the New-York side ceased operations about the same time. John Englis & Son, Greenpoint, and R. & C. Pollion, Brooklyn, are doing the principal business now, and in fact nearly all that is being done. Within the past twenty-four months there has been launched from the yard of Messrs. Englis & Son, the steam propellers City of Mexico, 1,500 tons, and City of Merida, 2,200 tons, for the Havana and Vera Cruz trade. Trinidad, (side-wheel,) 1,200 tons, launched last October, built for the house of Menenzes & Co., Havana, to run on the north side of Cuba; Falmouth, (side-wheel,) 1,450 tons, launched about two months ago, to run between Portland and Halifax, and there are at present on the stocks the propeller City of Havana, 2,400 tons, for the Mexican mail service (will be launched in about two weeks;) side-wheel steamer, not yet named, just being framed, to run between New-York and New-Haven. The City of Havana is 365 feet over all, and will cost about $330,000. The New-Haven boat is 325 feet long, and 80 feet extreme width.

But little is doing at Mr. Steers' yard, the proprietor having become interested in the iron ship-building at Chester, Penn. About three months ago the Government dredge-boat Gen. Stewart, was launched at Mr. Steers' yard, and it is the last from there. She is designed for service in keeping the mouth of the Mississippi River in navigable order. A full description of this vessel was given in the Times a few weeks ago. The Gen. Stewart will make her engineer's trial-trip next week.

The Messrs. Pollion have at present on the stocks a propeller 188 feet long, 28 feet beam and 17 feet hold, for the Japanese Government. It will not be ready to launch before the Fall. Also, a small propeller, 125 feet long by 23 feet beam and 10 feet hold, for the same Government; and the centre-board yacht Viking, 84 feet long, 23 feet beam and 8 feet hold, for Mahlon Sands.

Messrs. Pollion have also, within a few weeks past, launched two ferry-boats for the Astoria and Williamsburg Companies. The yachts Dreadnaught, Dallas, Agnes, the elevator-barge Scotia, and the telegraph tug-boat William Orton, have also been turned out from their yard within the past eighteen months or two years.

This completes the catalogue, showing what the ship-yards are and have been doing. The material used is all brought from a distance; nothing except a little chestnut timber is obtained within 100 miles of this City. The live-oak is brought from Florida; the white-oak from Ohio and Michigan, by way of the lakes, Erie Canal and the Hudson River. Locust, tamarack, (called at the yards hackmatack,) yellow-pine and red cedar are also used in constructing the vessels, and are brought from a distance.

The ship-builders say there is no prospect of a revival of ship-building here until Congress gives merchants an encouragement to build ships, in the way of subsidies. They have been waiting for something of this kind for the past three years, and in the mean time put their money into something that pays them better than ships. The ship-builders say with reference to the free-ship policy, that it would entirely kill ship-building here, and then when war came the Government would have no mechanics to build and repair its navy.

The Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions.

The concluding public missionary service under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Board of Missions took place yesterday afternoon in Trinity Church. Bishop Potter presided, and among the assisting clergymen were Drs. Dix, Haight, Smith, Twing and Thompson. Bishop Potter made a few opening remarks, saying it was with great satisfaction he saw such a large attendance at that hour of the day, when business is at its height. Referring to his own labors he said he had confirmed over 1,200 persons during the past month, which was satisfactory as showing that the youth and old were begining to inquire for entrance into God's fold.

Dr. John Cotton Smith referred to the works of missionaries in foreign lands, and thought that missionary work was a portion of Christianity and all should help to send the Gospel abroad.

Dr. A. T. Twing spoke on Diocesan Missions. He thought the public were very easy and indifferent on the matter of missions, or of extending the Kingdom of Christ in the world. What is wanted is a more ardent missionary spirit. During the past year they have had attached to the Diocesan Missions, twenty-two missionaries with stipends, and two without—in all only twenty-four; and yet there is missionary work as important in the Diocese of New-York as in the western parts of the country. If this City is to be saved from anarchy, it needs more missionary work. Last year, at a meeting for this purpose, the sum of $4,747 49 was raised and paid out to the missionaries in stipends of from $100 to $200. This, he thought, was not a very favorable showing for this great diocese. It ought to raise from $15,000 to $20,000 every year without any difficulty. He hoped that in future every member of the laity would contribute more than had been given in the past, so that the good work can be pushed on.

Rev. Hugh Miller Thompson then made a short address on domestic Missions, after which a liberal collection was taken up, and the service closed with the benediction.

The Tammany Gang in Court—Owney Geoghegan and "Clipper" Hennessy Are Bailed for Trial.

Contrary to general expectation, no clustering swarm of roughs occupied Essex Market Police Court when Owney Geoghegan and "Clipper" Hennessy were arraigned there yesterday morning. Mr. Michael McNally, the inspector of election whom they so brutally assaulted, was conveyed to the Court from Bellevue Hospital in a carriage. His head was completely swathed in bandages, and his face covered with bruises.

In reply to Judge Scott, Mr. McNally said that Hennessy knocked him down with the butt of a revolver and kicked him about the head, Geoghegan acting in a similar manner. McNally said that Hennessy, in addition to kicking and beating him over the head with the revolver, fired one shot at him. On this statement Judge Scott decided to hold Hennessy for trial on two charges, one of simple assault, bailable in $1,000, the other one of felonious assault, demanding $2,000 bail, and to hold Geoghegan for felonious assault in default of $2,000 bail. The decision of the Judge had hardly been announced when Michael Moore, a butcher, residing at No. 225 East Twenty-first-street, came forward, and offered himself as security. Previous to accepting the bail, Judge Scott asked an officer of the Eighteenth Precinct if he knew Moore to be a property-owner, and receiving a reply in the affirmative, ordered the bail to be taken. Geoghegan, on being formally examined, said that he was twenty-nine years old, born in Ireland, keeper of a bar-room at No. 212 East Twenty-sixth-street, and declared his innocence. Hennessy, who said he was twenty-nine years of age, born in Ireland, a laborer, residing at No. 397 First-avenue, also pleaded not guilty. The prisoners then left the Court-room with some friends. John O'Connell, alias "Coach," the ball from whose pistol nearly took away McNally's life, is still at large, but active search is being made for him. In regard to him an interesting fact has been developed showing the power such men wield among Tammany politicians. About two months ago Capt. Cameron, of the Eighteenth Precinct, received a notification from Police Head-quarters that one John O'Connell had been recommended for the position of patrolman, and passed the required surgical examination, and ordering the Captain to investigate O'Connell's character. Capt. Cameron soon found that the applicant for position was the notorious "Coach," and reported adversely. The one who recommended "Coach" is said to be Ex-Assemblyman "Jimmy Irving."

A Bigamy Case Compromised.

Mrs. Carrie A. Cooper, of Brooklyn, who recently instituted a suit for bigamy against her husband, Erwin J. Cooper, on the ground that he had married a certain Miss Jolly, of Cincinnati, yesterday appeared before Justice Hogan, at the Tombs, accompanied by the parties interested in the case, and stated that a compromise had been effected, and she wished to withdraw her complaint, which the Justice permitted, evidence to sustain it not being forthcoming. Mrs. Cooper took $300 as a quit claim on her husband, and he agreed not to contest a suit for divorce which she would at once institute. All parties then left the Court, apparently very well satisfied with the result.

THE COLORED CONFERENCE.

Session Yesterday—Resolutions on Needed Legislation—Educational Reforms.

The African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church Conference Connection resumed their session at 9 A. M. yesterday, Bishop Clinton in the chair. The Bishop stated that Wm. F. Livingston had been removed from the Conference for intoxication. It was resolved that Missionary Purnell, of Rodesville, Long Island, should be ordained for elder's orders, and Moses K. Harris and Chauncey C. Vandusen local deacons.

Elder Stubbs described the condition of the Williamsburg, Long Island, Church as prosperous, and said that the local preachers had done much for it. Mr. Decker, of Boston Conference, introduced the subject of aid to the Boston Church.

The Conference took a recess, and reassembled in the afternoon. Anthony Jackson and Isaac Deyo were elected delegates to the General Conference to meet in Charlotte, N. C., June, 1872. The usual disciplinary questions being answered, developing nothing of general interest, Mr. Decker, of Boston, again made an appeal to the Conference for aid to the colored church in that city. The church, he said, was worth $40,000, and owed about $8,000, which it was desirable to pay, and that it was a worthy object for the assistance of the Conference.

Twelve appeals from various churches for a return of favorite ministers was read. Zion Church, corner of Bleecker and West Tenth streets, asked for the return of Elder Jacob Thomas.

J. Thomas, J. P. Thompson, George Barley, J. C. Gilbert and C. W. Robinson, a committee appointed to investigate the legality of Bishop S. T. Jones' circular, made a report, over which there was discussion, lasting the entire afternoon. It resulted in the unanimous adoption of a preamble and resolutions to the effect that Bishop Jones' circular, calling a General Conference to meet in New-York the first Wednesday in May, was an unauthorized and deceitful document; that the General Conference would be held in Charlotte, N. C., and further recommending that the Board of Bishops of Zion Church, of New-York City, meet on the 30th inst., and endeavor to reconcile any matters in dispute between them pertaining to the general interests of the Connection.

The Committee on Education made a congratulatory report on the encouraging progress of education among the colored people, referring to the importance of education to enable them justly to claim equality with the whites, and to the necessity for ministers to encourage it. The report strongly indorsed the projected Toussaint L'Overture College.

Bishop Jones took exception to the report of the Committee, alleging that it showed a lack of strength. He deplored the lack of education manifested by many preachers of this Church. There should be some legislation on the subject. Preachers should be required, before they were licensed, to know how to read and write. Many were not capable of doing either, and were even ignorant of the proper methods of administering the rites of the Church. This evil should be rectified.

Other members spoke to the same effect, and after some discussion the report of the Committee was adopted.

The Conference adjourned at 5 P. M.

CRIMINALS PUNISHED.

A Busy Day at the Court of General Sessions.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, H. L. Clinton, counsel for Emma Couch, renewed his application that his client be admitted to bail. He said he had waited until the present time in order to learn what District-Attorney's Garvin's decision in the matter would be, and he had just learned that the sum of $10,000 had been decided upon. He contended that the sum was oppressive in the last degree, and alluded, in the course of his argument, to the fact of Wm. M. Tweed and others being allowed to go free, giving a very small amount of bail, and thought that putting the bail in this case so high was a great injustice, more particularly considering the fact that after the examination before the Police Justice she was allowed to go at large on her own recognizance.

The Assistant District-Attorney followed Mr. Clinton, and argued that the bail asked for was not excessive, and it was the only amount that would insure the attendance of the defendant. Judge Bedford said he thought it was a case in which he would consult with Mr. Garvin, and would give his opinion on the matter of bail in a few days.

James Grainey was sent to the State Prison for one year, for stealing a pocket-book from Mrs. Emily V. Battey, on Mercer-street, on the 3d inst., and was arrested while trying to escape. He was accordingly sentenced to the lowest penalty.

Michael Kenny, charged with the manslaughter of an unknown man in June last, was brought up for trial yesterday. Edward McCabe, a youth of sixteen, testified that the deceased was very drunk, and was going along Forty-third-street, and when near Tenth-avenue a number of boys began teasing him. There were also several little girls in the street, and the strange man took up a piece of flag-stone and was chasing the little girls, when Kenny came up and knocked the stone from his hand. Deceased then struck Kenny, and a fight commenced between them. When this was ended, the unknown man went away, and after going a few yards, fell heavily. He was picked up and taken to the Station-house in a dying condition. The Police Captain testified that soon after the occurrence Kenny came and gave himself into custody. The prisoner is a bricklayer, and a man of good character. He was immediately acquitted by the jury. The name of the deceased man has never been ascertained.

Patrick McLoughlin pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary, and was sentenced to two years and six months, with hard labor, in the State Prison. Wm. Carey, also for two years and six months, with hard labor, for grand larceny.

John and Mary Gaylor were charged with having stolen a quantity of clothing from Mary L. Mosier, of No. 206 Greene-street. They plead guilty to petit larceny, and judgment was suspended on Mary, while John was sent to the Island for three months.

John A. Sheridan was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Mr. John H. Moore, of Brooklyn. He advertised a farm for sale near Milford, Penn., and concluded an agreement with Mr. Moore for $3,200. When the bonds were completed Mr. Moore went to examine his property, and found it was not the land represented by the prisoner, and thought he was swindled. The case was not concluded when the Court adjourned.

Art Sale at the Somerville Gallery.

The sale of Mr. Samuel P. Avery's pictures was concluded yesterday evening at the Somerville Gallery. The room was densely crowded with ladies as well as gentlemen, but the prices realized were not upon the whole satisfactory to the importer. The small cabinet pictures obtained excellent sums; but the large and costly specimens of foreign masters were coldly bid for, and in several instances were fairly sacrificed. A cattle piece, by Franz Voltz, of Dusseldorf, was sold in this manner to Mr. Robert B. Musgrave, for $1,300, its real value being far above this mark. Snedicor, the dealer, obtained also Brillouin's "Sermon in the Provinces," for $1,000. Toulmouche's "What Does It Mean?" was withdrawn because no adequate bid was made for it, and the great picture of Bouguereau, "The Camphoros," was not bid for at all. The smaller ones obtained good prices. Brillouin's "Siege Operations" was bought for $800 by Mr. Chas. Morgan; Piot's "Rose-bud" was bought by Mr. Huntingdon, President of the Union Pacific, for $700; Guk's "Page Singing" brought $395 from a dealer; Mr. Chapin gave $635 for Cooman's "Kiss;" Detaille's "Invader" was bought by Mr. Ohme, of Knoedler's, for $500; Mr. Riker gave $640 for Schmidt's "In the Laboratory;" Mr. Osgood purchased Lisrel's best picture, "The Beautiful Bow," for $610; the son of Legrand Lockwood bought Nisot's "German Lady" for $350; Meyer von Bremen's "Beggar Boy" was bought by Mr. Robt. B. Margrave for $1,900; Mr. J. Clarke gave $670 for F. Willem's "Larder;" Mr. Chapin purchased Rosezewski's "Objets d'Art" for $530; Mr. Clarke gave $665 for Beranger's "Rose Among Thorns," and $655 for Vibert's "Spanish Cok;" Mr. Milbank gave $1,375 for Devriant's "Image-maker's Studio," and $2,209 for Boughton's "Colder Than Snow."

OBITUARY.

Death of Ex-Gov. Fort, of New-Jersey.

Ex-Gov. George F. Fort, of New-Jersey, died at his residence, New-Egypt. He was born in Burlington County, in that State, in 1809, and practised medicine in Burlington and Monmouth Counties for a long time.

In 1844 Dr. Fort was elected to the Constitutional Convention. In the same year he was elected to the House of Assembly, and in 1845 he was elected State Senator for three years by several hundred majority. His votes while a member of the Legislature were always recorded with the Democrats. While a member of the House and Senate he served on the Judiciary Committee, and was honored for sagacity, prudence, judgment and discrimination. In September, 1850, he was nominated for Governor by one of the most enthusiastic Conventions ever held in Trenton, and in November was elected over his opponent, Hon. John Runk, of Hunterdon. At the expiration of his term of office, he retired, leaving behind a record honorable to himself. He was subsequently appointed a Judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals, which office he held for the full term. Since retiring from this position he has held no public office. His funeral will take place on Saturday next.

THE TURF.

Epsom Spring Meeting—Great Metropolitan Stakes.

London, April 24.—The event of the second day of the Epsom Spring meeting was the Great Metropolitan Stakes (handicap) of 25 sovereigns each, with 200 sovereigns added; the owner of the second horse to receive 50 sovereigns out of the stakes.

The race was won by M. Lefevre's br. h. Dutch Skater, six years old, by the Flying Dutchman, out of Fulvie, (bred in France.) Fordham, jockey.

Lord Falmouth's b. h. Kingscraft, five years old, was second, and Mr. R. Sutton's ch. c. St. Aubyn, four years old, third. Ten horses started.

American Jockey Club Weights for Handicaps—Spring Meeting.

Below will be found the weights of the Fordham Handicap and Jockey Club Handicap Sweepstakes. The entries to both stakes are numerous, and the handicapper had a severe task in apportioning the weights in order to bring the horses on even terms. There is but one aged horse in the Fordham Handicap, viz.: Boaster, and he is rated at 112 pounds. Of the five-year olds, Ortolan is to carry the top weight of 116 pounds, but we doubt his ability to win at the distance against Salina, four years, with 106 pounds, and Mary Louise, four years, with 102 pounds. Of the four-year olds, Tubman is rated at 112 pounds, four pounds over his regular weight. Of the three-year olds, Sue Rider carries the heaviest weight, 92 pounds. In the Jockey Club Handicap the only aged horse is Vespucius, with 108 pounds. Of the five-year olds, Chillicothe is burdened with 113 pounds. Of the four-year olds, Alroy and Abdel Koree carry each 113 pounds. There are but three three-year olds in the stake, Neptunus, with 86 pounds, Regal, with 84 pounds, and Kadi with 84 pounds. Notwithstanding the difficulty that must be experienced in handicapping a large field of horses, Mr. Wheatly has apparently brought the "strong" down to a level with the "weak," and it is yet too early to consider the chances of each entry until after the 20th of May, when the declarations will be made.

FORDHAM HANDICAP SWEEPSTAKES.

$50 each, half forfeit, and only $10 if declared by the 20th May; with $500 added; second horse to receive $200 out of the stakes. Closed 1st March. Weights to be published by 1st May. Winners after publication of weights, of $1,000, to carry 5 pounds; of $2,000, 7 pounds extra. One mile and a quarter.

BASE-BALL.

Atlantic vs. Chelsea—The Former Winners Score 15 to 2.

The return game between the Atlantics and Chelseas, at the Capitoline, yesterday, resulted in anything but the poorly-played and one-side affair that had been anticipated, both nines, as the score below will indicate, fielding in a style that is more generally seen among the crack nines later on in the season. The Atlantics presented three players who had not appeared previously this year, and the change worked excellently, McDonald, at right field, especially distinguishing himself by two brilliant catches. Barlow, Breitt and Ferguson also fielded in good style, while on the other side McNierny and Cassidy are worth mention, the former for his effective pitching, which, being of the slow, twisting style, proved decidedly puzzling to the experienced Atlantic hitters.

BROOKLYN YACHT CLUB.

Annual Meeting—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Brooklyn Yacht Club was held last night at their Club-rooms, No. 26 Court-street. The attendance of members was unusually large, it being generally known that something of more than ordinary interest was to transpire. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mr. Geo. W. Kidd, and after the usual routine of business, the meeting proceeded to the election of officers, all of whom were elected unanimously as follows:

Commodore, Jacob Voorhis, Jr.; Vice-Commodore, J. S. Dickerson; Rear-Commodore, Robert Dillon; President, J. W. Ostrander; Secretary, W. I. Lee; Treasurer, Chauncey M. Felt; Measurer, John M. Sawyer; Board of Trustees, G. W. Kidd, W. H. Langley, W. H. Pegg, W. M. Brasher, J. T. Barnard, D. S. Hines, Capt. S. Samuels; Regatta Committee, W. H. Pegg, H. A. Mott, B. E. Mallory, J. M. Sawyer, D. S. Hines, G. L. Haight, James S. Dean, John Oakley, Dr. Hall, H. B. Baragwanath.

At the close of the business of the evening Mr. Ostrander stepped forward and uncovered a beautiful model of Commodore Voorhis' yacht Madaleine, done in silver, with gold masts, booms and cordage. The model was set on a handsome pedestal, covered with crimson velvet, on the front of which is a silver plate bearing the inscription: "Presented to Commodore Jacob Voorhis, Jr., by the members of the Brooklyn Yacht Club, as a testimonial of their appreciation and regard for him as their faithful chief officer, and the esteem in which they hold him as a gallant yachtsman. Brooklyn, April 24, 1872."

The presentation was made by Mr. Ostrander in an appropriate speech. Commodore Voorhis, who was taken entirely by surprise, was quite overcome.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis and Probabilities.

Washington, April 24—7 P. M.—The barometer continues highest over the South Atlantic States, and the lowest is probably central over South-western Minnesota and North-eastern Nebraska. Brisk and high winds are now prevailing from Kansas to Lake Michigan and northward, with partially cloudy weather; cloudy over Florida. Otherwise clear and pleasant weather very generally. Clear weather has continued at San Francisco; cloudy and threatening weather at San Diego and Portland, Oregon. The rivers have continued falling at Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville and Cairo, but risen at Omaha.

PROBABILITIES.

The barometer will continue falling north and west of the Ohio Valley, and the lowest will probably move eastwardly over the lower lakes, accompanied by brisk and high winds, which will extend to the lower lakes on Thursday. Cloudy and threatening weather, with, probably, rain, will prevail on Thursday from the Missouri and Ohio Valleys to the upper lakes, and extend to the lower lakes. Clear and pleasant weather will generally prevail over the East and Middle Atlantic and Southern States on Thursday. Cautionary signals are ordered for Milwaukee, Chicago, Grand Haven, Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland.

NEW-YORK AND SUBURBAN NEWS.

NEW-YORK.

The monthly dinner of the New-York Yacht Club took place last evening.

A charitable entertainment for the benefit of several of the news boys' lodging houses of this City will be given in the Academy of Music this evening.

The remains of an unknown man were found, yesterday, in the water at the foot of Eighth-street, East River, and were removed to the Morgue for identification.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the Lippiat Silver-Plating and Engraving Company, New-York City. The order to show cause is returnable Saturday, May 4.

Louisa Greenwood, of No. 181 South Fifth-avenue, while at work yesterday at a restaurant, No. 102 Prince-street, was thrown down-stairs, and injured severely, by a ruffian, who escaped.

Patrick McCormack, who was arrested on a charge of smuggling silks, waived an examination yesterday, before Commissioner Shields, and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

We are indebted to Capts. Bazends, of the Hamburg steam-ship Holsatia, and Roussau, of the General Transatlantic Steam-ship Company's steamer Washington, for valued additions to our European files.

The dramatic corps of the Amaranth will take part in the entertainment at the Academy of Music this evening for the benefit of the News Boys' Lodging-houses. Addresses will be made by Rev. Dr. Bellows and others.

In the Yorkville Police Court, yesterday, Mary Anne Greene was committed for stealing a quantity of clothing and a gold brooch, from Mrs. Elizabeth Dalton, corner of Sixty-sixth-street and Madison-avenue.

Patrick Carroll, while insane, attempted to commit suicide, yesterday afternoon, by cutting his throat with a razor, at his residence, No. 40 Watts-street. The wound is dangerous. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

The Treasurer of the French Ladies' Committee, Mme. E. C. Montague, yesterday published her first bulletin of the French patriotic subscription. Thus far the sum of $15,370 has been subscribed in this City and vicinity.

Charles Margoo, a stableman in the Pickwick House, was held for trial at Jefferson Market yesterday for stealing jewelry, valued at $45, from James J. Bevins, proprietor of the Bevins House, Centreville Track, Long Island.

Ann Lyghte, of No. 18 Eldridge-street, was run over, yesterday, at the corner of Bayard and Forsyth streets, by a lager-beer wagon driven by Phillip Marley, and was severely injured. Marley was arrested for reckless driving.

An entertainment for the benefit of St. Lawrence's Church was given at East-side Association Hall, last evening. A panorama of Irish scenery, accompanied and illustrated by Irish ballads and stories, was the main feature of the evening's entertainment.

A reception will be given to the children of the Ladies' Five Points Mission, No. 61 Park-street, this afternoon, commencing at 2 P. M. The exercises will consist of reading, dialogues, recitations and calisthenics, interspersed with reading and singing in German.

Frederick Munk, of No. 88 Elizabeth-street, was committed to prison yesterday, by Justice Hogan, for having stolen $750 belonging to his employer, Louis De Jonge, of Nos. 71 and 73 Duane-street. Three hundred and forty-eight dollars of the stolen money was recovered.

Dennis Dogherty, who had been indicted for stealing letters addressed to Wright & Co., No. 9 Murray-street, waived an examination, yesterday, before Commissioner Shields, and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury. It is supposed that the prisoner is of unsound mind.

Various amendments to the by-laws of the Cotton Exchange were adopted at a meeting of the Board of Managers, on the 22d inst., and ordered to be posted ten days for the information of members of the Exchange, who will meet on the 3d of May to consider and vote upon the amendments.

A mass-meeting of carpenters and joiners was held at Continental Hall, Thirty-fourth-street, last evening, and resolutions adopted in favor of forming a trades-union for all the States, and pledging members no longer "to crawl under the tyranny and oppression of those styling themselves our masters."

An inquest was held yesterday on the body of Andrew Siefert, a German shoe-maker, who committed suicide on Tuesday by taking Paris green. It appeared that he had been drinking excessively, and being unable to obtain any more money for drink, poisoned himself. A verdict was so rendered.

A meeting advocating the claims of the New-York City Mission was held last evening at the Memorial Presbyterian Church. Addresses setting forth the work the Society has and is accomplishing were delivered by Dr. Robinson, Messrs. R. A. Witman and Lewis E. Jackson, and three of the Ward Missionaries.

The Board of Police yesterday directed Capt. Clinchy, of the Fourteenth Precinct, to take possession, on the 29th inst., of the new Station-house recently erected for his command. Patrolman Patrick McEneany, of the Seventeenth Precinct, was dismissed, and a number of patrolmen and roundsmen were transferred.

John Robinson, a colored man, was found, yesterday, in a feeble condition at the corner of Spring and Renwick streets, and died while being conveyed to the Station-house. Mary Connolly, a vagrant, was found sick on the stoop of No. 61 Mulberry-street, and was taken to the Franklin-street Police Station, where she died in a few moments.

At a meeting of Germans of the Eleventh Ward at No. 646 Sixth-street, last evening, a German Council of Political Reform for the district was organized by the election of Mr. Charles Boss, President. The organization proposes to co-operate with the American Council of Political Reform and the Committee of Seventy in the coming Municipal election.

Grace Curtin, a girl residing in Huntingdon, Long Island, came into the Tenth Precinct Station-house, in Eldridge-street, shortly after 9 o'clock last night, and informed Sergt. O'Brien that she had taken morphine in order to kill herself. When asked the reason, she said that she had forfeited her fair name and did not wish to live longer. Restoratives were administered and the girl's life saved.

The fixtures and stock of the Bowling-green Savings Bank were sold at auction yesterday morning. There was a large attendance, and the bidding was good. A lot of stationery, window-shades, &c., were sold cheaply. The two large iron safes, made by J. McBride Davidson, which cost originally $2,500 each, were sacrificed at the low prices of $575 and $600 respectively. The entire sum realized is only $2,500.

Seven men, claiming to be Italians, who arrived on the steam-ship Queen on Tuesday, were discovered to have baggage trunks, in which were neatly-constructed false bottoms. Under these were discovered a quantity of valuable silk and human hair. Altogether 779 yards of silk were found, and thirty-eight pounds of human hair. As a man giving his name as Antoine Barbera afterward appeared to claim the whole seven trunks, it is presumed that he is the principal, and the others, whose names are as follows, his accomplices: P. Bartera, G. Prario, L. Gerodetti, G. Bullio, A. Curutti, G. Currutti, A. Bullio.

BROOKLYN.

The number of deaths in Brooklyn during the week ending April 20 was 246, of which 29 were from small-pox.

Judge Moore, in the Court of Sessions, yesterday, sentenced a notorious thief named John Sloan to the State Prison for ten years, for burglary.

Rev. H. J. Haynes, formerly of Fall River, Mass., has entered upon his pastoral duties in connection with the Hanson-place Methodist Episcopal Church.

The members of the Brooklyn Bar are requested to meet in the City Court-rooms at 3 o'clock this afternoon, for the purpose of forming a Bar Association.

Father Thomas Burke lectured at the Academy of Music last evening to an audience of nearly 4,000 persons. The house was packed from top to bottom.

The residence of Thomas Higgins, No. 234 Washington-avenue, was robbed yesterday morning of $800 worth of jewelry and clothing, by thieves who entered through the scuttle.

Justice Voorhies, yesterday, held James Baldwin, Andrew O'Niel and Timothy McCarthy, to await the action of the Grand Jury as accomplices in the recent large shoe robbery at No. 459 Myrtle-avenue.

The Coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Ann Hargrove, of No. 57 Meeker-avenue, whose recent death was declared by her son to have been caused by her husband's brutal treatment, have found that she died from excessive drinking.

The prevailing rumor just now in political circles is that the new Police Commission will consist of Assessor James Jourdan, Assemblyman Morton, Mayor Powell, and D. D. Briggs, the present Democratic President of the Board. The Water Commissioners, it is said, will be S. B. Dutcher, R. M. Whiting, Jr., and W. A. Fowler.

An entire family named Bock was yesterday taken in charge by the Health Officer, every member being down with small-pox. They resided in a tenement-house in Delmonico-place, and the other occupants of the building were so frightened that they went in and out of the house through the windows by means of ladders, rather than pass the apartments of the sick family.

LONG ISLAND.

Paul Hoffman was arrested in Newtown on suspicion of murdering his wife. The woman was found dead in her house, with a bottle of chloroform and one of opium by her side, and a letter stating that she was tired of life and had committed suicide, and exonerating her husband. There were suspicious marks about the body, but the man denies all knowledge of the matter. The inquest will be held today.

STATEN ISLAND.

George Bechtel has been nominated for Trustee of the Third Ward of the village of Edgwater, and Thomas Garrett for Police Justice, by the German citizens of that place.

The funeral of Judge Daniel Clewson, whose death, on Tuesday, at the Albany Depot, has already been announced, will take place from St. Andrew's Church, Richmond, to-morrow. He will be buried with Masonic honors.

NEW-JERSEY.

Father Gavazzi speaks this evening in the First Church, Metuchen, in the interests of the Free Italian Church.

The Hoboken Common Council has fixed the bonds to be furnished by the City Treasurer at $250,000. Heretofore only $20,000 have been required.

Two deaths from small-pox, a father and his child, were yesterday reported at the Jersey City Hospital.

The Jersey City Board of Aldermen has passed a resolution requesting the Board of Police Commissioners to furnish them with a complete list of unlicensed liquor-saloons.

Rev. Dr. Hodge, of the Princeton Theological Seminary, yesterday, completed the fiftieth year of his connection with that institution. During a portion of the half century Dr. Hodge has also been connected with the College. The anniversary was celebrated yesterday afternoon by a dinner given to the aged Professor by the Alumni of the institution.

At the regular meeting of the Hoboken Common Council last week, Mayor Schmensahl sent in the nomination of Graham M. Sinclair, as Police Commissioner. On the motion to confirm, five members voted in the affirmative, and three in the negative, and the President declared the motion lost, and decided that a majority of the entire Board to confirm the nomination was needed. This decision is contested.

The Davenport Disaster.

The raising of the wreck of the tug-boat Davenport had so far progressed, yesterday, that by evening the upper portions of the vessel had reached the top of the water. The hull is badly shattered, and the bow torn completely out, showing that the force of the explosion must have been greater than would have been supposed from the alleged condition of the boiler. The throttle-valve was open, and all the connections with the engine entirely torn off. No bodies were found. At high tide today the vessel will be towed upon the flats, and a complete examination and search for the bodies will be made.
